Mr. T. TRANFIELD.

Assistant Apothecary Mr. THOMAS TRANFIELD. He served under me for now close on three years, and I found him a most steady and attentive man, very intelligent in his professional attainments and kind to the patients.

I look on Mr. TRANFIELD as a most promising Subordinate Medical Officer and one whom I have great confidence in.

ALLAHABAD, }
17th March 1872.

(Sd.) E. L. HIFFERNAN,
Surgeon, H. M's 2-19th Foot.

Having been in medical charge of the 2-19th Regiment for a period exceeding three months, I have had many opportunities of observing the diligence and zeal displayed by Mr. THOMAS TRANFIELD, Assistant Apothecary, in the performance of his duty especially in the Female Hospital where he was chiefly employed.

I found him invariably present whenever I required him, and I particularly remarked the kind and attentive manner in which he conducted himself towards the poor women struck with cholera during the month of April last.

The disinfecting of quarters and other Sanitary measures at the time were effectively carried out under his supervision. It gives me pleasure to record in the shape of a Testimonial the good opinion I have formed of this Medical Subordinate, and I have little doubt but that his merits will be equally appreciated by my successor.

ALLAHABAD, }
6th October 1872.

(Sd.) T. B. P. O'BRIEN,
Surgeon, R. A.

Assistant Apothecary TRANFIELD did duty in the Hospital of the 2-19th Regiment during the seven months that I was in medical charge of it in 1872. I always considered him an intelligent and trustworthy Subordinate, and his services were very valuable in the epidemic of cholera which broke out that year in the Regiment.

ALLAHABAD, }
6th April 1875.

(Sd.) WM. ASHTON, M.D.,
Surgeon-Major.

Assistant Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD has done duty in the 2nd Battalion 19th Regiment for the last four years, during which he has performed the various duties devolving upon him in a most exemplary manner.

During the epidemic of cholera that visited Allahabad in 1872, he was particularly active and zealous, and his services on that occasion rendered to the Regiment was specially brought to the notice of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, when Mr. TRANFIELD and others received the thanks of Lord Napier, G. C. B.

I am happy to have it in my power to bear testimony to Mr. TRANFIELD's regular and good conduct during the time that I have been in medical charge of the Regiment.

During the time that I have been in medical charge of H. M's 2nd Battalion 19th Regiment, I can testify to the exemplary character of Assistant Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD and also to the very satisfactory manner in which he has performed his duties.

BAREILLY, }
28th Jany. 1875. }

(Sd.) MELVILLE JONES,

Surgeon-Major.

First-class Assistant Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD has been with the Battalion for six years and three months at Calcutta, Allahabad, Bareilly and Ranikhet. The careful and zealous manner in which he has performed his duties has, on several occasions, been brought to my notice by Dr. Hiffernan, Dr. Jones, Dr. O'Brien, Dr. Manifold and Dr. Ashton, the Officers at different times in medical charge of the Battalion.

I can personally testify to his activity and zeal during the epidemic of cholera in 1872 at Allahabad, on which occasion his services were brought by me to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief in India when Lord Napier of Magdala directed that his thanks should be conveyed to Mr. TRANFIELD and others.

CAMP MORADABAD, }
2nd December 1876. }

(Sd.) EDWARD CHIPPINDALL,

Colonel, Commanding 2-19th (P. W. O.) Regt.

Assistant Apothecary Mr. TRANFIELD served in the hospital 2-19th (P. W. O.) Regiment for six years and three months, and for the last three months, as acting Apothecary, and has had the winding up of all the Indian affairs of his Department, and the making over of all medicines, stores and medical appliances all which duties he has performed in the most efficient manner and entirely to my satisfaction.

During his long service in my Hospital, Mr. TRANFIELD's conduct and character has been most exemplary; there has never been the most trivial complaint against him and his general attention, kindness to the patients and zeal in his performance of duty has gained for him the regard and esteem of all ranks of the Battalion.

He has, at all times, performed his duties with diligence, attention and efficiency, and entirely to my satisfaction, and I consider his knowledge of his professional duties far above the average of his rank.

He is one of the most promising Medical Subordinate Officer I have known during an experience of over fifteen years in this country.

