SIR,

to G.O. N^o 633 Public of the 17th idem, I have the honor to enclose for the information of

To,

The Surgeon General with the Govt. of Madras.

Sir,

With aduertence to your letter N^o 9175 dated 10th June 1893, I have the honor to state that the rules governing the appointment of nursing Sisters of the Indian nursing Service, appearing to be special, this office is not in a position to state definitely whether their leave is governed by civil rules.
It is however observed that their leave is granted under special orders in the Military Department, but in respect of pay they are treated as civilians.

2/. From para 1814, Army Regulations, India Volume VII the duration of their service

Service is five years, capable of renewal for another term of 5 years, making in all ten years, at the end of which period their Indian service is completed, and they are entitled to gratuities as laid down in article 1359A Army Regulations, India Volume I, Part I.

3. It would appear therefore that the period of service of nursing sisters is intended to be limited and is not pensionable.

I have the

Miss Hammans' leave & pension during the time she belonged to the Indian Nursing Service were regulated by paras 44-46 & 51 of the India Army circular of the 5th November 1890. In para 52 it is laid down that no gratuity will be given for service terminated by any other cause than sickness, or the completion of the terms of 5 & 10 years' service respectively. Miss Hammans practically resigned the nursing service to take up the appointment in Madras ^{and thus} ~~although~~ at the request of the ^{that} Govt of India did not insist on the 6 months notice required by para 50 of the circular above quoted. Her travelling allowance drawn by her is admissible under article 1191 of the C.F.R.

Govt's For orders.

Miss Hammans the new Matron Superintendent of the General Hospital, Madras requests that she may be allowed to count for leave the time she spent in the Indian Nursing Service and that she may be allowed a year's leave at the end of 5 years from the date of her departure from England (3rd Decr 1891) to join that service. The Accountant General however states that as she was not appointed to Madras under any special contract, her service for leave counts only from the date of her joining the appointment here. As she came out under an engagement with the Govt of India for a term of five years and as this engagement ceased on her appointment as Matron Superintendent (on her own application) it is submitted that her present request is inadmissible.

It is true that in order to take up this appointment she had to refund the passage money (£30) she had received from the Govt of India but this was done ~~that passage~~ apparently with a view of bettering her prospects.

It has been contended whether her service as Nursing Sister counts for leave & pension under Civil rules supposing it to have been extended beyond five years. It is usual to provide that it should, in agreement of the fact that such provision exists I don't think I thought to lose her claim on the other app't under Govt. Madras

Sir,

With reference to the remarks.

"Her service for leave in the Civil Department commences from the date of her taking up the present appointment unless otherwise ordered by Government."

Contained in letter No 1155, d/22.2.93 from the Secretary to the Surgeon General.

I have the honour to request that the Surgeon General may be good enough to move Government to sanction, as a special favour, that my service may count from the date of my leaving England, & also that I may still be granted one years leave at the end of 5 years service as promised when I left home.

As you know I came out in the Indian Nursing Service, & in order to take up this appointment paid back to them £30 sterling for passage money.

By appointing me the Madras Government have saved passage money, & delay in the filling up of the Appointment, & I hope that this consideration, & the fact that I have actually been in Government service during all my time in India, may seem to Government sufficient reason for granting my
