To the Governor of the Straits Settlements

Dear Sir,

I would be infinitely indebted to you if you would let me know the right person to apply to in this case.

There was a captain Robert Yarell a native of the Kar who went out to Singapore where he died about the year 1828, he left a large sum of money there but through some mismanagement his relatives never properly applied for it. They are very poor and do not have the means to employ a solicitor so I have promised to make inquiries and help them as far as I am able and as I said before I shall be very much obliged if you would let me know the proper persons to apply to in Singapore.
