2. The figures entered under the head " for special classes," relate to Marriage Registrars who have been appointed ex-officio Registrars of Births and Deaths, for the several classes for which they are authorized to register or solemnize marriages under the Christian Marriage Act, 1872. In the Madras Presidency, Travancore, Cochin and Coorg all the Marriage Registrars are also Registrars of Births and Deaths. In Mysore, all the Roman Catholic Clergymen, 22 in number, and the Reverend J. N. Ogilvie, of the Church of Scotland, who had been appointed Registrars of Births and Deaths, declined to undertake the duties of the office in 1889-90, and their names were accordingly, under instructions from the Resident, Mysore, removed from the list of Registrars of Births and Deaths. The Chaplain of Chudderghaut, who was appointed as the Registrar of Births and Deaths for the Hyderabad State, has not accepted the appointment, and the Resident, Hyderabad, has stated that the question whether he should be entrusted with the duty of registration of births and deaths, is under consideration. In Mysore, two of the Registrars of Births and Deaths, appointed for special classes, are not Marriage Registrars, and the Missionary Registrars of Births and Deaths in that province have been appointed in respect of classes of persons whom they baptize or whose funeral ceremonies they perform. The Registrars of Births and Deaths for local areas are District Registrars of Assurances for the Madras Presidency and Coorg; the Political Agents, for Pudukóta, Sandúr and Banganapalle; and the Resident, for Travancore and Cochin.

5. The number of births and deaths registered was 35 and 21, respectively, in 1889-90, against 1 and 1 in the previous year. Of these, 12 births and 8 deaths were registered in the Madras Presidency, 1 death in Coorg, and 23 births and 12 deaths in Mysore. These registrations related entirely to persons professing the Christian religion. There were no registrations in the States of Banganapalle, Cochin, Pudukóta, Sandúr, Travancore and Hyderabad.

6. Fees to the amount of Rs. 4 in the Madras Presidency and Re. 1 in Mysore, were collected on account of certificates granted under section 23 of Act VI of 1886. Six certificates were granted, two of them free of charge, as the parties who applied were exempted from payment of fees under the proviso to rule 19. Rupees 2-12-0 were collected in the office of the Registrar-General—Rs. 2 for a certificate of baptism, under the revised Ecclesiastical rules for 1885, and annas 12 for copy of an entry in the register of Native Christian marriages under the rules framed under section 82 of the Indian Christian Marriage Act.

7. Registration of Marriages.—The number of persons who held the appointments of Marriage Registrars, under sections 7 and 8 of Act XV of 1872, during the year, was 52, and the number of persons licensed, under sections 6 and 9 of the Act, to solemnize marriages, 360 in the several provinces, as noted below:—

12. The charges incurred in the year 1889-90 in connection with the work done under Act VI of 1886 amounted to Rs. 3,208-9-2 for the Madras Presidency. Particulars of the charges are given in the appendix. The major portion of the charges was incurred on account of books and forms supplied to registering officers.

13. Besides the registers and records mentioned in paragraph 12 of the report for 1888-89, there were received, in 1889-90, under section 32 of Act VI of 1886, 50 registers for validation. The Commissioners for the examination and validation of the registers have not as yet been appointed by the Government of India, it having been considered advisable to extend the time given by section 32 for the submission of the registers.

14. As pointed out by Mr. Hamnett, the single clerk allowed in G.O., dated 26th February 1889, No. 189, Public, in connection with the work transferred from the Government office, is unequal to the work devolving on him, with reference to the returns of sacred offices relating to European Christians to be transmitted to the Secretary of State, and the certificates of births, deaths and marriages to be indexed under Act VI of 1886. On this subject, I shall address Government later on.
