Sir,

With reference to your endorsement, No. 911, dated the 20th instant, on circular No. 21/8 from the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department (Archaeology), dated the 9th instant, which is herewith returned, I have the honour to report that, on the whole, the new rules regarding inscriptions appear to be working well. Drs Böhler, Fleet and Kielhorn are supporting the new series of the Epigraphia Indica with papers, and they have sufficient materials in hand for several of the new journals, which will begin to

SIR,

I AM directed to invite a reference to the correspondence connected with the Circular from this Department No. 192-98, dated the 26th March 1892, on the subject of a proposal to create a class of Senior Hospital Assistants on Rs. 80 a month in the civil branch of the service.

2. The proposal has been generally approved by Local Governments and Administrations (with one or two exceptions), and the Government of India have decided to make some recommendation of the kind to the Secretary of State, if the increase of expenditure does not prove to be greater than at present seems likely to be the case.

3. In the scheme as circulated for opinion it was proposed that the strength of the senior class of Hospital Assistants in the Civil Department, should be taken at 10 per cent. of the total strength of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades for the time being. This is the principle on which the strength of the corresponding class is determined in the Military Department. On further consideration, however, the Government of India are disposed to modify this part of the scheme, as it seems to them desirable that instead of having a fluctuating number of appointments in the new class now to be constituted—an arrangement which is likely to cause much inconvenience both to Local Governments and to the Accounts offices—there should be a fixed number not exceeding 10 per cent. of the present total strength of Hospital Assistants.

4. Before the Secretary of State is addressed, it is necessary that the exact financial effect of the scheme and the extra expenditure which it will throw on Provincial and Local Revenues, and also on Imperial Revenues (if any), should be

I am therefore to request that, with the permission of His Excellency the Governor in Council, a proposition statement may be submitted showing the sanctioned strength of Civil Hospital Assistants in the Madras Presidency, the average number in the first class during the past five years, the number who should be allowed to draw Rs. 80, and the increased expenditure that the proposal will entail. I am to explain that the Government of India propose to lay down a rule that only Hospital Assistants of the 1st grade, with English qualifications, shall be eligible for promotion to the senior class. The pay of these officers is at present Rs. 55, and the extra expenditure shown in the proposition statement will thus be Rs. 25 a month in respect of the pay of each officer to be promoted to the senior class. The proposition statement should be forwarded through the Accountant-General, and should show separately the increased cost per annum chargeable to Imperial, Provincial and Local Fund revenues, as the case may be.
