Read the following papers:—

No. 192. From the Acting Government Solicitor, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Madras, 19th December 1866, No. 707.

I have the honor to acknowledge the Proceedings of Government noted in the margin, relative to the administration of Criminal justice in Vellore and other stations similarly circumstanced.

Dated 8th November 1866, No. 1763, Judicial Department.

2. I submitted the matter for the consideration of the Acting Advocate General, who, after having had a conference with the Judge Advocate General of Fort Saint George, has written the opinion, of which, and of the Judge Advocate General's Memorandum therein referred to, I now forward a copy.

I have conferred with the Judge Advocate General upon the subject of this reference, and append copy of a Memorandum furnished to me by him on the question under consideration.

2. The Criminal jurisdiction of a Commanding Officer over persons not amenable to the Articles of War, rests upon Article 84 of Act XXIX of 1861. To found his jurisdiction it is only necessary to show that he is the Commanding Officer of a Cantonment, which has such rules and regulations as are contemplated by Article 84. Now, in my opinion, "Cantonment" is not a technical legal term. It merely denotes a place habitually and permanently used for the quartering of troops. Some Cantonments are made Bazaar stations under Section 3 of Regulation VII of 1832. Some Cantonments, without being made Bazaar stations, are brought partly under the operation of that Regulation by Section 38. Others are neither brought under Section 3 nor Section 38, but a special authority is given by Section 47 for the purpose of restraining sale of liquors. This being so, I think that the "Cantonments" spoken of in Article 84 are Cantonments generally, and not merely such Cantonments as have been made Bazaar stations.

3. Nor do I think that the rules and regulations referred to in that Article are the rules and regulations exclusively which are made under Regulation VII of 1832. The Memorandum the Judge Advocate General shows that there have been, since 1849, rules and regulations framed under the sanction of the Local Government, and confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief, quite irrespective of that regulation, and in force in Cantonments which had never become Bazaar stations. We must assume that the framers of Act XXIX of 1861 were aware of this state of things, and it is natural to suppose that Article 84 was intended to enforce all rules and regulations at that time lawfully existing in any Cantonment whatever.

4. It appears from the Memorandum of the Judge Advocate General that there are now in Vellore rules duly sanctioned, but none such at present in Kurnool. The result is that, in my opinion, the Commanding Officer of Vellore has jurisdiction to the extent of those rules under Article 84 of Act XXIX of 1861. In Kurnool he has as yet no such jurisdiction. Should either of those stations be brought under Madras Act I of 1866, then the rules framed under that Act will be the Cantonment rules for the future. (Section 37).

5. The Judge Advocate General has had the kindness to read over the above opinion, and authorizes me to express his concurrence in it.

MEMORANDUM.

In 1849 the Governor in Council authorized a Code of General Regulations for this Army, and all previous orders not in accordance therewith were cancelled.

2. This Code, page 155, paragraph 42, in detailing the Military duties in Garrison or Cantonment, further directs that "Officers Commanding will establish such additional standing orders in their respective Cantonments as local circumstances may render necessary, copies of which are to be forwarded to the Adjutant General of the Army for the confirmation of the Commander-in-Chief."

3. The additional standing orders, when framed and sanctioned as directed, became the rules and regulations of the Cantonment.

4. Act XXIX of 1861 was passed and came into effect from 1st November 1861—the Articles of War for the Native Army—and Article 84 enacts that "for any offence in breach of the rules and regulations of any Cantonment, the Commanding Officer of such Cantonment may sentence the offender, provided he be not a European British subject, or an Officer or Soldier, notwithstanding he is neither amenable to any Articles of War, nor under the Military command of such Commanding Officer, to pay a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, &c., &c."

5. Shortly after the above Act came into force, the Commander-in-Chief, by Adjutant General's Circular, No. 176 of 13th January 1862, notified to the Army that, "in carrying into effect these powers, care must be taken that the offence is within the published rules and regulations of the Cantonment to avoid the inconvenience of a Civil action or Criminal prosecution for an illegality. The Commanding Officer cannot delegate this power to any Staff or other Officer under his command. A Register of these trials is to be kept in the Station Staff Office to show the date of trial, name and description of prisoner, the offence, names of witnesses, substance of evidence, sentence, and to what extent inflicted or remitted; each case to be signed by the Commanding Officer."

