From The Govt of India
Home Dept.

The proportion $\frac{54}{68}$ is that for the whole of India & is not applicable to Madras alone. It also includes Military Officers as well as Provincial men.

Excluding Provincial posts out Cadre is 101 for I.C.S. men. As shown in telegram dated 26 Mar 90 & is connected therewith this gives recruitment of 6.01. at India's ratio. (which however we have always considered too low). Two additional men per annum are conceded, but this includes provincial recruits.

The I.C.S. portion is $\frac{101}{116} \times 2 = 1.74$
Accordingly we should get 7.75 men.
I would now be asking for 8 men from England to be selected in 1913.
