* Appointed to the Statutory Service on the understanding that he would be included in the Provincial Service when created.

(c) According to the figures given in paragraph 4 of the Madras letter No. 873, dated 6th April 1893.
(d) According to the estimate made in 1890, Home Department letter to Government No. 42, dated 30th January 1893. Recruitment not yet definitely settled.

ORDER—dated 3rd August 1893, No. 600, Public.

Recorded.

2. With reference to the statement appended to the letter read above, it is observed that the claims of Statutory Civilians who elect to retain their present positions are, under the * orders noted in the margin, to be taken into consideration after those of the last of the Indian Civilians whose covenants bear date previous to their confirmation. The date of confirmation of the Statutory Civilians of this Presidency are as shown below :—

Mr. K. C. Manavedan Raja	..	..	..	..	26th Aug. 1882.
Muhammad Raza Khan	..	..	..	..	30th Nov. "
Mir Shujaat Ali Khan	..	..	..	..	27th Aug. 1884.
T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar	..	..	..	..	27th Jan. 1886.
T. Varada Rao	..	..	..	..	17th Aug. 1887.
P. Rajagopala Chari	..	..	..	..	2nd May 1890.

It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Varada Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr. Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan before those of 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar before those of 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao before those of 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari before those of 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887 and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

3. The statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao. The Government considers that it will also be more convenient if, for the entries in column 5 of the statement forwarded by the Government of India, the progressive column 4 are substituted and if Statutory Civilians who are no longer in the service are omitted.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a table were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. The Accountant-General will be requested to make this addition and to keep the statement corrected to date. He should arrange for its revision monthly and furnish the Superintendent of the Government Press with corrected proofs so as to admit of that officer making the following distribution by the 5th of each month :—

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
HOME DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th May 1893, No. 746, Public, regarding the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to the posts transferred from the Civil Service of India and, in reply, to forward copy of the Proceedings of this Government of to-day's date, No. 600, from which it will be seen that it has been considered necessary to make some slight alterations in the statement appended to your letter showing the rate at which these posts will become available.

2. In paragraph 7 of your letter under reply it is stated that

"in the case of covenanted appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service
"no excess of these appointments is required either on account of men in
"training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case,
"the members of that service who will be appointed to such posts will
"already be experienced men who have emerged from the stage of train"ing, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial
"Service"

and a little further on that

"whatever excess of officers over actual posts is required as a leave and train"ing reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial
"Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service
"generally."

As there appears to be a contradiction in these two statements, I am to request that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be informed as to the proper construction to be placed on them.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

TO

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

Simla, the 27th May 1893.

SIR,

I AM directed to reply to your letter No. 272, dated 6th April 1893, in which you make certain enquiries with reference to the mode of exhibiting in the Civil Lists the posts to be transferred from the Civil Service of India to the Provincial Civil Service.

2. The Government of India, for the reasons given at length below, do not approve the suggestion of the Accountant-General, Madras, that the claims of one Provincial Service officer or Statutory Civilian to a listed post should be considered after those of each fifth Indian Civilian, irrespective of the year of his appointment, counting from the last officer who arrived in 1881, have been considered or satisfied.

3. The Government of Madras, I am to say, are correct in the view that it is the intention of the Government of India that the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to listed posts is not to be delayed longer than the claims of Indian Civilians recruited in each year after 1879-81 demand. But I am to explain that it was not intended in the fourth head of paragraph 2 of my letter No. 1535, dated the 27th May 1892, to decide that the number of posts available for transfer to the Provincial Service in any year after 1881 should be calculated on the recruitment of Indian Civilians for that year, taken separately. Such a calculation would either remove from the Indian Civil Service more than one-sixth or give to the Provincial Service less than one-sixth of the posts to which recruitment for each year had reference. What was intended was that one-sixth of the posts to be recruited for after 1879-81, taken together, should be available for the Provincial Service (including Statutory Civilians), the claims of the Indian Civilians of each year being satisfied before any of the available posts were actually made over to the Provincial Service.