6. In every Cantonment or Military station, where its rules and regulations have been sanctioned by the Commander-in-Chief and published, but not until, the powers of the 84th Article of War can therefore be used by the Officer Commanding, the Governor in Council having authorized it on establishing the Code of General Regulations for this Army in 1849, which Code is still in force.

7. It will be observed that these Cantonment rules and regulations are distinct from those under Regulation VII of 1832, which only affected Cantonments made "Military Bazaar stations," and also from those under Madras Act I of 1866, Section 17, which, when made, will only affect Cantonments brought under their operation.

8. Those portions of the stations near the towns of Kurnool and Vellore, where the Troops are placed, are to all intents legally the Military Cantonments of Kurnool and Vellore, although not brought under Regulation VII of 1832, or Madras Act I of 1866. The rules and regulations for the Cantonment of Vellore were confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief on 2nd February 1864, but never since; and those for the Cantonment of Kurnool have, it appears, never received that confirmation.

9. In a draft Bill to amend the present Articles of War for the Native Army, lately received, Article 84 is proposed to be altered as underlined, see 123rd Article, to stand thus—"For any offence in breach of any rule and regulation of any Cantonment, authorised by the Supreme or Local Governments, the Commanding Officer of such Cantonment may sentence the offender" &c., &c., as in the former Article. If this should be considered to affect the present rules and regulations confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief, the Cantonments will be left without such, for the purposes of this Article of War, until these or others are duly authorized by the Government.

10. Wherever bodies of Troops are stationed in places not brought under Madras Act I of 1866, it is very necessary that the maintenance of the conservancy and good order of the Cantonment should be vested in the Commanding Officer, and not solely left to a body of persons like Municipal Commissioners, who are not responsible to the Commander-in-Chief for the health or cleanliness of the Troops and their lines, or subject in any way to his authority. To aid the Commanding Officer in those duties the powers of the 84th Article of War are required; but as some offences provided for by the rules and regulations of the Cantonment may also be punishable under the Police Act XXIV of 1859, it would be advisable that such cases should be made over by him to the Police, reserving to himself to deal only with those branches of the Cantonment rules and regulations over which a Civil Magistrate has no jurisdiction. There could then be no clashing of authority. And as the Inspector General of Police states, the Police are at the disposal of the Commanding Officer, to execute all orders passed under the 84th Article of War, he can employ them instead of soldiers in conveying offenders to Jail when imprisonment becomes necessary, or before the Civil Magistrate, when committed to him for trial.

No. 193. Proceedings of Government, Military Department.

Communicating a paper, soliciting final decision of Government on the question as to whether Kurnool is a Military Cantonment in the legal sense of the term. (Dated 10th May 1867, No. 1717).

No. 194. ORDER THEREON, 19th June 1867, No. 991.

It appears from the foregoing opinion of the Acting Advocate General, and from the Memorandum by the Judge Advocate General of the Army which is appended to it, that the provisions of Section 84, Act XXIX of 1861, containing the Articles of War for the Native Army under which it is competent to the Officer Commanding a Cantonment to punish breaches of the rules and regulations of such Cantonment, are applicable to the Cantonment of Vellore, notwithstanding that that Cantonment has ceased to be a Military Bazaar station under the operation of the Order of Government of the 24th October 1859, No. 1433, and that the present Cantonment Act No. I of 1866 has not been applied to it.

2. It is clearly very undesirable that Commanding Officers should deal with any offences which are punishable by the Magistracy under the Indian Penal Code or any existing special law, and the Governor in Council accordingly resolves to request that His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will instruct the Officers Commanding Vellore and other Military stations similarly circumstanced, to hand over to the nearest Magistrate any persons charged with such breaches of the Cantonment rules as may be cognizable by the Magistracy, either under the Police Act, No. XXIV of 1859 or under the Penal Code, or any other legislative enactment, and to avail themselves of provisions of Section 84, Act XXIX of 1861, only in those cases which cannot be dealt with under any other existing law. The Government would further suggest that the limits of the Cantonments in question should be revised by the Officer Commanding, in communication with the Magistrate of the District, and that in any case in which the area included within Military limits may appear to be more extensive than is requisite for purely Military purposes, it should be curtailed. The Government would have been disposed to suggest a revision of the Cantonment rules in force at Vellore and other Cantonments to which Madras Act I of 1866 has not been applied, were it not probable that a uniform set of rules, prepared under the provisions of Section 17 of that enactment, will be applied to every Cantonment in the Presidency at no very distant date.

