Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Department, 30th January 1867.

Read the following papers :—

No. 210. From the Principal Inspector General, Medical Department, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Fort Saint George, 20th December 1866, No. 445.

I have the honor to bring to the notice of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council that, the Chintadrepettah Hospital having been closed, the official duties of the Garrison Surgeon are confined to the Medical charge of the Body Guard, and of sick Officers at the Club and Patter's Gardens adjacent to it.

2. In my letter, printed in the Proceedings of Government, of the 2nd November 1864, Public Department, I proposed that the Garrison Surgeon should have charge of the Male Military Asylum, Penitentiary, Body Guard, Chintadrepettah Dispensary, Vaccine Depot, Club and Patter's Gardens. Government, in their Order, 2nd November 1864, No. 1250, declined to sanction any change in the duties then allotted to the Garrison Surgeon.

3. I think it is possible that Government might have modified their decision had I sent up the correspondence, which I now do,* for perusal, but I was unwilling to trouble the Government with these rather voluminous papers.

4. Dr. Duff makes out a strong case, and I beg to suggest that he be relieved from the Medical charge of the Military Male Asylum.

5. I have always considered the arrangement, that the same Medical Officer should have charge of the Lying-in-Hospital and the Penitentiary, an objectionable one, and the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals having brought to my notice that, consequent upon the time for the Medical Officer's visit to the Penitentiary clashing with that at the Lying-in-Hospital, the duties at the latter Institution are not carried out as fully as they ought to be, I requested Dr. Harris to address me upon the subject. I enclose his letter†, and beg to call attention to the concluding paragraph. Dr. Harris has not exaggerated the danger to which his female patients may be subjected.

6. It appears to me that the Garrison Surgeon may, without being overworked, undertake, in addition to his present Medical duties, those of the Military Male Asylum, and the Penitentiary.

7. I am aware that the Commission on the Indian Medical Service has recommended the abolition of the appointment of Garrison Surgeon of Madras, and, in lieu, a Fort Surgeon to be appointed, who is, with other duties, to be Professor of Anatomy. This suggestion has not yet been confirmed by the Secretary of State for India, nor is it, I suppose, likely to affect the present incumbent.

8. When opportunity for this change occurs, it will, in my opinion, be necessary to reconsider the public duties to be allotted to the several District Surgeons.

From the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, Presidency Division, to the Officiating Principal Inspector General, Medical Department, Fort Saint George; dated 17th September 1864, No. 2826.

I have the honor to submit, for your consideration, the accompanying papers:—(First). Original letter from the Surgeon, 3rd District, marked A.—(Second). Tabular statements from the Surgeon of the 4th District, marked B and B.—(Third). Letter and tabular statement from the Surgeon of the 2nd District, marked C and C.—(Fourth). Tabular statement from the Surgeon of the 1st District, marked D.—(Fifth). Similar tabular statement from the Surgeon of the 3rd District, with list and 2nd letter, all marked E, E, and E. In explanation of the necessity for all these papers, I beg to draw your attention to the course which has been pursued in dealing with this question, which I trust, I need not add, I was desirous of doing with the strictest impartialities. I was not, on receipt of the original communication, able to offer any opinion on the extent or variety of the duties devolving on each District Surgeon. I, therefore, drew up a blank tabular form for each District Surgeon to fill up, so that, from the information thus obtained, I might frame a just comparison of respective duties. This I have done, and it does appear to me that the Surgeon of the 3rd District has made out a case for some relief, as he appears to have more to do than any one of his compeers; and that you may be able to judge how far you think the information I have collected bears out this opinion, I have been obliged to submit the papers in full. I think it but right to all parties to advert to some of the causes which have, I believe, operated to interfere with the original boundaries laid down, so far at least as relates to the duties of the Garrison Surgeon, which were reduced, as I dare say you will remember, when Mr. Key, then Garrison Surgeon, was made Professor of Chemistry; but they were not placed on their original footing when Mr. Key was promoted: another Medical Officer became Garrison Surgeon, although this Gentleman was not the Professor of Chemistry, which was the reason why the reduction in the Garrison Surgeon's duties was made. Doctor Duff alludes to the change in the original boundaries, in his letter A, but he does not give the reasons—probably was not aware of them. They do, however, it seems to me, bear materially on the present question, as the present arrangements for the Professorship of Chemistry, &c., are independent of any such considerations. I am aware that the papers now forwarded are somewhat voluminous, and I regret that they are so, but I really do not see how I could have dealt with the question less in extenso, to be just to all concerned.