4. In order to make this quite clear, it will be convenient to sum up briefly the history of the question. As the Governor in Council is aware, a reduction of one-sixth in the recruitment of Indian Civilians in England was commenced in 1879, to make room for the appointment in India of Natives of India to reserved posts under the Statute 33 Vict., Cap. 3, Section 6. It will be in the recollection of His Excellency in Council that the Public Service Commission, in proposing the transfer of certain Scheduled posts to the Provincial Service, recommended that a reservation should be made in favour of Civilians recruited in or before 1870 (appointed to the service in or before 1872), but that Civilians recruited after that year should not have any absolute claim to the transferred posts in preference to members of the Provincial Service. The Commission's recommendation was based on the ground that although Natives of India were not actually recruited in this country till 1879, and the reduction in the recruitment of the Indian Civil Service to make room for them was not actually effected till 1879, the Statute under which their appointment to reserved posts was permitted was passed in 1870. The Government of India and the Secretary of State, however, decided that the line should be drawn below the Civil Service recruited in or before 1879-81 (i.e., before the recruitment for the Civil Service had actually been reduced), who should be regarded as having an absolute claim over members of the Provincial Service to reserved posts (save exceptional circumstances, such as those under which Mr. C. Rama Chandra Aiyar was appointed a District Judge), and that Civilians recruited after 1879-81 should have their claims to the posts listed as open to the Provincial Service considered to the extent of five-sixths of the total number of posts for which recruitment was or might have been made in each year. In other words, the principle adopted was that the claims of Indian Civilians of any year after 1879-81 to the one-sixth of the reserved posts intended for transfer to the Provincial Service ceased to the extent to which recruitment for the Indian Civil Service had actually been reduced in the year in which they were recruited.

5. This, then, is the principle of the scheme. Its practical application doubt involves a system which is somewhat complicated owing to various degrees of prior claims on the part of Indian Civilians, and also of Statutory Civilians appointed before the Provincial Service scheme was instituted. In the introduction of the new arrangements the Governor General in Council must necessarily leave a good deal to the discretion of Local Governments. The statement enclosed with this letter will, however, give the Madras Government a general idea of the time after which, and the extent to which, the claims of Indian Civilians in the Madras Presidency appointed after 1879-81 will cease to one-sixth of the posts which has been removed from the scale of recruitment to the Indian Civil Service. Altogether fifteen reserved posts have been listed open to the Madras Provincial Civil Service. A reference to the statement will show that all these fifteen posts may be permanently appropriated to the Provincial Service when the claims of the Civilians of 1896 (or possibly of 1897) have been exhausted. Six superior posts—viz., two headships of districts and four District Judgeships—have been listed; the claims of Civilians recruited down to 1888 must be exhausted before all these become available for members of the Provincial Service, save in cases of exceptional appointments, such as that held by Mr. Rama Chandra Aiyar.

6. It will be observed that the enclosed statement differs from that given in paragraph 4 of your letter. It has been thought convenient to show Statutory Civilians who elect to remain in their present position in a separate column, and their relative position for promotion as compared with Indian Civilians is governed by different considerations from those applicable to the case of Provincial Service men [vide paragraph 6 (1) of Home Department letter No. 2194, dated 11 November 1892 and the previous orders cited therein]. This, however, is merely a difference of detail.

7. The important differences are (1) that the one-sixth of the posts which will become available for transfer to the Provincial Service has been calculated on the recruitment after 1879-81, taken as a whole, fractions being carried down from year to year; and (2) that the rate at which the listed posts made over to the Provincial Service has been calculated not on the total number of Civilians recruited in each year, but on the number of actual or sanctioned posts to fill which they were recruited. The total strength of the Civil Service, as the Madras Government are aware, is made up of (1) officers to fill actual posts—27.39 per cent. on the number of actual posts, and (3) junior officers who are merely in training—10.58 per cent. on the number of actual posts. The excess under heads (2) and (3) amounts to nearly 38 per cent. calculated on the number of actual posts, and 27.5 per

on the total strength of the service. The recruitment of Statutory Civilians was regulated with reference to the total recruitment of Indian Civilians because their body, like that of the Indian Civil Service, included the leave reserve and an allowance for officers in training. But in the case of covenanted appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service no excess of these appointments is required. Neither on account of men in training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case, the members of that service who will be appointed to such posts will already be experienced men who have emerged from the stage of training, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial Service. Suppose, for instance, that after the two district headships and four Judgeships have been made over to the Provincial Service, all six officers holding these posts go on leave; the Local Government will be able to appoint six other members of the Provincial Service to act in their absence. Whatever excess of officers over actual posts is required as a leave and training reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service generally. The number of listed posts that will become available for the Provincial Service in each year should therefore, in the opinion of the Government of India, be calculated, not on the total number of Indian Civilians annually recruited, but on the number of actual posts to fill which they were recruited,—i.e., on the total recruitment minus the 27.5 per cent. ($\frac{38}{138}$ ths) representing the leave and training reserve.