3. In regard to the application of the Towns' Improvement Act to towns at which Troops are stationed, it appears to His Excellency in Council that every Cantonment to which Madras Act I of 1866 has been, or may be applied, or which may be brought under rules relating to matter of conservancy of the nature of those contemplated by Act I of 1866, must of necessity be included in a Municipality organized under Madras Act X of 1865, in order that the necessary funds may be raised for the conservancy of the Cantonment.

4. The difficulties suggested in General McLeod's letter of the 21st August last, and in the Memorandum of the Judge Advocate General above recorded, may be met, 1st, by instructing the Magistrate to nominate the Officer Commanding the station, or if the Officer Commanding be, as at Bellary, Vizagapatam, Trichinopoly, and Cannanore, a Major General or Brigadier General, to nominate any Military Officer named by the Officer Commanding the Division or District to be Vice-President of the Municipal Commission; and, 2ndly, by authorizing the payment from the public Treasury of any tax which may be levied on houses or huts occupied by Native Officers or Sepoys.

5. These Proceedings will be communicated to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and also to the Magistrates of the Districts named in the margin, in order that effect may be given to the several arrangements above suggested.

Bellary Collector's Office
Camp Hindupur 9 January 1867

From,

A. Wedderburn Esquire, Collector of Bellary

To The Honorable A. J. Arbuthnot,
Chief Secretary to Government
Madras

Sir,

I have the honor to submit, in continuation of my letter of the 20th September 1866 N^o. 73, a revised list of committee, enclosure A, for the Municipality of Bellary, together with (by Pranghy) a map showing its Military and Civil limits, a valuation list of the Military Buildings in the Bellary Cantonment;

Enclosure B, Rupees 11,422 5/4

do do of Civil Buildings do do 42,600

Total Rupees 11,848 5/4

This, if taxed on the estimated rental at the same rate as private property, will give an additional sum of Rupees 5930 per annum.
The total receipts will then be as per revised list, Enclosure D. Rs. 33,757 and the charges as per do do do 6 Rs. 384 9/7 Government contribution, 25 per cent, or Rupees 9624.

2 The Medical charge for attendance on the Police, was proposed by the late Acting Garrison Surgeon, who was under the impression, that as the municipality would pay for the Police, the would also pay for Medical attendance on them. The item has been struck out, as also that for lighting.

3 The cost of superintendence has been reduced.

4 The need of additional and detached wards for the reception of cholera patients, and those inflicted with contagious disease, is very urgent. The present Civil Dispensary, though once good enough for a collector's house 30 years ago, is only a small bung-lo with 3 rooms, barely sufficient for the reception and treatment of non-contagious cases. Cholera patients cannot, therefore, be treated, and I learned to my surprise, that small pox patients were taken to a chattram, which ventilates by an open window into back wall of the Tahaildori butchery. There is a insufficient space, for the erection of these additional detached wards, in the compound of the Hospital, and the Medical Officer and Hospital attendants there would be in convenient proximity, for the purpose of administering Medical aid. In case of need, additional attendants would be provided.

5 The act might fitly be introduced from the commencement of the official year 1867/68, or on the 1st April next;
but if desired sooner, I beg for early instructions.

6 If the Military element of the Committee is deemed insufficient, I would recommend the addition of Major Charles Hayes Esq., Assistant Adjutant General, Major George John Danks Esq., Deputy Assistant Commissary General, and Captain Robert Doreton Thorpe, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Department, 25th July 1867.

Read again letter from the Collector of Bellary, dated 20th September 1866, No. 73, and recorded in Proceedings of Government, 9th October 1866, Nos. 87-88.

Read also the following papers :—

No. 255. From the Collector of Bellary, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George ; dated Hindupur, 9th January 1867, No. 2.

