To

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras

Calcutta, the 17th April, 1890.

Sir,

I am directed by the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor, you will be so good as to state for His Honour's information whether any provision has been made by the Madras Government for the supply of sleeping platforms, or any other system of sleeping accommodation, on Emigrant vessels. The rules framed by this Government under the Colonial Emigration Act ~~XXI~~ of 1883 provide that: "a strongly constructed sleeping platforms, 6 feet broad by 3 to 4 feet high, shall be fitted on each side, and from end to end of the between decks, to admit of emigrants sleeping either fore-and-aft, athwart-ship, as circumstances of wind & weather may render most convenient. The sleeping platforms may be either fixed or capable of being folded back or raised up, entirely or partially, when not in use. In the latter case, they shall be so fitted as to admit of their being securely fastened, whether in use at night, or put out of the way during the day." Exception has been taken to this rule.

I have the honour to be,
Your most ^{Sir,} obedient servant,

Wm. A. A. A.

Offg. Under Secretary to the Government of Bengal.
