Madras February 1st 1881

Sir,
I take the liberty most respectfully to submit for your favorable consideration that on a respectful application made to you in December 1879, I was allowed the privilege of drawing my pension, of Rs 48, 12 per mensem, Cuddalore from November 1879, I continued doing hitherto up to the end of last month, under orders from your Office dated 2nd December 1879 No. 787.

As my failing health, and that of my family precluded the possibility of remaining at Pondicherry any longer, medical aid could not be obtained unless at considerable cost, and as my limited means would not admit of such an outlay, having a large family entirely dependant on me, and as the urgency of the case necessitated me to move them to ~~Madras~~ without loss of time to obtain medical relief by placing myself under the protection of this Government and thus ~~secure~~ ~~in~~ ~~Madras~~, I beg that under the circumstances you will be pleased to favorably entertain my prayer and grant me the indulgence of being allowed to draw my pension for the future at Madras, where I intend to reside permanently.

Begging you will kindly give the subject your favorable consideration, which will be remembered with the deepest gratitude.

I beg to remain, your obedient servant
