LETTER—to

THE RIGHT HONORABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

MY LORD,

With reference to the request conveyed in paragraph 2 of Lord Cross' despatch, of the 21st April last, No. 3 (Public), we have the honour to inform your Lordship that, after careful enquiry, we find that the Edinburgh Medical Mission Society commenced work in Madras in 1856, and was the only mission of the kind in operation ~~then~~ during Sir Hope Grant's residence in the Presidency. It continued to work until 1879, when the management and responsibility of the branch was transferred to the Free Church of Scotland Medical Mission. We are of opinion, therefore, that the Madras branch of the latter mission should receive the legacy left by Sir Hope Grant.

We have the honour to be,

It may be assumed that Sir Hope Grant was a Scotchman. He was Commander-in-Chief of the Madras Army from 1861 to 1865. The Free Church of Scotland Medical Mission began work in Madras in 1856, and no doubt that was the one the General was acquainted with. The S. P. G. ^{Medical} Mission work began long after he had left India.

It is submitted that everything points to the Scotch Mission as the rightful claimants to the 5000; and that the Secy of State may be informed accordingly.

to be opened at Kalasabad in the Madras District. The first Dispensary (Nazareth) in connection with this mission is reported to have been established in 1870.

The Free Church of Scotland Medical Mission appears to be the eldest Medical Mission, so far as can be gathered from the papers before me. According to the Secretary's report, enclosed, the Medical work carried on by this mission in Madras was begun in 1856 - and it is not improbable that the late Sir Hope Grant's legacy is intended for this mission - but as both missions (this and the S. P. G.) were in existence at the time of Sir Hope Grant's will, and as he has not specified the name of the mission, perhaps his Executors may see fit to divide the legacy between the two missions as both are doing good work.

SIR,

In returning the papers referred to me for report under your Endorsement No: 1057 dated the 15th June 1892, I have the honor to state that I placed myself in communication with the Secretaries of the Missions named in the margin with a view to ascertain extent and duration of the medical work conducted in connection with these Missions.

2 The Local Secretary S. P. C. K. reports that there is no organised medical mission in connection with the Society, but that the parent Society in London assists missionaries of the two Church of England Societies (S. P. G. and C. M. S.) who wish to establish Dispensaries, with grants of money for the purchase of drugs and other apparatus.

Sir,

In reply to your letter No. 5113 dated 19th August, I have the honor to state that there is a Medical Mission in Trichinopoly in connexion with the S. P. C., and also one at Erode 12 Miles from Trichinopoly.

2. The Medical Mission in Trichinopoly was started by me in 1881, and has been working ever since.
I have had in connexion with it one Trained Nurse, and one other Nurse. I have four small wards in the Dispensary for inpatients.

3. The Dispensary at Erode was established in 1874.

I shall be much obliged if any help can be given to these Missions especially to that in Trichinopoly which is supported entirely by Subscriptions.

WITH REPLY.

With regard to the legacy of £500 to the Medical Mission for Madras Presidency, we shall be obliged if the Secretary of State will be good enough to ask the Government of Madras to furnish a report as to what Society it is considered should receive the legacy. The terms of the bequest, as we mentioned previously, are as follows:- "To the Medical Mission for Madras Presidency Five hundred pounds," and the date of Sir Hope Grant's will is 17th March 1871, at which date the Society entitled to the legacy must have been in existence.

Sir Hope (the late General Sir Hope Grant) also bequeathed "To the Medical Mission for Madras Presidency £500". The description of the Mission is rather vague, and perhaps you will be able to assist us in identifying it. It will be necessary for any society claiming this Legacy to show that it was carrying on Medical Mission work in Madras at the date of Sir Hope's settlement.