8. I am to say, in conclusion, that the Government of India do not think it advisable to show in the Civil List the rate at which it is estimated that the listed posts will become permanently or temporarily available for the Provincial Service, as this would unnecessarily tie the hands of the Local Government in case any change of system or rearrangement of details were found desirable in the future. It is better that the particulars should merely be kept on record in the Secretariat and the Accounts office for the information and guidance of the Madras Government and the Accountant-General.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

Secretary to the Government of India.

The date of confirmation of the Statutory Civilians of this Presidency are as shown below:—

Mr. K. C. Manavedan Raja	..	..	..	..	26th Aug. 1882

T. Varada Rao	..	..	..	..	17th Aug. 1887.
P. Rajagopala Chari	..	..	..	..	2nd May 1890.

It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Varada Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr. Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao, 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari, 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887, and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a tabe were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Vanda Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao, 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari, 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887, and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

3. The Government considers that it will also be more convenient if, for the entries in column 5 of the statement forwarded by the Government of India, the progressive totals of column 4 are substituted and if Statutory Civilians who are no longer in the service are omitted.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a table were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. The Accountant-General will be requested to make this addition and to keep the statement corrected to date. He should arrange for its revision monthly and furnish the Superintendent of the Government Press with corrected proofs so as to admit of that officer making the following distribution by the 5th of each month :-

Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor	..	..	2 copies.
Honorable Members of Government	..	..	1 copy each.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF
FORT ST. GEORGE,

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th May 1893, Public, regarding the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to be transferred from the Civil Service of India and, in reply, to forward copy of the proceedings of this Government of to-day's date, No. 602, from which it will be seen that it has been considered necessary to make some slight alterations in the statement appended to your letter showing the ratio at which these posts will become vacant.

In paragraph 7 of your letter under reply it is stated that "in the case of vacant appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service no excess of these appointments is required either on account of men in training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case, the members of that service who will be attached to such posts will already be experienced men who have emerged from the training, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial Service," and a little further on that, "whatever excess of officers over actual posts required as a leave and training reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service generally." As there appears to be a contradiction in these two statements, I request that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be informed as to proper construction to be placed on them.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Chief Secretary.

The entries in column 6 of

to be quite correct.

2. The rule governing the promotion of a Statutory Civilian who elects to retain his present position
is that his claims to advancement
must be taken into consideration after those of the last Indian Civilian whose covenant
bears date previous to his confirmation (vide para 4 of Indian's letter on page 110 of the printed file).

3. (1) Mr. Manavedan Raja's was confirmed on the 26. August 1892
and therefore comes above the Indian Civilian ^{who arrived in} of that year. This, however,
is a minor point and does not affect the calculations.

of the G. of I. table the progressive
total of column 4 has been entered. & Statisticians who have left the service
have been omitted in the revised
table.

5 The revised statement presents
one point of difficulty. It will be seen that after the claims of Indian Civilian who arrived in 1886 have been exhausted, 3, 7, i.e. 4, posts are available for the Statutory & Post.
Services - Column 8 shows that these 4 posts must in ordinary course be given to Statisticians. After the 1887 Indian Civilian have been provided for, there are 6 posts for the local services, but Mr. Varada Rao, whose claims have ordinarily to be considered before those of the 1887 Civilian, takes up this 5th

Mr. Mr. Mungat Ali, having been confirmed on the 27. August 1884,
should be shown against the year 1885 as he takes precedence of the Indian Civilian who arrived in 1884.
This will necessitate the 1 appt shown against 1884 in column 8 being placed against 1885.

(14) Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar
was confirmed on the 27. January 1886 and takes precedence of the Civilian who arrived in that year.
His name should be shown against the year 1886 and the one appt. in column 8 should be placed against 1886
should be placed against 1885.

(15) Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar &
Mr. J. Varada Rao, having been confirmed
on the 26. March & 17. August 1887
should similarly be shown against the year 1886, and Mr. R. Rajagopal Rao having been confirmed on the
22. May 1890 should be shown before the Indian Civilian who arrived in
that year.

The statement as thus corrected
would be as shown in the accompanying table, where ^{the entries in} column 5

comp. to Mr. Ramachandra Aiyar
 to be considered as filling the post
 188. available for the Provincial Service and shown against 1886. This seems the correct view.

If it is considered that the
 lac. form of the revised statement is more correct and that the proposed new column is more useful
 for practical purposes, it is proposed to direct the Ad. Genl. to keep it written up and to supply copies
 monthly to the Private Secretary (for H.E. use), Honorable Members and the Chief Secretary. Its usefulness would be enhanced if
 short statements were added
 showing the number of listed
 posts held, permanently & acting,
 Provincial Service Officers.

