C No. 648

From The Revenue Dept.

Dated 5th March 1891.

FOR ORDERS.

When the Board ^{first} suggested the deputation of an officer on special duty for arranging its records, it proposed that he should be given the pay of a Head Asst. Collector (Rs 768-5-4) - vide papers in G.O. 414 Pub. D. 16. 1. 91.

Mr. Buckley, who was appointed for the work, has been unable to take it up owing to the state of the season in North Arcot District (para 5 of G.O. No. 66 D. 2. 1. 91).

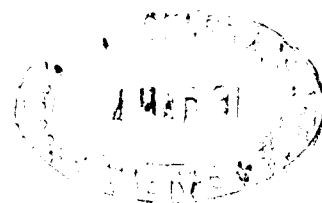

It has been decided that Mr. Hammick, on the expiry of his leave about the middle of this month, is to revert to his permanent appt. as Secy. to the Board, and thus out Mr. H. A. Sim.

In the present paper the Board proposes that Mr. Sim should be placed on the special duty in which Mr. Buckley was first detailed & that he Recommending that Mr. Sim may be deputed to the special duty of selecting important old records in the Board's office, instead of Mr. Buckley.

Submitted to Government under Article 98 (a) Civil Service Regulations Government can depute Mr. H. A. Sim on special duty for a period not exceeding six months and grant him, in addition to his pay as Sub. Collector, a deputation allowance at a rate not exceeding one-fifth of that pay, if the special duty involves a decided increase of work or responsibility in comparison with the duties of his regular appointment.

2. No proposition statement is necessary in the case of an officer deputed on special duty.

I have not thoroughly satisfied myself as to the immediate necessity of this work, but if it has to be done, I do not see that the change from Mr. Buckley to Mr. Sim need carry with it any deputation allowance, no such allowance having been considered necessary in the case of the former officer.

W
8/3/91

6. In the third place, Mr. Buckley has not yet joined, and apparently, is not likely to be able to join for some months, while Mr. Sim's services are available at once, and the work can be commenced by him, at once, and be completed before Government returns from the Hills.

7. The cost of the work if done by Mr. Sim, will seem greater of course, than if done by Mr. Buckley, to the extent of the difference in the par. drawn by the two officers, but Mr. Sim will probably be able to do more work within the time, than Mr. Buckley would, and it may be done better: an important consideration. What particular pay, Mr. Sim should get, it will, of course, rest with Government to decide, but as he is a permanent subcollector, and as promotion to the collector's grade went considerably below him even last year, and as the pay of his present post rises from Rs. 1500 to Rs. 1800 on the 1560 Rs. stage of which Mr. Sim is now acting, the Board begs to recommend that he be granted a deputation allowance of one fifth of his salary viz., Rs. 233. 5. 4.

8. The necessary proposition ^{modification} statement and tabular statement in ~~dispositions~~ for that sanctioned in G.O. dated 19. January 1891, No. 67. Financial accompanies.

Secretary, Mr. Hammett, its present acting Secretary, Mr. Sim, will have to vacate his appointment, and that his services, unless specially required elsewhere, will be available for this particular work.

3. Mr. Sim will be glad to undertake it, and the Board begs therefore to recommend that he be deputed thereto, instead of Mr. Buckley.

4. There are strong reasons for making this recommendation: in the first place, Mr. Sim, has acted in the Board's office now for some 3 years, before its reorganization as well as after it, and in both the Salt and Land Revenue Departments: he has, therefore, a good knowledge of the Board's office in all its branches to start with, and of its records, and is familiar with the arrangement, and to a certain extent, with the contents of the latter: he will commence work, therefore, far better equipped with the special knowledge for it, than an outsider would be, and this, considering the mass of papers to be dealt with, extending back to upwards of a century, and the short time allowed to do it in, is a matter of very great importance.

5. In the second place, there are other matters also, in which Mr. Sim's deputation would be of material assistance to the Board; he is, of course, familiar with the current work of the office, and could, therefore, perhaps undertake such additional work, as the completion of the revision of the standing orders, and the preparation of the Village Officers' manual; work which it is important to dispose of quickly but which requires time which in the rush of other work, the Secretary cannot give it.

Resolution

In Board's Proceedings dated 16th December 1890, No. 8006, the Board pointed out to Government the desirability of printing the more interesting and valuable of the old records of the Board's office and suggested that a coveted civilian of the grade of Head Assistant Collector should be placed on special duty for six months for the purpose of selecting the papers to be so printed, under G.O. dated 8th January 1891, No. 86 Rev. and G.O. dated 19th January 1891, No. 67 Financial. Government was pleased to approve of this, and in G.O. dated 16th January 1891, No. 44 Public. Sanctioned the deputation of Mr. Buckley, C.S., for the duty.

2. The Board had no particular officer in its mind, when it made its suggestion, and, therefore, left it to Government to send whom it pleased, confining its recommendation merely to the stamp of officer required. Since making the recommendation, however, it has come to its knowledge that by the return to duty of the permanent Secretary