I have the honor to submit, in continuation of my letter of the 20th September 1866, No. 73, a revised list of Committee, enclosure A, for the Municipality of Bellary, together with (by banghy) a map showing its military and civil limits, a valuation list of the military buildings in the Bellary Cantonment, enclosure B, Rupees...	11,42,259 and

do.	of civil buildings, do. C, do...	42,600

Total Rupees...11,84,859.

This, if taxed on the estimated rental, at the same rate as private property, will give an additional sum of Rupees 5930 per annum.

The total receipts will then be as per revised list, enclosure D, Rupees 33,757, and the charges as per do. do. E, do. 38,497, Government contribution, 25 per cent., or Rupees 9624.

2. The medical charge for attendance on the Police was proposed by the late Acting Garrison Surgeon, who was under the impression that, as the Municipality would pay for the Police, they would also pay for medical attendance on them. The item has been struck out, as also that for lighting.

3. The cost of superintendence has been reduced.

4. The need of additional and detached wards for the reception of cholera patients, and those inflicted with contagious disease, is very urgent. The present Civil Dispensary, though once good enough for a Collector's house 30 years ago, is only a small bungalow with three rooms, barely sufficient for the reception and treatment of non-contagious cases. Cholera patients, cannot, therefore, be treated, and I learned, to my surprise, that small-pox patients were taken to a Chuttrum which ventilates by an open window into the back wall of the Tahsildar's Cutcherry. There is a sufficient space for the erection of these additional detached wards in the compound of the Hospital, and the Medical Officer and Hospital Attendants there would be in convenient proximity, for the purpose of administering medical aid. In case of need, additional attendants would be provided.

5. The Act might fitly be introduced from the commencement of the official year 1867-68, or on the 1st April next ; but, if desired sooner, I beg for early instructions.

6. If the military element of the Committee is deemed insufficient, I would recommend the addition of Major Charles Hayes Abdy, Assistant Adjutant General ; Major George John Davies Heath, Deputy Assistant Commissary General ; and Captain Robert Doveton Thorpe, Deputy Assistant Quarter Master General.

ASSISTANT COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, (Signed) D. BUICK, BELLARY, 8th December 1866. Assistant Collector.
(Countersigned) A. WEDDERBURN, Collector.

No. 256. Proceedings of Government in the Judicial Department.

Showing how the Towns' Improvement Act may be applied to Military Cantonments. (Dated 19th June 1867, No. 991).

No. 257. ORDER THEREON, 25th July 1867, No. 904.

In submitting proposals for the application of the Towns' Improvement Act to the Civil Lines and Military Cantonment of Bellary, the Collector expressed an opinion that there were serious objections to constituting the whole of the Cantonment and the Civil Lines one Municipality. The chief of these objections was that the heavy charge of Rupees 15,000, for the repairs of roads, could not be borne by the Municipality, while the Major General Commanding the Division was opposed to the extension of municipal authority over military buildings.

2. With regard to the first objection, the Government observe that a very considerable part of the sum required for the repair of roads will be contributed by Government, who, in addition to the State contribution payable on the whole amount to be raised and expended during the year, will contribute nearly Rupees 6000 in the shape of rates payable on civil and military buildings, while the difficulty alluded to by the military authorities will, it is hoped, be met by the adoption of the measures indicated in Section 4 of the Proceedings of Government of the 19th June last, No. 991.

3. The union of the two Municipalities will undoubtedly be an economical measure. A similar course has been adopted in the introduction of the Act into Cannanore; and the Government rely on the co-operation of the military and civil authorities whose interests will be duly represented.

4. The Barracks and Lines in the occupation of the Native soldiery will be relieved from taxation by payment of what may be due to the Municipality from the Public Treasury, on returns, certified by the military authorities, being presented, showing the number and situation of the lands affected by Act X of 1865; and, in cases in which houses without the limits of the Regimental Lines may be occupied by the soldiery or their families, the Government will be prepared to afford similar relief, on sufficient grounds being shown by the same authorities.

5. The total amount to be raised and expended in the united Municipalities for the purposes specified in Section 25 is Rupees 38,497. To meet this expenditure the Commissioners propose to raise Rupees 33,751, which sum with the Government contribution of 25 per cent. on the total amount, or Rupees 9,624-4-0, will place Rupees 43,375-4-0 at the disposal of the Commissioners. This will more than cover the extra charges for lighting, amounting to Rupees 4,000, which charges will be defrayed from a sum, not exceeding that amount, to be raised under Section 29 of the Act.

