Applications similar to this one, seem to me to be now so numerous as to lead me to suppose that I venture to suggest that may diminish the arbitrary character of the mode in which they are usually disposed of.

I would request the officer applying for the enforcement of Act 6 of 1857, on each occasion of such application to submit with his application a written statement of his objections of the owner of the house or land which is desired to occupy for public purposes, conforming to the owner's wish. The statement should come from the owner & be signed by him. There will be nothing in this step in contravention of the act. It will simply bring both parties - (Ref. receipt?) before the post - at present we learn from

An Officer in the Newspaper that £100 is wanted but that the owner unreasonably does not want to yield up his property - a declaration of trespassing is called for from the Prof: officers and there thereon issues the order to take it

In the present instance the (Juddah) have a place for carts and a place for the huts of the Police &ers. Two proprietors of land on this made to relinquish what they earnestly desire to retain.

I think we should know from these two men what they have to expect compensation with the Mun: Com:

heard nothing but the President a sufficient basis for the grant of