A.

From Surgeon Major C. M. DUFF, M. D., Surgeon, 3rd District, to the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, Presidency; dated Madras, 20th July 1864, No. 13.

With the view of having the subject matter of this communication brought to the notice of the Principal Inspector General, and, if necessary, through that Officer, to Government, I have the honor to state that, within the last few years, the official duties devolving on the Surgeon of the 3rd District have become very much more onerous and severe than the Government ever contemplated they should—certainly much more so than any one man can overtake, without injuriously over-taxing his powers of endurance. The work, as you are aware, is severe, sustained, and unbroken—no holiday to relieve its uniformity—Sunday and Saturday the same—and often includes night also.

2. The causes of this state of matters, to a great extent, are so evident, that the mention of them will suffice as explanation.

3. When the four District Medical charges of the Presidency were last organized in 1847, a nearly equal division of the area of Madras was aimed at, which, with a just apportioning of the several Hospitals, Dispensaries, and Depôts included in each, gave a tolerably fair and equal amount of duty to each of the Officers in charge.

4. By the introduction of Hotels at the Presidency, this arrangement has become altogether vitiated. These houses, at certain seasons (I may say at all seasons) of the year, are crowded with sick Officers and their families—with resident Officers of the Staff—Civilians, Covenanted and Uncovenanted, of all the Departments of Government, and alone give a fair amount of work to the Medical Officer of the 3rd District.

5. There are, I believe, 15 Hotels in Madras, distributed as shown in the margin. The three in the 1st District, in Black Town, are very seldom frequented by Officers or other servants of Government, and add little or nothing to the duties of the Surgeon of that District. Within the 2nd District there is but one Hotel; and within the 4th District only two; the remaining nine Hotels are all within the limits of the 3rd District, the one under review.

6. Allowing that the Hotels of the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Districts, are equally well supported (which I believe to be the case), the inequality of the duties accruing to the Medical Officers of these Districts, respectively, from this source, is sufficiently evident.

7. You are no doubt aware that a very large proportion of the Army Head Quarter and Divisional Staff, and their families, reside within the limits of the 3rd District, attendance on whom, as well as on all resident members of the Civil Service, forms no inconsiderable part of the duties of the Surgeon.

8. The Military Male Orphan Asylum—forming alone a charge, boys and staff included, of upwards of 300 individuals—is also a part of the Surgeon's duty.

9. The Mounted Police and their families form also a part of the Surgeon's duty.

10. Attendance on the Ecclesiastical, the Educational, the Astronomical, the Geological Survey, and Revenue Survey Departmental Staff, resident within the limits of the District, form a part of District Medical duty.

NOTE.—The two Chaplains of Vepery, for the last 18 months or more, resided within the 3rd District, and the present Chaplain of Black Town now resides within the 3rd District, and is attended by the Surgeon.

11. Attendance on Officers of the Veteran, the Invalid, and Camp Equipage Establishments; on all Uncovenanted Civil Servants; Uncovenanted Engineers; Telegraph Officials; Clothing Board Staff Serjeants and their families, and European and East Indian Clerks, at their own houses, are also considered duties of the District Surgeon, for the due performance of which he is held responsible; also examining, prescribing for, keeping under observation, drawing up the cases of, for sick leave and pensions, and granting certificates to, all Native Writers and Clerks of every Department of Government who may happen to reside within the limits of the District.

12. He is also obliged to attend to all emergent calls of every kind within his limits; all Coroner's Inquests, and to conduct post mortem examinations, in connection with these Inquests, when necessary.

13. The Surgeon of the District is supposed to be the Sanitary Officer of the area included within his limits, and, as such, reports to the Municipal Authorities, or, through the usual official Channel, to Government, on all questions in connection with this subject; and he is, besides, a Member of the Standing Board of Medical Officers at the Presidency, for invaliding, &c., and attends and prepares the cases of all such who come up before this Board for leave to Europe, or for extension of leave in this country.

14. The above may be taken to be all, or nearly all, of the Official Medical duties of the 3rd District, and are performed by one Surgeon, one 2nd Dresser, and one Assistant Apothecary (resident at the Military Male Orphan Asylum, and available only for Asylum duties, and the drawing up, in duplicate and triplicate, of all cases of sick Officers, who come before the Standing Board).