Para 2a of Provincial
 Act of 1919
 dated 9/10/1919 N. 50.
 Page 109 file.

The view taken by the Govt. seems to be supported by the Govt. order despatch of 27th May 1922 N. 1535
 issued by him - which says
 down that the 1st class jobs in the 15 listed posts, which be filled by 1st class men only who have been to the 1st class while the 2nd class jobs
 will be filled from the list of 2nd class Collectors. as with the the 2nd class Collectors - the 1st class jobs, & the 2nd class jobs.
 But that there is the meaning
 of the paragraph in the despatch.
 of 29/5/93 N. 746, (now under disposal) to which I refer,
 which runs as follows:
 "The number of posts of 1st class or actual posts is required as a basis for recruitment for the Provincial service which is supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial service generally."
 "Recruitment" has been defined to mean first class
 admission to for employment & recruitment to the Provincial service is by competitive first class selection - ~~but~~ there is no
 "recruitment" for the Provincial service generally from the 1st class service that there is meant by the 1st class "a class of posts"

reserves for the committed appointments
"have found to be 'Provisional'
which are only 15 in number of which number 10 are, or, say one man annually, would probably suffice.

If it does not seem that the one man annually to be recruited (in competition for the Post Office) from his reserve,
what does it mean?

25/5/93 J.A.F.

The Govt. of India in their letter dated Simla May 27/93 - para 7, say:-
"In the case of committed appointments
thrown open to the Provincial Service
no excess of these appointments will be required on account of men in training or of men to fill leave vacancies."
And they then give reasons for this statement. But they then go on to say "whatever excess of officers over actual posts is required as a leave and training reserve for the committed posts appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service
posts."

First they state no excess of appointments
will be required, & then they say how this excess is to be supplied. This certainly appears to be a contradiction - and I would ask them to explain what they mean.

It is to be noted by the Govt. of India that the
year, while recruitment applicants of D.C. are to be competed for "to fill the scheduled posts." The recruitment is to be made

annually recruited for
to fill vacancies in the service. The rule as to admission to the Provincial Service for the first 7 years occurring in the 15 years

D.C. recruits.
The last sentence is only one instance, namely,

It appears there is a contradiction which the first statement is the
that India means that any over the Provincial Service, whether
ordinary posts are to be filled up,
of D.C. in the case of judicial vacancies must be recruited by competition in the case; and if the vacancies are in excess of calculations, that excess is to be provided for

2. With reference to the statement appended to the letter read above, it is observed that the claims of Statutory Civilians who elect to retain their present positions are, under the * orders noted in the margin, to be taken into consideration after those of the last of the Indian Civilians whose covenants bear date previous to their confirmation. The date of confirmation of the Statutory Civilians of this Presidency are as shown below :—

Mr. K. C. Manavedan Raja	..	..	..	..	26th Aug. 1882.
Muhammad Raza Khan	..	..	..	..	30th Nov. "
Mir Shujaat Ali Khan	..	..	..	..	27th Aug. 1884.
T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar	..	..	..	..	27th Jan. 1886.
T. Varada Rao	..	..	..	..	17th Aug. 1887.
P. Rajagopala Chari	..	..	..	..	2nd May 1890.

It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Varada Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr. Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan before those of 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar before those of 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao before those of 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari before those of 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887 and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

3. The statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao. The Government considers that it will also be more convenient if, for the entries in column 5 of the statement forwarded by the Government of India, the progressive column 4 are substituted and if Statutory Civilians who are no longer in the service are omitted.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a table were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. The Accountant-General will be requested to make this addition and to keep the statement corrected to date. He should arrange for its revision monthly and furnish the Superintendent of the Government Press with corrected proofs so as to admit of that officer making the following distribution by the 5th of each month :—

To

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
HOME DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th May 1893, No. 746, Public, regarding the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to the posts transferred from the Civil Service of India and, in reply, to forward copy of the Proceedings of this Government of to-day's date, No. 600, from which it will be seen that it has been considered necessary to make some slight alterations in the statement appended to your letter showing the rate at which these posts will become available.

2. In paragraph 7 of your letter under reply it is stated that

"in the case of covenanted appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service
"no excess of these appointments is required either on account of men in
"training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case,
"the members of that service who will be appointed to such posts will
"already be experienced men who have emerged from the stage of train"ing, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial
"Service"

and a little further on that

"whatever excess of officers over actual posts is required as a leave and train-
"ing reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial
"Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service
"generally."

As there appears to be a contradiction in these two statements, I am to request that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be informed as to the proper construction to be placed on them.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

TO

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

Home Department.