6. The requisite funds will be raised by a rate on houses; a tax on arts, trades, and professions; a tax on vehicles; and fees for registration of carts.

7. In Adonie, it is proposed to raise and expend Rupees 9,888. Deducting from this sum the item marginally noted, the amount will be Rupees 8783, of which Rupees 1847 is on account of Police.

Lighting, Rupees 1105.

8. The State contribution will be Rupees 2195-12-9, and the remainder will be raised by the Commissioners by a rate on houses; a tax on arts and trades; a tax on vehicles; and fees for registration of carts.

9. The Act will accordingly be introduced into these two towns on the 1st August next, and the following Notifications will be duly published.

Read the following papers:—

No. 192. From the Acting Government Solicitor, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Madras, 19th December 1866, No. 707.

I have the honor to acknowledge the Proceedings of Government noted in the margin, relative to the administration of Criminal justice in Vellore and other stations similarly circumstanced.

Dated 8th November 1866, No. 1763, Judicial Department.

2. I submitted the matter for the consideration of the Acting Advocate General, who, after having had a conference with the Judge Advocate General of Fort Saint George, has written the opinion, of which, and of the Judge Advocate General's Memorandum therein referred to, I now forward a copy.

OPINION.

I have conferred with the Judge Advocate General upon the subject of this reference, and append copy of a Memorandum furnished to me by him on the question under consideration.

2. The Criminal jurisdiction of a Commanding Officer over persons not amenable to the Articles of War, rests upon Article 84 of Act XXIX of 1861. To found his jurisdiction it is only necessary to show that he is the Commanding Officer of a Cantonment, which has such rules and regulations as are contemplated by Article 84. Now, in my opinion, "Cantonment" is not a technical legal term. It merely denotes a place habitually and permanently used for the quartering of troops. Some Cantonments are made Bazaar stations under Section 3 of Regulation VII of 1832. Some Cantonments, without being made Bazaar stations, are brought partly under the operation of that Regulation by Section 38. Others are neither brought under Section 3 nor Section 38, but a special authority is given by Section 47 for the purpose of restraining sale of liquors. This being so, I think that the "Cantonments" spoken of in Article 84 are Cantonments generally, and not merely such Cantonments as have been made Bazaar stations.

3. Nor do I think that the rules and regulations referred to in that Article are the rules and regulations exclusively which are made under Regulation VII of 1832. The Memorandum of the Judge Advocate General shows that there have been, since 1849, rules and regulations framed under the sanction of the Local Government, and confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief, quite irrespective of that regulation, and in force in Cantonments which had never become Bazaar stations. We must assume that the framers of Act XXIX of 1861 were aware of this state of things, and it is natural to suppose that Article 84 was intended to enforce all rules and regulations at that time lawfully existing in any Cantonment whatever.

4. It appears from the Memorandum of the Judge Advocate General that there are now in Vellore rules duly sanctioned, but none such at present in Kurnool. The result is that, in my opinion, the Commanding Officer of Vellore has jurisdiction to the extent of those rules under Article 84 of Act XXIX of 1861. In Kurnool he has as yet no such jurisdiction. Should either of those stations be brought under Madras Act I of 1866, then the rules framed under that Act will be the Cantonment rules for the future. (Section 37).

5. The Judge Advocate General has had the kindness to read over the above opinion, and authorizes me to express his concurrence in it.

MEMORANDUM.

In 1849 the Governor in Council authorized a Code of General Regulations for this Army, and all previous orders not in accordance therewith were cancelled.

2. This Code, page 155, paragraph 42, in detailing the Military duties in Garrison or Cantonment, further directs that "Officers Commanding will establish such additional standing orders in their respective Cantonments as local circumstances may render necessary, copies of which are to be forwarded to the Adjutant General of the Army for the confirmation of the Commander-in-Chief."

3. The additional standing orders, when framed and sanctioned as directed, became the rules and regulations of the Cantonment.

