Office Note

The Superintendent Government Press submits the following particulars regarding the insolvency of Mr. P. Jeremiah, 2 Grade Foreman.

2. Mr. Jeremiah has been in the Government Press since July 1862 and commenced as leading boy on a salary of £1. he was a compositor for two years, and an imposer drawing £0.25 to 30 for 19 years; when he filed his petition on the 6th October 1891, he was drawing £0.60 as foreman. His salary has been altered for more than seven years.

3. During his service he has conducted his duties satisfactorily, is a hard working man and is attentive to his duties. It is considered that the applicant has not been extravagant, but that his and domestic troubles were the causes of his insolvency, and he undersigned solicits that Government will be pleased to consider his case favorably. He was permitted to continue at work.

for filing his papers, and has awards his full salary.
H. Petition, Schedule, balance sheet and court's order are submitted

The Sup^{ts} Press but the instment involved condition down to domestic troubles and deaths & the instment says the same but has no proof of the truth of this is addressed.

R. 30 - half a month's pay - is all that is put down in the balance sheet as medical expenses due to the "serious illness" of instment & family during a period of 12 months.

On referring to the Schedule it will be seen that the instment was longly concerned with one person in raising money - apparently they mutually accommodated and another with the loan of a house.

One has note ^{here} for Rs 400-0-0 three Rs 50 & another pay. These transactions date back to 1889.
The instment has been borrowing ever since.

His man Hester is I have ascertained
a person on R. 90 in the Govt.
Press.

The case does not appear to be altogether such a pitiful one as the Sup^{ts} & instment would like to make out.

H.H. Jones, being a good character he has been in the Press since 1882.

"many."

Ch. accounts seem well founded:
Can he get a pension? If so I think ought to take it.
