say that one of the chief reasons which has induced the Government of India to relax the conditions relating to the survey of the hull and machinery of steamers is the desirability of encouraging the employment of steamers in the career of emigrants. But His Excellency the Governor General in Council will

At Madras probably in the case of sailing vessels as in that of steamers, want of dock accommodation a

CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT, PUBLIC DEPARTMENT,
Fort St. George.

SIR,

In reply to reference on No. 2425 of 1890 (Public), I have the honor to report that a true survey as suggested by the Government of India would be impracticable at Madras and I am accordingly of opinion that the principle of the Bill should be extended, as proposed to admit, in regard to sailing vessels as far as the hull is concerned, the certificates mentioned in Sec 13 of the Native Passenger Ships Act X of 1887 the question, however, is of no great importance as regards Madras where a sailing vessel is never very likely to be seen engaged to carry emigrants.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,

Revenue Dept (Emigration)

Sir,

In reply to your letter of 10th 22nd 1890, I am directed to state that in the opinion of this Govt. the principle of the Bill should be extended so as to admit in regard to sailing vessels, as far as the hull is concerned, the certificates mentioned in Section 13 of Act X of 1887. I am, however, to add that, in existing circumstances, the survey of the hull of any vessel is impracticable at Madras and that there is no probability of a sailing vessel being engaged ^{hereafter} to carry emigrants from that port.