15. From the above outline, I am desirous of pointing out the very large amount of duty which the Surgeon of this District has to undertake, and of directing attention to the very unequal share of it which falls to be performed by him, as compared with the Garrison Surgeon in particular, and the other District Surgeons generally, and, at the same time, of respectfully soliciting that some relief may be given him.

16. I speak of this inequality of labor from personal experience, having for a year and a half acted as Surgeon of the 4th District in 1859 and 1860, the duties of which did not amount to a fourth part of those above enumerated.

17. I need scarcely explain to you how much I feel the want of a little leisure time to devote to those practical progressive professional studies, so necessary and interesting to the Medical man, and which my incessant, unending round of official duties debar me from enjoying.

18. It may not be within my province to suggest remedies for the state of matters as explained above, but I may be permitted to mention that, in the matter of boundary of District, the old one between the 3rd and 4th Districts, some few years ago changed from the Mount-road (the proper boundary for these Districts, as given in the Government map of Madras) to the Mowbray road, might be again resumed, thereby affording some small amount of the relief sought for.

19. The question of attendance on Government servants and their families frequenting or residing in some of these Public Hotels, and forming a part of the Garrison Surgeon's duty, might, also, I respectfully submit, be subject for consideration.

E.

From Surgeon Major C. M. DUFF, M. D., Surgeon, 3rd District, to the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, Presidency; dated Madras, 9th September 1864, No. 16.

In acknowledging Memorandum, No. 2732, of the 7th instant, I have the honor to forward the accompanying Tabular Statement, as required. I beg, at the same time, to refer to my letter of the 20th July last on this subject, which fully enters into details of District duty, which this Tabular Statement does not altogether explain. In particular, I beg respectfully to point to the fact that, although the area of the four Districts may be much alike in size, the number of official residences and Hotels in the 3rd is out of all proportion greater than in any of the other three.

From Surgeon W. H. HARRIS, M. D., Superintendent, Lying-in-Hospital, Professor of Midwifery, Medical College, and in Medical charge of the Penitentiary, to the Principal Inspector General, Medical Department; dated 18th December 1866.

At your request, I have the honor to state the following facts in regard to the duties of my present charges.

2. I usually visit the Penitentiary from $\frac{1}{2}$ past six to 7 o'clock A. M., and am detained there for an hour and a half, frequently longer, before I can attend at the Lying-in-Hospital. By this time, the greater proportion of the sub-patients of the latter Institution have been seen by the Apothecary; and as my lecture hour at the Medical College is at 11 o'clock, the time I am able to devote to the duties of the Lying-in-Hospital is necessarily very short, and the work hurriedly performed.

3. Under present regulations, frequent periodical inspections of the whole of the prisoners and the Jail buildings should be made by the Medical Officer, but, owing to the pressure of my other duties, I have not sufficient time to make them regularly.

4. By the same regulations, the Medical Officer is expected to make post mortem examinations of all prisoners dying of any disease except cholera, and I have made upwards of twenty examinations since the 1st of May last; but, considering my peculiar duties as Medical Officer in charge of a Lying-in-Hospital, I am satisfied you will consider my being obliged to do so must subject the puerperal women to considerable danger, even though the greatest precaution may be adopted, by means of disinfectants, to prevent their inoculation with the animal poison which exists in every dead body.

No. 211. From Surgeon Major C. M. DUFF, M. D., Surgeon, 3rd District, to the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, Presidency; dated Madras, 27th December 1866, No. 33.

In 1864, I had the honor to address a letter to your predecessor, the Deputy Inspector General of the Division, on the subject of excess of official duty, which, as Surgeon of the 3rd District, I was called upon to perform; the relief then recommended by the Principal Inspector General of the Department appeared to Government to be so small, that it was not deemed necessary to disturb existing arrangements.

2. Having lately heard that there is some difficulty experienced in finding sufficient professional work for the Garrison Surgeon, I have been again induced to forward the following, almost a verbatim copy of my former appeal of 1864, hoping that the relief then sought for may be accorded me, and the difficulty of providing a fair equivalent of duty for the Garrison Surgeon be, at the same time, removed.

