Leave and Allowances.]

Read the undermentioned papers :—

Extract from an Order of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 4373, dated the 9th September 1867, to the effect that Junior Civil Servants attending examinations for prizes for the study of the Oriental languages are not entitled to travelling allowance for the journeys to and from the places where the examinations are held.

Resolution, No. 2749, passed in this Department on the 24th September 1867, ruling that the Junior Civil Servants referred to above “ may be allowed leave on full pay for one month, and that on their passing a successful examination they may be allowed an extension of leave on full pay for another month, and be permitted to count the period of the original leave and of the extension as service and residence : provided that the period of leave on this account, which carries pay and counts as service and residence, shall in no case exceed two months on one occasion, or twelve months in the aggregate.

Resolution, No. 1480, passed in this Department on the 12th March 1869, deciding “ that no public officer can be permitted to draw travelling allowance, whether daily or annual, during absence on leave of any description,” but that a Covenanted Civil Servant in Bombay may draw house-rent or tentage during absence on privilege leave : provided he places his house or tent at the disposal of his locum tenens, and that the locum tenens does not receive house-rent or tentage at the same time.

Endorsement from the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay, No. 691, dated the 28th May 1869, and enclosures, raising objections to the ruling of the 12th March 1869.

Letter to ditto, No. 2275, dated the 30th ultimo, in reply to the above.

Endorsement from ditto, No. 3045, dated the 27th ultimo, submitting, in continuation of the Endorsement, No. 691, of the 28th May 1869, a claim from Mr. H. J. Stokes, a Covenanted Civil Servant in Bombay, to the fixed travelling allowance and tentage of a First Assistant Collector during absence on leave to attend an examination for a prize in Canarese.
