SIR,

With reference to Government Order
1. 945, I have the honor respectfully
21.9.1891
to ask Government on the following grounds to reconsider its decision about Mr Robertson.

2. Government Order, 803, 31.8.1891, was to the effect that a Special Assistant had been appointed (as asked for under the Famine Code).

3. The last appointment of this nature was
Mr. Lawrence's in January 1891, I believe.

Believer, Head Assistant's pay.

4. In accordance with the Government Order, Mr. Robertson has been given the worth of a Special Assistant under the Sanino Code, and has been doing the ordinary work of the Collector. Merely as an Assistant, he would have been nearly useless to me, whereas working under the Code he has been of the very greatest service; nor could I have got through my work without him.

5. Two of Mr. Robertson's juniors have subsequently been promoted to act as Head Assistants.

6. While of course, no officer has a right to promotion, it would be a gracious act on the part of Government to follow in Mr. Robertson's case the precedent set in Ganjam, and for his responsible work to allow him the step which his juniors have been granted.

I have the honor to be,
-Sir,
Your most obedient servant

might make him a special case.

21/10
I submit that there is no ground for reconsideration of the order passed. Mr. Robertson has a pleasant station and is well-worked.

21/10
If Mr. Robertson were given the full pay of a Head Assistant, he would be better off than his contemporaries. I would not object to his being given Rs 200 p.m. instead of Rs 150. If there is no insuperable objection, I would allow him the full pay of a Head Assistant. In addition to his regular salary, I would allow him a special allowance of Rs 50 p.m. as a Special Assistant. Can I think that this is a fair thing to do? I have no objection to his being given the full pay of a Head Assistant. I have no objection to his being given the full pay of a Head Assistant. I have no objection to his being given the full pay of a Head Assistant.

Refce. 1000 277 November 1891

The Accl. Genl. is requested to report whether there would be any objection to granting Mr. Robertson, Asst. Col. Chung, a deputation allowance of Rs 200 p.m. in addition to his pay as Asst. Collector.

For Orders.

Mr. Carr, as pointed out by the Collector, drew the pay of an Acting Head Assistant when sent to Ganjam as an Additional Special Asst. in 1889 (vide L.P. 105 of 18.2.89 & 291 of 28.3.89) - There appears to be nothing in para 11 of the Famine Code to lead to the conclusion that a "Special" Asst. appointed under its provisions is to draw Head Asst's pay, and the term "Special" does not appear to have the same significance in the Code as it has when applied to the Sub-Divisional Officer similarly designated in the districts of Ganjam, Godavari, Vizagapatnam and Malabar. These officers are "Head Assistants".

The case is, however, a little hard for Mr. Robertson. Had he not been posted to Chingleput, he would in all probability have got the Acting Head Assistantship that Mr. Dutt did. Perhaps on this ground