3. I have the honor to state, for the information of the Principal Inspector General, and, if necessary, through that Officer, for the information of Government, that, within the last few years, the official duties devolving on the Surgeon of the 3rd District have become very much more onerous and severe than the Government ever contemplated—certainly much more so than any one man can overtake without injuriously taxing his powers of endurance. The work, as you are aware, is severe, sustained, and unbroken—Sunday and Saturday the same—and often includes night work also; moreover, the two months' privilege leave per annum formerly allowed has been reduced to one, which, when taken advantage of, involves the necessity of providing a responsible substitute, while absent—an arrangement often impossible.

4. The causes of this state of matters, to a great extent, are so evident, that the mention of them will suffice as explanation.

5. When the four District Medical charges of the Presidency were last organized in 1847, a nearly equal division of the area of Madras was aimed at, which, with a just apportioning of the several Hospitals, Dispensaries, and Depôts included in each, gave a tolerably fair and equal amount of duty to each of the Officers in charge.

6. By the introduction of Hotels at the Presidency, this arrangement has become altogether vitiated. These houses, at certain seasons (I may say at all seasons) of the year, are crowded with sick Officers and their families—with resident Officers on the Staff—Civilians, Covenanted and Uncovenanted, of all the Departments of Government, and alone give a fair amount of work to the Medical Officer of the 3rd District.

7. There are a number of houses called Hotels in the 1st District (Black Town), but few, if any, of these, are frequented by European Officers, servants of Government, or their families, and, consequently, add little or nothing to the duties of the Surgeon of that District. Within the 2nd District there is no

Hotel; and within the 4th only two; the remaining 10 Hotels are all within the limits of the 3rd District, the one under review.

8. Allowing that the Hotels of the 3rd and 4th Districts are equally supported, which I believe to be the case, the inequality of the duties accruing to the Medical Officers of these Districts, respectively, from this source, is sufficiently evident.

9. You are no doubt aware that a very large proportion of the Army Head Quarter and Divisional Staff, and their families, reside within the limits of the 3rd District, attendance on whom, as well as on all resident members of the Civil Service who may so desire it, form no inconsiderable part of the duties of the Surgeon.

10. The Military Male Orphan Asylum—forming alone a charge, boys and staff included, of upwards of 350 individuals—is also a part of the Surgeon's duty.

11. Attendance on the Mounted Police and their families, is also a part of the Surgeon's duty (numerically as follows: 50 European Troopers, 50 Native horse-keepers, and 50 grass-cutters).

12. Attendance on the Ecclesiastical, the Educational, the Astronomical, the Geological Survey, and Revenue Survey Departmental Staff, resident within the limits of the District, form a part of District Medical duty.

13. Attendance on Officers of the Veteran, the Invalid, and Camp Equipage Establishments; on all Uncovenanted Civil Servants; Covenanted and Uncovenanted Civil Engineers; Telegraph Officials; Clothing Board Staff Serjeants, and their families; and European and East Indian Clerks, at their own houses, are also considered duties of the District Surgeon, for the due performance of which he is held responsible; also examining, prescribing for, keeping under treatment, drawing up cases for sick leave, for pension, &c., and granting certificates to, all Native Writers and Clerks of every Department of Government who may happen to reside within the limits of the District.

14. He is also obliged to attend to all emergent calls of every kind within his limits; all Coroner's Inquests, and to conduct post mortem examinations, in connection with these Inquests, when necessary.

16. 17. From the above outline, I am desirous of pointing out the very large amount of duty which the Surgeon of this District has to overtake, and of directing attention to the very unequal share of it which falls to be performed by him, as compared with the Garrison Surgeon in particular, and the other District Surgeons generally, and, at the same time, of respectfully soliciting that some relief may be given him.

18. I speak of this inequality of labor from personal experience, having for a year and a half acted as Surgeon of the 4th District in 1859 and 1860, the duties of which did not amount to a fourth part of those above enumerated.

19. I need scarcely explain to you how much I feel the want of a little leisure time to devote to those practical progressive professional studies, so necessary and interesting to the Medical man, and which my incessant, unending round of official duties debars me from enjoying.

20. It may not be within my province to suggest remedies for the state of matters as explained above, but I may be permitted to mention that, in the matter of boundary of district, the old one between the 3rd and 4th Districts, some few years ago changed from the Mount-road (the proper boundary for these Districts, as given in the Government map of Madras) to the Mowbray road, might be again resumed, thereby affording some small amount of the relief sought for.

