striking, but when a striking is begun it will be substantial.

4. The remainder of the letters are being put forward in usual course for making up, and I may remark that as editor I have no other on my table.

5. The remarks which follow may not be officially business-like, but they are essentially practical. I expect that the distress in the cotton district will come to an end before my editorship does, my service qualifying for pension has expired, and if the Government only knew what a sacrifice it is to me to stay in this country they would probably think that the best progress-= report lies in my own necessities.
Under these circumstances I should think that the furnishing of the strike-sheets was a sufficient technical progress report. However I have long since recognized the absolute justice of requiring progress reports where Government resources are being used, and if the above form is not accepted I am ready to furnish any other.

I have the honor to be
Sir,

Yours most obedient servant

20th May, 1892

To the Chief Secretary to Government, Public Department.

Sir,

I have the honor to reply to Memorandum no. 881 Public Date 10th May, 1892, that I intended from less or the 2nd March, 1892 and expected to be able to make my progress reports in April and thereafter by laying successive sheets on Chief Secretary's table. This is almost the only workable form of progress report now left, the work standing at present date under 8 sections nearly and there being no stage in the working of these which gives an opportunity for statistics.

2. The above course was prevented however by the delay in obtaining final Press corrections from Survey Office; with the open file of papers on that subject which belong to your Office. The Survey appear to have discovered errors of principle in their original work.

3. The corrections of Letters A & B were received by me from Survey a few days ago, and Letter A will be sent to Press for making up within a week. I do not know how many days must elapse between that and
