Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Department,
28th June 1867.

Read the following papers :—

No. 241. From the Protector of Emigrants, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Fort Saint George; dated Madras, 18th June 1867, No. $\frac{M}{32}$.

I have the honor to report that, in accordance with the instructions conveyed in the Proceedings of Government of the 11th instant, No. 654, a quarantine camp was pitched at Ennore, and the Hindostan having proceeded there on the morning of the 13th the Madras emigrants were landed the same day, boats having been sent from Madras for this purpose.

The number landed were as follows :—

Emigrants.....	45 Men.	}	69
	15 Women.
	5 Boys.
	4 Girls.
Asiatic passengers.....	2 Chinamen.	}	8
	5 Indians.
	1 Woman.
Total...			77

2. Arrangements had been made, in communication with the Inspector General of Police and the Commissary General, for guarding the ground and for feeding the emigrants. The Inspector General, Medical Department, provided a Dresser and medicines for the Hospital, and all arrangements were made in personal communication with the Sanitary Commissioner, who, doubtless, will report his proceedings fully to Government.

3. Under advice from this Officer, 45 emigrants were yesterday morning permitted to leave the camp; the rest remaining under observation some few days longer.

4. Referring now to the Order of Government, conveyed in Proceedings of the 15th instant, No. 697, I beg to state that the men have expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with their treatment on board.

5. The embarkation at the Mauritius appears, however, to have been conducted in a rather irregular manner. The official list shows that some were re-landed even after the papers were made out, and the gentleman who acted as Surgeon states at the foot of his report that at the last moment about 40 individuals were sent on board without any papers at all, and no one knew whether they were for Madras or Calcutta.

No. 242. From the Port and Marine Surgeon, to the Deputy Inspector General, Indian Medical Department, Presidency; dated Madras, 12th June 1867, No. 56.

I have the honor to inform you that, at the request of the Master Attendant, I proceeded yesterday on board the ship Hindostan and gathered the following particulars.

2. Ship Hindostan left Port Louis, Mauritius, on 17th May last, and arrived at Madras on the 10th instant, without touching at any intermediate port. Intermittent and remittent fever was prevailing at Port Louis when the ship left that port. Including the crew she had about 450 persons on board, of whom 86 were for Madras, and the remainder for Calcutta. Twenty-three deaths occurred on the voyage, three of them being from malarious fever. At the time of my visit, there was no infectious fever on board, and the Veterinary Surgeon in medical charge of the ship declared that, during the voyage, no communicable disease prevailed among the crew and passengers.

3. The above report was made in person to the head of the Medical Department, and to the Master Attendant.