Simla, the 27th May 1893.

SIR,

I AM directed to reply to your letter No. 272, dated 6th April 1893, in which you make certain enquiries with reference to the mode of exhibiting in the Civil Lists the posts to be transferred from the Civil Service of India to the Provincial Civil Service.

2. The Government of India, for the reasons given at length below, do not approve the suggestion of the Accountant-General, Madras, that the claims of one Provincial Service officer or Statutory Civilian to a listed post should be considered after those of each fifth Indian Civilian, irrespective of the year of his appointment, counting from the last officer who arrived in 1881, have been considered or satisfied.

3. The Government of Madras, I am to say, are correct in the view that it is the intention of the Government of India that the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to listed posts is not to be delayed longer than the claims of Indian Civilians recruited in each year after 1879-81 demand. But I am to explain that it was not intended in the fourth head of paragraph 2 of my letter No. 1535, dated the 27th May 1892, to decide that the number of posts available for transfer to the Provincial Service in any year after 1881 should be calculated on the recruitment of Indian Civilians for that year, taken separately. Such a calculation would either remove from the Indian Civil Service more than one-sixth or give to the Provincial Service less than one-sixth of the posts to which recruitment for each year had reference. What was intended was that one-sixth of the posts to be recruited for after 1879-81, taken together, should be available for the Provincial Service (including Statutory Civilians), the claims of the Indian Civilians of each year being satisfied before any of the available posts were actually made over to the Provincial Service.

4. In order to make this quite clear, it will be convenient to sum up briefly the history of the question. As the Governor in Council is aware, a reduction of one-sixth in the recruitment of Indian Civilians in England was commenced in 1879, to make room for the appointment in India of Natives of India to reserved posts under the Statute 33 Vict., Cap. 3, Section 6. It will be in the recollection of His Excellency in Council that the Public Service Commission, in proposing the transfer of certain Scheduled posts to the Provincial Service, recommended that a reservation should be made in favour of Civilians recruited in or before 1870 (appointed to the service in or before 1872), but that Civilians recruited after that year should not have any absolute claim to the transferred posts in preference to members of the Provincial Service. The Commission's recommendation was based on the ground that although Natives of India were not actually recruited in this country till 1879, and the reduction in the recruitment of the Indian Civil Service to make room for them was not actually effected till 1879, the Statute under which their appointment to reserved posts was permitted was passed in 1870. The Government of India and the Secretary of State, however, decided that the line should be drawn below the Civil Service recruited in or before 1879-81 (i.e., before the recruitment for the Civil Service had actually been reduced), who should be regarded as having an absolute claim over members of the Provincial Service to reserved posts (save exceptional circumstances, such as those under which Mr. C. Rama Chandra Aiyar was appointed a District Judge), and that Civilians recruited after 1879-81 should have their claims to the posts listed as open to the Provincial Service considered to the extent of five-sixths of the total number of posts for which recruitment was or might have been made in each year. In other words, the principle adopted was that the claims of Indian Civilians of any year after 1879-81 to the one-sixth of the reserved posts intended for transfer to the Provincial Service ceased to the extent to which recruitment for the Indian Civil Service had actually been reduced in the year in which they were recruited.

5. This, then, is the principle of the scheme. Its practical application doubt involves a system which is somewhat complicated owing to various degrees of prior claims on the part of Indian Civilians, and also of Statutory Civilians appointed before the Provincial Service scheme was instituted. In the introduction of the new arrangements the Governor General in Council must necessarily leave a good deal to the discretion of Local Governments. The statement enclosed with this letter will, however, give the Madras Government a general idea of the time after which, and the extent to which, the claims of Indian Civilians in the Madras Presidency appointed after 1879-81 will cease to one-sixth of the posts which has been removed from the scale of recruitment to the Indian Civil Service. Altogether fifteen reserved posts have been listed open to the Madras Provincial Civil Service. A reference to the statement will show that all these fifteen posts may be permanently appropriated to the Provincial Service when the claims of the Civilians of 1896 (or possibly of 1897) have been exhausted. Six superior posts—viz., two headships of districts and four District Judgeships—have been listed; the claims of Civilians recruited down to 1888 must be exhausted before all these become available for members of the Provincial Service, save in cases of exceptional appointments, such as that held by Mr. Rama Chandra Aiyar.

6. It will be observed that the enclosed statement differs from that given in paragraph 4 of your letter. It has been thought convenient to show Statutory Civilians who elect to remain in their present position in a separate column, and their relative position for promotion as compared with Indian Civilians is governed by different considerations from those applicable to the case of Provincial Service men [vide paragraph 6 (1) of Home Department letter No. 2194, dated 11 November 1892 and the previous orders cited therein]. This, however, is merely a difference of detail.

