The Chief Secretary to Government Public Department.

Sir,
With reference to para 2 of G.O. 4689 dated 6th August 1889, Public requesting me to submit draft rules for the organization of the Sanitary Board & to recommend to have the honor respectfully to state that I have carefully considered the subject, and, as it is proposed to constitute the Board only a Consultative body, its chief duties may be summarized as follows:-

- (a) To give advice and assistance to District Boards, Municipalities and to Civil and Military Departments of Government in all matters relating to the public health, such as the construction and laying out to improve the health, comfort and convenience of people; (c) examining

- any new plans ~~which~~ may be submitted for consideration.

in accordance with the Sanitary Board's instructions

- should, like the Sanitary Commissioner, be an itinerating officer and make when necessary, tours of inspection with the Sanitary Commissioner.
- VI. All reports, suggestions or recommendations should be made in consultation and should be ~~submitted~~ ^{submitted} as far as the Sanitary Board.
- VII. The Proceedings of the Board should be regularly submitted to Government and a copy furnished to the local authorities concerned.
- VIII. The Sanitary Commissioner and Sanitary Engineer should work in concert with the Collector of the District for the purpose of planning or carrying out any particular sanitary work or works in his Collectorate.
- IX. Should any difference of opinion arise between the members of the Board on any matter coming before them, the question should be referred to Government.
2. Such are the duties which at present it occurs to my mind, will devolve on the Sanitary Board. If, however, Government are of opinion that special rules should be drawn up for the working of the Board. I beg respectfully to submit that Government may be pleased to indicate the lines on which they should be drawn up.

3. The duties of the Sanitary Commissioners are laid down in G.O. No. 1469 dated 2nd May 1864 military. These rules were framed when a Sanitary Commission was formed one member of which was an Engineer. Since 1864 the Commission had undergone several changes and at present the Sanitary Commissioners occupies the position which the Commission then held, and he now works under somewhat altered circumstances.

Duties of the Sanitary Commissioner

The history of the constitution of the Sanitary Department will be found briefly sketched in the footnote on pp 512-13 of the Manual of Administration. The Sanitary Commission, then, like the present Commission, was constituted as a Military Department, and its duties as set forth on pp 4-6 of the Manual of Administration 1864-70. Its duties were mainly in connection with the health of the troops. But the subsequent appointment of Mr. Rogers General for Military District relieved the Commissioner of much of these duties, and his work is now almost entirely civil. He was formerly transferred to the Public Dept. by p. 27. 1. 69 357 units. He still however remains the responsible adviser of the Govt in all Sanitary matter either in the civil or military branch of adminⁿ (part of India letter in Genl^l No. 7th Mar 87 where the duty 1847

of inspecting military barracks & cantonments is specially assigned to him) and is bound to render advice and assistance to the military authorities whenever required.
He also receives periodical returns of the health of British station troops

His civil duties are as follows

(1) Compilation & monthly submission to Govt of vital statistics for the whole Pres^l including cantonments
