Political Agent put into my hands three days ago, and I was happy to learn from your Excellency's letter that Her Majesty the Queen was pleased to appoint your Excellency to be the Governor of Fort St. George, and that your Excellency has taken upon yourself the duty of that station.

I am much flattered by the assurances your Excellency expresses of your earnest desire to maintain the intimate relations of alliance and friendship which happily subsist between the British Government and Myself. In return I pledge myself that it will be my most anxious wish to merit under your Excellency's Government a continuance of that regard and friendship which my Ancestors and

and myself had on all occasions the happiness of experiencing from your Excellency's Predecessors.