7. The important differences are (1) that the one-sixth of the posts which will become available for transfer to the Provincial Service has been calculated on the recruitment after 1879-81, taken as a whole, fractions being carried down from year to year; and (2) that the rate at which the listed posts made over to the Provincial Service has been calculated not on the total number of Civilians recruited in each year, but on the number of actual or sanctioned posts to fill which they were recruited. The total strength of the Civil Service, as the Madras Government are aware, is made up of (1) officers to fill actual posts—27.39 per cent. on the number of actual posts, and (3) junior officers who are merely in training—10.58 per cent. on the number of actual posts. The excess under heads (2) and (3) amounts to nearly 38 per cent. calculated on the number of actual posts, and 27.5 per

on the total strength of the service. The recruitment of Statutory Civilians was regulated with reference to the total recruitment of Indian Civilians because their body, like that of the Indian Civil Service, included the leave reserve and an allowance for officers in training. But in the case of covenanted appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service no excess of these appointments is required. Neither on account of men in training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case, the members of that service who will be appointed to such posts will already be experienced men who have emerged from the stage of training, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial Service. Suppose, for instance, that after the two district headships and four Judgeships have been made over to the Provincial Service, all six officers holding these posts go on leave; the Local Government will be able to appoint six other members of the Provincial Service to act in their absence. Whatever excess of officers over actual posts is required as a leave and training reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service generally. The number of listed posts that will become available for the Provincial Service in each year should therefore, in the opinion of the Government of India, be calculated, not on the total number of Indian Civilians annually recruited, but on the number of actual posts to fill which they were recruited,—i.e., on the total recruitment minus the 27.5 per cent. ($\frac{38}{138}$ ths) representing the leave and training reserve.

8. I am to say, in conclusion, that the Government of India do not think it advisable to show in the Civil List the rate at which it is estimated that the listed posts will become permanently or temporarily available for the Provincial Service, as this would unnecessarily tie the hands of the Local Government in case any change of system or rearrangement of details were found desirable in the future. It is better that the particulars should merely be kept on record in the Secretariat and the Accounts office for the information and guidance of the Madras Government and the Accountant-General.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

Secretary to the Government of India.

2. With reference to the statement appended to the letter read above, it is observed that the claims of Statutory Civilians who elect to retain their present positions are, under the * orders noted in the margin, to be taken into consideration after those of the last of the Indian Civilians whose covenants bear date previous to their confirmation. The date of confirmation of the Statutory Civilians of this Presidency are as shown below:—

Mr. K. C. Manavedan Raja	..	..	..	..	26th Aug. 1882
Muhammad Raza Khan	..	..	..	..	30th Nov. "
Mir Shujaat Ali Khan	..	..	..	..	27th Aug. 1884.
T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar	..	..	..	..	27th Jan. 1886.
T. Varada Rao	..	..	..	..	17th Aug. 1887.
P. Rajagopala Chari	..	..	..	..	2nd May 1890.

It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Varada Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr. Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao, 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari, 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887, and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

3. The Government considers that it will also be more convenient if, for the entries in column 5 of the statement forwarded by the Government of India, the progressive totals of column 4 are substituted and if Statutory Civilians who are no longer in the service are omitted.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a tabe were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. The Accountant-General will be requested to make this addition and to keep the statement corrected to date. He should arrange for its revision monthly and furnish the Superintendent of the Government Press with corrected proofs so as to admit of that officer making the following distribution by the 5th of each month:—

Paragraph 6 of Home Department letter, dated 27th May 1892, No. 1535 (G.O., dated 16th December 1892, No. 875.)
Paragraph 6 (1) of Home Department letter, dated 1st November 1892, No. 219 (G.O., dated 16th December 1892, No. 877.)

appended to the letter read above, it is observed that the claims of Statutory Civilians who elect to retain their present positions are, under the * orders noted in the margin, to be taken into consideration over those of the last of the Indian Civilians whose covenants bear date previous to their confirmation. The date of confirmation of the Statutory Civilians of this Presidency are as shown below :-

Mr. K. C. Manavedan Raja	..	..	..	26th Aug. 1882
Muhammad Raza Khan	..	..	..	30th Nov. "
Mir Shujaat Ali Khan	..	..	..	27th Aug. 1884.
T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar	..	..	..	27th Jan. 1886.
T. Varada Rao	..	..	..	17th Aug. 1887.
P. Rajagopala Chari	..	..	..	2nd May 1890.

