GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following papers:—

From S. E. J. CLARKE, Esq., Secretary, Indian Tea Association, Calcutta, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated 5th December 1890.

I am directed by the General Committee of this Association to address you regarding the manner in which licenses to recruit coolies in the Ganjam district are now being issued by the Collector and Protector of Emigrants.

From advices received from the district it appears that the Protector will only grant licenses to men originally from Ganjam who have returned from the tea districts for the purpose of recruiting labour. By not granting licenses to other recruiters who have been sent to collect coolies, the tea trade is being put to considerable inconvenience and loss, as no previous intimation had been given that such persons would not receive licenses.

The General Committee are of opinion that it is most unsatisfactory that any one official should have the absolute power to stop recruiting, and they trust that the Government of Madras may be pleased to issue orders for licenses to be given to all recruiters, whether or not they are men who originally belonged to the Ganjam district.

Encl. N680, Mjs.

Referred to the Collector Ganjam for early report.

(Signed) J. F. PRICE,
Chief Secretary.

16th December 1890.

From E. C. JOHNSON, Esq., Collector of Ganjam, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Chatrapur, December 1890.

Referring to the letter (herewith returned), dated the 5th instant, from the Secretary to the Indian Tea Association, complaining that emigration recruiting licenses were not freely issued to all applicants, upon which report was called for by you, I have the honour to state that in view of the large number of recruiters already in the field, and the inadvisability of unduly stimulating emigration with the early commencement of the East Coast Railway works in prospect, I have for some time refused to grant fresh licenses except to such garden sirdars (that is, men sent from the tea gardens) who had previously emigrated from this or the adjoining districts. Were it not for the hardship to the planters who sent them to refuse licenses after they have incurred the expense of the sirdars' passages, I should be much inclined to refuse licenses even to these, as they are in great numbers. The marginally-shown table gives the number of recruiters' licenses issued within the last one year and of those issued within each of the last six months, all of which last were to garden sirdars.

2. My determination not to grant fresh licenses to other than local men returned from tea gardens was communicated to all the local agents when first arrived at. I am not aware of a single case in which a license as recruiter was refused to a garden sirdar because he did not come from the Ganjam district, the rule being to send only such men as have previously emigrated from the district and have local ties.

3. I consider that it would be most unwise to permit emigration at all if the local protector of labourers is deprived of the power of controlling it when carried to a point detrimental to the interests of his district; nor do I think that it was ever contemplated that he should be bound to issue licenses as recruiters to all applicants.
