

Proceedings of the Madras Government, Public Department, 21st April 1869.

No. 187. Extract from the Annual Medical Report of the Civil Dispensary at Conje-veram, by Assistant Apothecary J. Chadwick, for the year 1868.

"I beg to report that the building has been condemned by the Engineer as unsafe for habitation. The tenement is very old, and the roof decaying from natural causes, is further endangered from a settlement of the foundation. Large gaping cracks in the roof and walls show the extent of its dangerous condition. The Engineer considers repairs as useless expenditure.

2. The Collector and Sub-Collector of the district consider the building untenable. The Collector remarks: "The building is in a very dilapidated condition, and unfit for use." The Sub-Collector observes: "The state of the Dispensary reflects great credit on the Apothecary in charge, but the location of the institution in a new building required immediate attention."

3. Application has been made for the erection of a new hospital in a more central and favorable site. The plan and estimate has been submitted. The cost of the building is fixed at Rupees 9500. Provision is made for the accommodation of twenty-four patients. The style of the building good, and ample ventilation provided. But as is very likely, the new hospital will not be completed for more than a year to come. In the meanwhile the Dispensary must be removed to another building, but I fear none will be available, and there will be no resource but to place the surgery in a tent, in some central part of the town. I respectfully beg to urge the early sanction of Government for the promised moiety of cost of erection.
