Sir,

I have the honor to forward the extract from the visitors book of the Voluntary General Hospital, Madras.

"Visited the Hospital unexpectedly. The Institution is evidently appreciated. There are 53 patients - including one European woman.
All are carefully attended to. No complaints.
All comfortably provided for. Building is good.
Order airy and clean. The bedding and clothes sufficient and clean. The servants perform their duties satisfactorily. The Establishment is a small one for the work that has to be done.
There should be another nurse. The Reduction of Nurses' pay from 50 Rs to 25 was I consider a mistake. At the time she had Rs 50 p. m. & assisted by an assistant Matron on Rs 25 p. m. is practically as much work as formerly. The Hospital Assistant O. Pungunthum B. 97. 1st Br.