4. Act XXIX of 1861 was passed and came into effect from 1st November 1861—the Articles of War for the Native Army—and Article 84 enacts that "for any offence in breach of the rules and regulations of any Cantonment, the Commanding Officer of such Cantonment may sentence the offender, provided he be not a European British subject, or an Officer or Soldier, notwithstanding he is neither amenable to any Articles of War, nor under the Military command of such Commanding Officer, to pay a fine not exceeding fifty Rupees, &c., &c."

5. Shortly after the above Act came into force, the Commander-in-Chief, by Adjutant General's Circular, No. 176 of 13th January 1862, notified to the Army that, "in carrying into effect these powers, care must be taken that the offence is within the published rules and regulations of the Cantonment to avoid the inconvenience of a Civil action or Criminal prosecution for an illegality. The Commanding Officer cannot delegate this power to any Staff or other Officer under his command. A Register of these trials is to be kept in the Station Staff Office to show the date of trial, name and description of prisoner, the offence, names of witnesses, substance of evidence, sentence, and to what extent inflicted or remitted; each case to be signed by the Commanding Officer."

6. In every Cantonment or Military station, where its rules and regulations have been sanctioned by the Commander-in-Chief and published, but not until, the powers of the 84th Article of War can therefore be used by the Officer Commanding, the Governor in Council having authorized it on establishing the Code of General Regulations for this Army in 1849, which Code is still in force.

7. It will be observed that these Cantonment rules and regulations are distinct from those under Regulation VII of 1832, which only affected Cantonments made "Military Bazaar stations," and also from those under Madras Act I of 1866, Section 17, which, when made, will only affect Cantonments brought under their operation.

8. Those portions of the stations near the towns of Kurnool and Vellore, where the Troops are placed, are to all intents legally the Military Cantonments of Kurnool and Vellore, although not brought under Regulation VII of 1832, or Madras Act I of 1866. The rules and regulations for the Cantonment of Vellore were confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief on 2nd February 1864, but never since; and those for the Cantonment of Kurnool have, it appears, never received that confirmation.

9. In a draft Bill to amend the present Articles of War for the Native Army, lately received, Article 84 is proposed to be altered as underlined, see 123rd Article, to stand thus—"For any offence in breach of any rule and regulation of any Cantonment, authorised by the Supreme or Local Governments, the Commanding Officer of such Cantonment may sentence the offender" &c., &c., as in the former Article. If this should be considered to affect the present rules and regulations confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief, the Cantonments will be left without such, for the purposes of this Article of War, until these or others are duly authorized by the Government.

10. Wherever bodies of Troops are stationed in places not brought under Madras Act I of 1866, it is very necessary that the maintenance of the conservancy and good order of the Cantonment should be vested in the Commanding Officer, and not solely left to a body of persons like Municipal Commissioners, who are not responsible to the Commander-in-Chief for the health or cleanliness of the Troops and their lines, or subject in any way to his authority. To aid the Commanding Officer in those duties the powers of the 84th Article of War are required; but as some offences provided for by the rules and regulations of the Cantonment may also be punishable under the Police Act XXIV of 1859, it would be advisable that such cases should be made over by him to the Police, reserving to himself to deal only with those branches of the Cantonment rules and regulations over which a Civil Magistrate has no jurisdiction. There could then be no clashing of authority. And as the Inspector General of Police states, the Police are at the disposal of the Commanding Officer, to execute all orders passed under the 84th Article of War, he can employ them instead of soldiers in conveying offenders to Jail when imprisonment becomes necessary, or before the Civil Magistrate, when committed to him for trial.

No. 193. Proceedings of Government, Military Department.

Communicating a paper, soliciting final decision of Government on the question as to whether Kurnool is a Military Cantonment in the legal sense of the term. (Dated 10th May 1867, No. 1717).

No. 194. ORDER THEREON, 19th June 1867, No. 991.

It appears from the foregoing opinion of the Acting Advocate General, and from the Memorandum by the Judge Advocate General of the Army which is appended to it, that the provisions of Section 84, Act XXIX of 1861, containing the Articles of War for the Native Army under which it is competent to the Officer Commanding a Cantonment to punish breaches of the rules and regulations of such Cantonment, are applicable to the Cantonment of Vellore, notwithstanding that that Cantonment has ceased to be a Military Bazaar station under the operation of the Order of Government of the 24th October 1859, No. 1433, and that the present Cantonment Act No. I of 1866 has not been applied to it.