It will be seen by reference to the Civil List that the date of Mr. Manavedan Raja's confirmation is earlier than that of the covenant of any of the Indian Civilians who arrived in the year 1882 and that the same remark applies to Messrs. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, T. Vanda Rao and P. Rajagopala Chari with reference to the Indian Civilians of 1884, 1886, 1887 and 1890, respectively. These Statutory Civilians should therefore be shown in column 6 of the statement before the Indian Civilians of the years mentioned, Mr Manavedan Raja being shown before the Indian Civilians of 1882; Mr. Mir Shujaat Ali Khan, 1884, i.e., against those of 1883; Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar, 1886, i.e., against those of 1885; Mr. T. Varada Rao, 1887, i.e., against those of 1886; Mr. P. Rajagopala Chari, 1890, i.e., against those of 1889.

Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar was confirmed on the 26th March 1887, and, though he belongs to the Provincial Service, his name should be shown as in the Government of India statement immediately above that of Mr. Varada Rao.

3. The Government considers that it will also be more convenient if, for the entries in column 5 of the statement forwarded by the Government of India, the progressive totals of column 4 are substituted and if Statutory Civilians who are no longer in the service are omitted.

4. The statement, as thus revised, is printed as an appendix to these Proceedings. Its usefulness would be enhanced if a table were added showing the number and classes of listed posts and the number of these held, permanently and acting, by officers of the Provincial Service. The Accountant-General will be requested to make this addition and to keep the statement corrected to date. He should arrange for its revision monthly and furnish the Superintendent of the Government Press with corrected proofs so as to admit of that officer making the following distribution by the 5th of each month :-

Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor	..	..	2 copies.
Honorable Members of Government	..	..	1 copy each.
Chief Secretary	..	..	4 copies.

FORT ST. GEORGE,

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,

am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 29th May 1893, Public, regarding the appointment of members of the Provincial Service to be transferred from the Civil Service of India and, in reply, to forward copy of proceedings of this Government of to-day's date, No. 602, from which it will be seen that it has been considered necessary to make some slight alterations in the statement appended to your letter showing the rate at which these posts will become vacant.

In paragraph 7 of your letter under reply it is stated that "in the case of vacant appointments thrown open to the Provincial Service no excess of these appointments is required either on account of men in training or of men to fill leave vacancies, as, from the nature of the case, the members of that service who will be attached to such posts will already be experienced men who have emerged from the training, and leave vacancies will be filled by other members of the Provincial Service," and a little further on that, "whatever excess of officers over actual posts required as a leave and training reserve for the covenanted appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by extra recruitment for the Provincial Service generally." As there appears to be a contradiction in these two statements, I request that His Excellency the Governor in Council may be informed as to proper construction to be placed on them.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Chief Secretary.

OTACAMUND,

2. The rule governing the promotion of a Statutory Civilian who
elects to retain his present position
is that his claims to advancement
must be taken into

Indian Civilian whose covenant
bears date previous to his confirmation (vide para 4 of Indian's letter on page

Civilian ^{who arrived in} of that year. This, however,
is a minor point and does not
affect the calculations.

of the G. of I. table the progressive
total of column 4 has been entered. & Statisticians who have left the service
have been omitted in the revised
table.

5 The revised statement presents
one point of difficulty. It will be seen
that after the claims of Indian Civilian
who arrived in 1886 have been
exhausted, 3, 7, i.e. 4, posts are
available for the Statutory & Post Services. Column 8 shows that these 4 posts must in ordinary course
be given to Statisticians. After the 1887 Indian Civilian have been provided for, there are 6 posts for
the local services, but Mr. Varada Rao, whose claims have ordinarily
to be considered before those of the 1887 Civilian, takes up this 5th

Mr. Mr. Mungat Ali, having been confirmed on the 27. August 1884,
should be shown against the year 1885 as he takes precedence of the Indian Civilian who arrived in 1884.
This will necessitate the 1 appt shown
against 1884 in column 8 being
placed against 1885.

(14) Mr. T. M. Swaminatha Aiyar
was confirmed on the 27. January 1886 and takes precedence of the Civilian who arrived in that year.
His name should be shown against
the year 1886 and the one appt. in
column 8 should be placed against 1886
should be placed against 1885.

(15) Mr. C. Ramachandra Aiyar &
Mr. J. Varada Rao, having been confirmed
on the 26. March & 17. August 1887
should similarly be shown against
the year 1886, and Mr. R. Rajagopal Rao having been confirmed on the
22. May 1890 should be shown before the Indian Civilian who arrived in
that year.

