THE Chief Secretary to Government
Public Department

With reference to your O. O. of 6th December, I have the honor to report to His Excellency in Council that having inspected the old Banqueting Hall it was found unsuitable for the accommodation of my office establishment and records on sanitary and other grounds.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

Perie M.B., C.I.E.
in the Court of Madras.

Surgeon-General with the Govt. of Madras.

To the Hon. Secy. of the Navy and Office with the Women's Bureau for this purpose is out of the question.
Dr. Riecke might be asked to sell the Old Bannockburn Hall and say if with slight alterations could be put up in a few hundred dollars up some of the we have made use of 3 houses for the Office. He would not have to go up a ladder to him could not be troubled him and the place is spacious and enough. If he is not content with the present place he may be where he is perhaps for a while a house might be needed for him to live in. He is now is married to their living room children's Hospital where he might live there for a while would be it is believed well served by the hospital.
It is suggested that Dr. B. has my first house and that it be present Office is so very unsuitable

Dr. Haidin has always been talking about the unsuitability of his office.
Though he has been away about it till now. Possibly the fact that the Surg. Gen. will have to spend except hot weather in Meadows has some thing to do with the step he has now taken.
If he will point the way to the Hall then we have no objection to it. I am sorry to hear of his leaving for the Oriental Library, though the army must of getting the two then would not 1. cool. Tell him Dr. to get back at

~~From the Surgeon General~~

For order.

In 1881, to meet the requirements of the Military Dept., the buildings occupied by the offices of the 2 Surgeons General + the Judge Advo. cate General were ordered to be vacated + handed over to the Military authorities. The office of the Surgeon General with the Govt. of Madras was then moved into a house close to the old College Bridge, the rent of which was Rs. 205 p.m.

In 1884 again, the offices occupied by the Adjutant General and Qr Master General in Fort

St. Geo. having become vacant, the Surgeon General's office was again moved inside the Fort.

The then Surgeon Genl. Dr.
Cornish reported that the accommodation allotted for his office was sufficient. Dr.

Bridie now complains of the unsuitability of the present buildings & asks that some other convenient place may be provided for his office & the refrained from complaining of it before, because I did not wish to seem troublesome.

It is rumoured that my office is to be moved into the block opposite the station Staff Officer's quarters, but if so I would respectfully protest against being housed there.
I worked in it for some years at a former period and consider it most unhealthy.
The death of one officer was attributed to it, and I have reason to say that it undermined the health of others. Bad as the present place is, I would much rather be where I am, than go back to the block in question. I trust however that Government may be pleased to provide some other more convenient and healthy office room outside if not in the Fort.

OFFICE OF SURGEON-GENERAL WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS, Fort St. George, 31st October 1889.

No 291

From G. B. C. I. E.
THE SURGEON-GENERAL WITH THE

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS,

FORT ST. GEORGE,

To

Public Department.

SIR,

I have the honor to bring to the notice of the Right Honorable the Governor in Council the very unsuitable nature of the rooms assigned to the Surgeon General with Government as an office. Both my predecessors complained to me bitterly of the inadequacy of the accommodation, and Dr. Funnell said that he rarely spent a day in the place without getting an attack of fever.

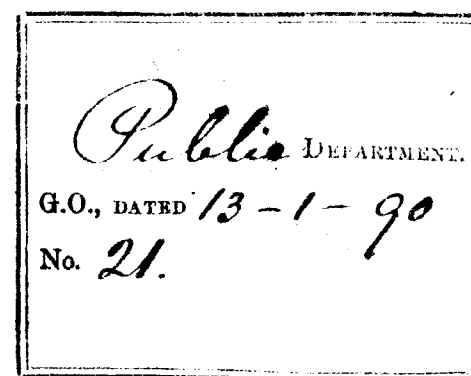

2. The rooms are located in the extreme south corner of the block facing the Government office, and are so shut in with other buildings that nothing less than a cyclone in the shape of wind, can reach them. The air is therefore always stagnant and ~~close~~ my own room is rendered still more uncomfortable owing to the circumstances, that the venetians in the windows must be kept shut all day long, as if opened.

The only channel therefore through which light and air can enter is a door. To get at the room I have to scale a wooden ladder like a brick-layer's, which seems to have some special attraction for natives, as every peon or coolie who loses his way, in the Fort or wishes to discover where some one is to be found, rushes up to make enquiries. I am thus subject to constant interruptions of a by no means pleasant kind.

3. Every portion of the office is badly accommodated but my own room is specially uncomfortable and inappropriate for the Head of a large department. The superficial area of the room hardly exceeds that of a good sized bath-room, and as there is no retiring room, the limited space is still further trenched on by a screened enclosure which has to serve as a lavatory.

To reach a latrine I have to wander for a long distance in the sun over the roofs of houses and then to use a place common to others. To enjoy the benefit of a punkah, the punkah puller has to squat within 4 feet of my chair, an arrangement which, considering the limited cubical space available, is anything but agreeable. If any one calls to consult me, we must converse in whispers if we do not wish the clerks and peons to hear the conversation.