2. It is clearly very undesirable that Commanding Officers should deal with any offences which are punishable by the Magistracy under the Indian Penal Code or any existing special law, and the Governor in Council accordingly resolves to request that His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will instruct the Officers Commanding Vellore and other Military stations similarly circumstanced, to hand over to the nearest Magistrate any persons charged with such breaches of the Cantonment rules as may be cognizable by the Magistracy, either under the Police Act, No. XXIV of 1859 or under the Penal Code, or any other legislative enactment, and to avail themselves of provisions of Section 84, Act XXIX of 1861, only in those cases which cannot be dealt with under any other existing law. The Government would further suggest that the limits of the Cantonments in question should be revised by the Officer Commanding, in communication with the Magistrate of the District, and that in any case in which the area included within Military limits may appear to be more extensive than is requisite for purely Military purposes, it should be curtailed. The Government would have been disposed to suggest a revision of the Cantonment rules in force at Vellore and other Cantonments to which Madras Act I of 1866 has not been applied, were it not probable that a uniform set of rules, prepared under the provisions of Section 17 of that enactment, will be applied to every Cantonment in the Presidency at no very distant date.

3. In regard to the application of the Towns' Improvement Act to towns at which Troops are stationed, it appears to His Excellency in Council that every Cantonment to which Madras Act I of 1866 has been, or may be applied, or which may be brought under rules relating to matter of conservancy of the nature of those contemplated by Act I of 1866, must of necessity be included in a Municipality organized under Madras Act X of 1865, in order that the necessary funds may be raised for the conservancy of the Cantonment.

4. The difficulties suggested in General McLeod's letter of the 21st August last, and in the Memorandum of the Judge Advocate General above recorded, may be met, 1st, by instructing the Magistrate to nominate the Officer Commanding the station, or if the Officer Commanding be, as at Bellary, Vizagapatam, Trichinopoly, and Cannanore, a Major General or Brigadier General, to nominate any Military Officer named by the Officer Commanding the Division or District to be Vice-President of the Municipal Commission; and, 2ndly, by authorizing the payment from the public Treasury of any tax which may be levied on houses or huts occupied by Native Officers or Sepoys.

5. These Proceedings will be communicated to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and also to the Magistrates of the Districts named in the margin, in order that effect may be given to the several arrangements above suggested.

Order thereon 25 July 1887 No. 904.

In submitting ~~the~~ proposals for the application of the Town Improvement Act to the Civil lines and Military Cantonment of Bellary, the Collector expressed ~~an opinion~~ ~~that there~~ were serious objections to constituting the whole of the Cantonment and the Civil lines one Municipality.

N.

the chief of these objections was that the heavy charge of Rs 15000 for the repairs of roads could not be borne by the Municipality, while the Major General Commanding the Division was opposed to the extension of Municipal Authority over Military Buildings.

With regard to the 1st objection the Government observe that a very considerable part of the sum required for the repair of roads will be contributed by Government who, in addition to the state contribution payable on the road amount to be raised and expended during the year will contribute ~~some~~ ^{nearly} ~~the~~ Rs 15000 in the shape of rates payable on Civil and Military Buildings while the ~~other~~ allotted to by the Military Authorities will, it is hoped, be met by the adoption of the measures indicated in section 4 of the Proceedings of Government of the 19th June last A. 194.

3 The union of the two Municipalities will undoubtedly be an economical measure, a similar course has been adopted in the introduction of the Act into Cannanore, and the Government rely on the cooperation of the Military and Civil Authorities whose interests will be duly represented.

by payment of what may be due to the Municipality from the public treasury, in the manner,

4 The Barracks and the Native Soldierry will be ~~exempted~~ ^{relieved} from taxation

the Military Authorities being presented showing the

5 The total amount to be raised and expended in the united Municipalities for the purposes specified in Section 25 is Paper 38497: to meet this expenditure the Commissioners propose to raise Paper 33751 which sum with the Government contribution of 25 percent on the total amount of Paper 9624-4-0, will place Paper 43375-4-0 at the disposal of the Commissioners. This

6 The requisite funds will be raised by rate on
