necessary.

3.- As regards (i) and (iii) the Chief Commissioner has no objection, but the Correspondence in question should be addressed to the Commissioner of Coorg, Mercara. Before passing orders regarding (ii), the Chief Commissioner would be glad to learn how Mr Rhea is usually given these advances in Madras. By paras 57 and 94 of Chapters 4 & 8 respectively, of the Civil Account Code, an advance for travelling allowances and Contingent Charges would seem to be inadmissible.

It is probable, however, that the Madras Government usually advances Mr Rhea his tour charges under para 137 (d) ibid, and if this is the case, the Chief Commissioner has no objection to adopt the same course.

I have the honor to be,

Yours most obedient Servant,
Major

Secretary to the Chief Commissioner.

The Hon. Member's
Copy of the account code cannot be found in the office. The Librarian had already prepared a second memo: asking for it when the Hon's note on C. 703 was recd.

A library copy is sent for reference for the present.

No G.O. authorising advances of travelling allowance to Mr. Rea can be traced, nor does the acct: Genl's office know of any. as far as is known there Mr.
Rea draws contingent money from time to time under para: 94, page 30, C.A. code, and utilises that for current expenses connected with the movement of his office.
