European Vagrancy Act, IX of 1874.

Reviewing the statements showing the working of the — for the year 1890.

No. 20.

Forwarded to the Chief Secretary to Government, with reference to G.O., No. 494, dated 9th July 1890, Public Department.

MADRAS,
13th March 1891.

(Signed) T. WELDON, Colonel,
Commissioner of Police.

ORDER—dated 25th March 1891, No. 233, Public.

The foregoing papers regarding the working of the European Vagrancy Act, IX of 1874, for the year 1890, have been submitted by the Commissioner of Police direct, in accordance with paragraph 7 of G.O., dated 9th July 1890, Nos. 494-95.

2. The statements show that there were 3 vagrants remaining on the rolls of the Government Workhouse at the commencement of the year and that 23 admissions occurred during the period under review. Of the persons admitted, 12 were discharged on obtaining employment, 2 were released under section 16, 4 were deported to Natal and 1 to England, 1 was sentenced to 6 months' imprisonment under sections 15 and 20 of the Act and discharged by the Magistrate under section 24, 1 absconded, 1 was transferred to the Bombay Workhouse, and another, being an East Indian, was discharged under section 3 of the Act. The number on the rolls at the close of the year was accordingly 3.

3. The vagrants admitted during the period under review compare with those of the previous year in regard to nationality as follows:—

	1889.	1890.
(1) European British subjects	13	16
Other Europeans	4	1
Americans	..	1
Australians	..	..
Other British subjects	4	5
Total	21	23

The previous occupation of these are compared below:—

	1889.	1890.
(2) Sailors	4	6
Soldiers	2	2
Shopkeepers	..	2
Clerks	2	1
Mechanics	1	..
Railway employes	2	4
Artisans and laborers	2	1
Other occupations	8	4
No occupations	..	3*

* A wife and children.

The daily average population of the Workhouse was $2\frac{3}{4}$ in 1890 against $1\frac{3}{4}$ in the previous year and the longest period of stay was approximately 170 days against 95. The total expenditure in 1890 was Rs. 3,248, the corresponding figure in 1889 being Rs. 2,761. The average cost per inmate was Rs. 83-13-7, while the figure for 1889 was Rs. 102-14-2.

4. The decrease under this last head was probably partly due to the reduction of establishment effected in accordance with the instructions contained in paragraph 5 of G.O., dated 5th July 1890, No. 494, under which a warder on Rs. 60 per mensem has been substituted for the Governor on Rs. 100 and the carriage allowance to the latter discontinued.

This change was introduced only towards the close of the year under review and its effect in decreasing the average cost per inmate, which, as pointed out by the Government of India* in its review on the vagrancy returns for 1889 was higher in Madras than in any other province, will no doubt be more marked in future.

5. It is observed that the entry of inmates under the heading "Other British subjects" should be made with care. It is presumed that the 5 individuals mentioned under this head in the present returns are those admitted in June and July 1890 into the Workhouse and entered in the monthly statements as "Country born."
