We have always considered
a cadre of 112, including 1
man for leave under India,
a strength of 164 on 1st Jan,
pending to 160 on 1st July;
for 100 cadre we want 146
on 1st Jan, and amount
at 7.38%.

India allows for 100 cadre
on 1st Jan? Amount is 4.31% according to
they state 160 strength + draft 6.89. But with for India, we only want of 112. With India there
the Provincial Service,
be taken from the cadre
therefore be 101 or 99.
two more may be taken
it may be 99 or 97. It certainly do with the numbers + therefore.

$97 \times 1.46 \times .0438$
according to one calculation

India needs in 1930

$101 \times 1.38 \times .0431 =$

$0.9 \times 1.38 \times .0431 =$

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

TO

THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

Home Department.
Establishments.

Calcutta, the 7th March 1890.

SIR,

I AM directed to address the Government of Madras regarding the recruitment of Indian Civil Servants at the open competition in England in 1890.

2. It will be observed from paragraph 4 of Mr. MacDonnell's letter No. 300, dated 14th February 1890, that the Governor General in Council considers that the number of cadre posts for Provincial requirements should in future be calculated at 111 for Madras. To these must be added 5 posts under the Government of India, leaving a total number of 116 cadre appointments. The strength of a service required to man these posts and provide for men on leave and in training calculated on the data which have been approved for a service recruited in England would be on July 1st in each year 160, and the rate of recruitment, at the accepted rate of 4.31 per cent. on the strength, would be 6.89 a year. It will however be necessary in estimating the rate of recruitment for the future to deduct from the number of cadre posts the posts which the Governor in Council proposes to enter in the lists for the Provincial Service, and I am therefore to ask that the indent for Civilians to be selected in 1890 may be prepared after taking this deduction into consideration.

3. I am to ask that the indent of the Madras Government may be communicated to this office by telegram.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.
