To J. W. F. Dumergue Esquire

Sir,

With reference to your letter No 228 dated the 12th April 1893, I have the honor to state that the time admissible to you to join the office of District Judge, Madura, from Trichur, where you ceased to do special duty, is only 10 days exclusive of Sundays not actually in travelling. As you ceased to do special duty on the afternoon of the 17th December 1892 and took charge of the District Court at Madura on the forenoon of 9th January 1893, you overstayed your joining time by 10 days if you did not travel on Sundays the 18th and 25th December 1892, otherwise by 12 days. You are therefore not entitled to any allowance for the above period unless you obtain the sanction of Government to extend your joining time up to 8th January 1893 inclusive.

D. J. Madura (2) In the circumstances the Govt. is pleased to extend Mr.
Dumergue's joining time up to the 8th January 1893 inclusive.

Mr Telegram of 16. 12. 92, No. 707 said that Mr. Dumergue's joining time would be extended if necessary i.e. if necessary with reference to his departure. Mr. Wei handed over at Madras on the 2nd January.
Dumergue joined on the 7th Jan. It was necessary to extend his joining time.

Memo of 23.5.93, No 921

In telegram No. 707 of 16th Dec.
1892, quoted by Mr. Dumergue in para 1 of his letter read above, he was informed that Mr. Wei's furlough commenced on the 2nd January and that his (Mr. Dumergue's) joining time would be extended if necessary - i.e. if necessary with reference to the date of Mr. Wei's departure on leave. Mr. Wei handed over charge of the Madras Court on the 3rd January 1893, and it is not understood why Mr. Dumergue did not assume charge on that day date instead of on the 9th idem.

The Govt. is not prepared to extend Mr. Dumergue joining time beyond the 2nd January 1893 without further cause being shown.

CURRENT NO 2071

From J. W. F. Dumerque Esquire
District Judge

To The Honourable J. F. Price
Chief Secretary to Government
Madras

Honourable Sir,
With reference to the Government memorandum, dated May 1893, No 921, I have the honor to state that although I was ready and willing to be at Madura in order to take charge from Mr Weir on the forenoon of the 3rd January the arrangement would not have suited Mr Weir who wished to make over charge in the afternoon of the 2nd Idem, and I was happily to return with him in the train on the way to Madras. Hence, I waited in Madras in order to see Mr Weir on rs connected with the Court and on the understanding that, as it was holiday time, my assumption of Charge on the first working day would have the same effect as assumption on the 3rd January.

2. Mr. Weir arrived in Madras on the morning of the 3rd and I left in the evening, halted one day at Trichinopoly to pack and despatch my things, left Trichinopoly on the 5th and was again ready to take charge on the forenoon of the 6th, but the Sub Judge to whom Mr. Weir had given charge on the afternoon of the 2nd was not in ^{the} town.

3. So far from being any advantage to me, the delay in taking charge of this Court with a heavy session in prospect positively caused me inconvenience which I would gladly have escaped. I respectfully venture to hope that under these circumstances my explanation will be adequate and that my joining time may be extended to the 9th January, in accordance with Article 254 of the Civil Service Regulations, an extension up to the 9th January is ruled to be sufficient.

I have the honour to be,

Honourable Sir,
