*Extending the misapprehending article 254

of the Civil Service Regulations.
Mr. Mounsey's ~~appointment~~ ^{joining} a case which falls under article 198, unless his joining time is extended on the ground that it would otherwise have been necessary to have extended Mr.
Wolfe Murray's for a longer period than the two days specified in G. O. d/13 21 February 1893 No. 121.

C.S.
21/3. Art 254 does not apply but there are good grounds to make for extending his joining time. He was to probably not be joining in February. With a misapprehension of the rules he did not join at Cuddalore until the end of the holidays as he must have done. He is to be taken charge there it would have been necessary to further extend his joining time. So for the reasoning. He has not not yet for clearance as C.S. is including in the
of his letter he nearly has not yet as the day is

Some time intimates that if Mr. Wolfe-Murray's joining time did not cover the period between his relief at Cuddapah, and his assumption of charge from Mr. Rees, it could be extended.

3. Mr. Munsey's joining time between Anantapur & Cuddapah expires on the 1st January. He did not relieve Mr. Wolfe-Murray till the 9th idem, being under the impression that the case was one covered by article 254
of the Civil Service Regulations.
He requests the formal Sanction of Government to the extension of his joining time under article 198 of the Civil Service Regulations.

4. Article 254 of the Civil Service Regulations does not cover Mr. Munsey's case as his joining ^{at} Cuddapah did ~~not~~ involve the transfer of an officer (Mr. Wolfe-Murray) to another Station. If it did apply, two officers (Messrs. Munsey & Wolfe-Murray) would be drawing the pay of the same

This happens equally of joining appointment (Collector of Anantapur) is not the case. Mr. Wolfe-Murray has been paid as (acting) Cuddapah for the period of (10 days) until he took charge of the District; so not 1st to 8th January in Rees's case. Cf

5. It will be seen from G.O. dated 13th February 1893,
No. 121, that Mr. Wolfe-Murray's joining time has already been extended by two days to cover the time between the date he handed over charge of Cuddapah ^(9th January) and that in which he assumed charge from Mr.
Rees (19th January).

6. The joining time of several officers has lately been ruled that the formal sanction of hence I make this application.

I may further mention that in a be extended. I presume therefore that there will be no objection to extending our inadvertance has been, that Govern-

Commissioners of Land Revenue

SIR,

I have the honor to request that the formal sanction of Government may be given to the extension of my joining time from the date I should have joined at Cuddapah i.e. 1.1.93 up to the 8th January as I inadvertently overstayed my joining time between Annadapur and Cuddapah under the following circumstances.

Both Mr. Wolfe Murray and myself were under the impression that the case was one covered by Article 254 Civil Service Regulations and that I might join at the end of the Christmas Holidays instead of in the middle of them. The