The statement as thus corrected
would be as shown in the accompanying table, where ^{the entries in} column 5

comp. to Mr. Ramachandra Aiyar
 to be considered as filling the post
 188. available for the Provincial Service
 and shown against 1886. This seems
 the correct view.

If it is considered that the
 lac. form of the revised statement is
 more correct and that the proposed
 new column is more useful
 for practical purposes, it is proposed
 to direct the Ad. Genl. to keep
 it written up and to supply copies
 monthly to the Private Secretary
 (for H.E. use), Honorable Members
 and the Chief Secretary. Its usefulness would be enhanced if
 short statements were added
 showing the number of listed
 posts held, permanently & acting,
 Provincial Service Officers.

Para 2a of Provincial
 Act of 1919
 dated 9/10/1919 N. 50.
 Page 109 file.

The view taken by the Govt. seems to be supported
 by the Govt. order despatch of 27 May 1922 N. 1535
 issued by him - which says
 down that the 1st Dis. is in the 15 listed posts, which is filled by Dis. himself who have been to the Subordinate while the 2 Collectors
 will be filled from the list of D. Collectors. as with the the 2 D. Collectors - the to these posts, & the 1st Cl. is post.
 But that there is the meaning
 of the paragraph in the despatch.
 of 29/5/93 N. 746 (now under
 disposal) to which I refer,
 which may be followed;
 "The term 'class of officers'
 'one actual posts is 'required as a term standing
 'room for the conventional 'app. transferred to the Post
 'service which is supplied by
 'extra recruitment for the
 'Post service generally"
 'Recruitment' has been
 defined to mean first-class
 admission to for employment & recruitment to the Post service
 is by competitive first-class
 selection - ~~that~~ there is no
 'recruitment' for the Post service generally from the Post service
 that there is meant by the 4th para "a term standing

reserves for the committed appointments
"have found to be 'Provisional'
which are only 15 in number of which some are in the office, or, say one man annually, would probably
suffice.

If it does not seem that the
one man annually to be
recruited (in competition for the Post Office) from his reserve,
what does it mean?

25/5/93

J.A.F.

The Govt. of India in their letter dated
Simla May 27/93 - para 7, say:-
"In the case of committed appointments
thrown open to the Provincial Service
no excess of these appointments will
be required on account of men in
training or of men to fill leave vacancies."
And they then give reasons for this statement. But they then go on to say "whatever excess of officers over
actual posts is required as a leave and
training reserve for the committed
posts appointments transferred to the Provincial Service will be supplied by
extra recruitment for the Provincial Service
posts."

First they state no excess of appointments
will be required, & then they say how this
excess is to be supplied. This certainly
appears to be a contradiction - and I would ask them to explain what
they mean.

10 July

It is to be noted by the Govt. of India that the
year, while recruitment
applicants of D.C. are to be
competed for "to fill the scheduled posts." The recruitment is to be made of the list of D.C. by listed one) one extra man annually recruited for
to fill vacancies in the service. The rule as to recruitment of the Provincial Service for the year 1900 occurring in the 1900 are to be filled up from D.C. recruits.
The Govt. of India say recruitment if it has been at the end of the year
recruitment for the Provincial D.C. will be appointed appointing 2/3 of the number recruits required by the the remaining 1/3 for
for the Provincial Service recruitment to be made from the Provincial Service recruitment.

22/5/93

It appears there is a contradiction which the first statement is that
that India means that any over
the Provincial Service, whether
ordinary posts are to be filled up,
of D.C. in the case of judicial vacancies
must be recruited by competition in the case one; and if the vacancies are in excess of calculations, that excess is to be provided for
from the Provincial Service posts. For instance - as to

for the Provincial Service

recruitment in the case of D.C.
Rule II of the Provincial Service

With reference to the Hon'ble Mr. Ganshin's note of the 25th instant, it is submitted that the intention of the Govt. of India is that the listed executive posts should, after the claims of Statutory and Ex. Statutory have been exhausted, be filled by selection from the upper grades of Dy. Collectors and that the places of Dy. Collos so promoted should be filled, as they now are, by appls. in the Dy. Collos list. The extra men that this arrangement will be supplied by the general
recruitment for the Provincial Service, which is that given in para 3 of India's letter on page 140 of the file and is alluded to in para 10 of I.
letter on page 113 of the file as "the extra recruitment....."
"corresponding to the recruitment for the Statutory Service, which "will be discontinued". The Deputy Collectors so recruited will go in at the bottom of the list