21. The question of attendance on Government servants and their families frequenting or residing in some of the Public Hotels already marginally noted, and forming a part of the duty of the Surgeon of the 3rd District, might, I respectfully submit, be added to the duties of the Garrison Surgeon, whose office is the only sinecure one at the Presidency, and thus remove a difficulty now said to exist of finding sufficient official duty for that Officer.

22. Before concluding, I beg to remark on the proposition made on a former occasion, and now I believe again entertained, of removing me from the charge of the Military Male Orphan Asylum, that, among other reasons, my great objection to this is that, if carried into effect, I should be deprived of the great assistance which I now receive from the resident Assistant Apothecary in the efficient discharge of the very large amount of clerical work which charge of the 3rd District necessitates, viz., in the keeping of all official records; the copying of official letters, circulars, and orders in the books of the District; and also in copying, in duplicate, triplicate, and quintuplicate, the medical cases of Officers who come before the standing Board, &c., through the Surgeon of the District. To do all this myself, and attend to the current daily duties of visiting the sick within my limits, is simply an impossibility.

The undersigned recommends that the old boundary of the 4th District, as shown in the Government map, be again resumed.

MEMORANDUM.

The Deputy Inspector General, Presidency, will be so good as to inquire of Dr. Duff on what authority he makes the statements in paragraphs 1 and 22 of his letter.

(By Order).

(Signed) W. R. CORNISH,

Secy., Prnl. Inspr. Genl., Medl. Dept.

2nd January 1867.

From Surgeon Major C. M. DUFF, M. D., Surgeon, 3rd District, to the Deputy Inspector General of Hospitals, Presidency Division; dated Madras, 7th January 1867, No. 1.

In reply to Memorandum No. 1, dated the 2nd instant, from the Secretary to the Principal Inspector General, requesting my authority for stating, in paragraph 1 of my recent letter on District duties, that Government made no alteration in the distribution of those duties, or in the boundaries of the Districts referred to (3rd and 4th) in 1864, because of the smallness of the relief recommended by the late Principal Inspector General, I have the honor to state that, when calling at the office, to ascertain the result of my former letter on this subject, I was personally told by Dr. Shaw, who was then officiating for Dr. Cole, that the amount of relief recommended to be given me was to give the Surgeon of the 4th District the range of houses on the south side of the Royapettah road, which leads from the "Thousand Lights" to behind the Club, the houses being the Wellington Hotel and Wellington Bungalow, and, further, to give the Male Asylum to the Garrison Surgeon, the above being in my range.

2. On pointing out to Dr. Shaw that I was most anxious not to be deprived of the Male Asylum, that by relieving me of it, I should be seriously crippled in carrying on the clerical work of my District, which he fully recognized, he recommended me to go to Mr. Arbuthnot, the Chief Secretary to Government, and explain my wishes to him, as the official letter on the subject had been already forwarded to Government. This I did, and Mr. Arbuthnot very kindly said he thought my wishes could be complied with. At the interview, the whole matter, as far as I was concerned, was talked over, and the inference I drew from what passed was to the effect that, as I still wished to retain the Male Asylum, it would be unnecessary to disturb existing arrangements in connection with the 3rd and 4th Districts, as the Wellington Hotel and the adjoining bungalow were all that was proposed, in addition to the Male Asylum, to relieve me of.

3. On referring to Dr. Shaw's letter to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated the 13th October 1864, No. 345, I find paragraphs 3 and 4 corroborate my statements, but, on referring to a further letter of Dr. Shaw, dated 20th October 1864, No. 356, and to Government Order thereon, dated 2nd November 1864, I see that no reasons are given for non-compliance with Dr. Shaw's recommendations. I much regret having committed myself to the statement called in question. In making it, however, I had no wish to give offence, and gladly recall it, if it has unintentionally done so, as I had no other authority than that above given for making it.

4. With reference to the remark in paragraph 22 of my recent letter in connection with the Male Asylum charge, I beg to explain that, in course of a recent conversation, I incidentally heard that the Garrison Surgeon was to be given the Male Asylum, and the Penitentiary—hence my allusion to the proposed arrangement; and as there appeared to be no reason for considering the information of a private or confidential character, I made use of it, in good faith, simply to strengthen my last appeal.