J. WALLACE,

*SURGEON-MAJOR IN MEDICAL CHARGE,
Her Majesty's 1-12th Regt.*

First-Class Assistant Apothecary T. TRANFIELD did duty in the Hospital of the 1st Battalion 12th Regiment from March '77 to August 31st '77.

During that time he was most zealous in the discharge of the different duties devolving on him, all of which he performed to my entire satisfaction.

Mr. TRANFIELD is quiet, very steady and painstaking, devoting all his energy to whatever he may be called on to do.

He is possessed of more than ordinary ability and is invaluable in serious cases, requiring long continued attention.

I found him of the greatest possible assistance to me during the summer of 1887 and shall be only too glad if he return to do duty with the 1st Battalion 12th Regiment.

AMBALLA, }
20th Decr. 1877. }

Surgeon-Major, 1-12th Regt.

This is to certify that Mr. T. TRANFIELD, First-class Assistant Apothecary, has been in medical charge of the Goodiathum Relief Camp since October 1877. He has, during that time, had no one to assist him (though the sick under his medical care averaged daily 193'79) and for the first part of his tenure had a great many difficulties to contend with in the shape of running short of medicines, &c.

I have every reason to thank Mr. TRANFIELD for his conduct to the sick in camp and for the conscientious and willing way he has done his work while under my orders.

Lieut., 2-1st B. I. Special Relief Officer.

Extract from a Communication from Mr. H. W. Bliss, Madras Civil Service.

I wish to place on record my appreciation of the services * * * and of Mr. T. TRANFIELD, First-class Assistant Apothecary, Bengal Medical Department, who has been in medical charge since the beginning of October last.

* * * In all sanitary matters * * * has, of course, been assisted and guided by Mr. TRANFIELD who has also worked very hard in his Hospital, with (so far as I am qualified to judge) a very good measure of success. The death-rate has, of course, been very high as it has been in all the Famine Relief Camps, and as was inevitable considering the terribly emaciated and diseased state in which his patients, as a rule, came to his hands. Many have been brought in, in a dying and quite hopeless state. Many presented forms of disease of very unusual and repulsive natures, but whatever might be the state of the patient, however hopeless it might appear, Mr. TRANFIELD's kindness and care have been exemplary, and I believe his success, medically speaking, is as great as could have been achieved by any Medical Officer.

I trust that this testimony to Mr. TRANFIELD's conscientious and most kind and humane discharge of very arduous and anxious duties may be of benefit to him with his departmental superiors.

K. McLEOD, M.D.,

Secretary to the Surgeon-General, Bengal Indian Medical Department.

Mr. Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD has been employed on medical duty in connection with the Famine in the North Arcot District for the last 8 months, during which he has had medical charge of the Relief Camp at Gudiathum where he has done excellent service. He has been indefatigable in the discharge of his duties. He was most kind and attentive to the patients in Hospital displaying such skill in their treatment as possessed only by medical men of great experience, and has continued to give complete satisfaction to the various Officers in charge of Relief operations in the Gudiathum Taluk under whom he worked more immediately.

I much regret that owing to repeated attacks of fever contracted at Gudiathum, his health has now broken down so completely that he is obliged to return to his own Presidency.

before the Famine operations in this District are brought to a close, and shall be glad to hear that his good services in the Madras Presidency have been favorably recognised by the Officers at the head of the Bengal Medical Department.

CHITTOOR,
16th May 1878.

(Sd.) W. S. WHITESIDE,
Collector and Magistrate, North Arcot.

I have much pleasure in stating that First-class Assistant Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD was in sub-medical charge of the Royal Artillery Hospital at Cawnpore during the year 1881, and that I always found him to be hardworking and painstaking in the discharge of his duties; he has a good knowledge of his profession and was always very kind and considerate to the patients under his care. When attending many accouchments which occurred during the year MR. TRANFIELD showed himself to be well up in Midwifery. He is quite reliable and I am sure will do justice to any appointment to which the Deputy-Surgeon or Surgeon-General may please to entrust him with.

CAWNPORE,
4th Jan'y. 1882.

(Sd.) G. C. IRVING,
Surgeon-Major, A. M. D.

MR. THOMAS TRANFIELD served with me as the Apothecary in medical sub-charge of the O-5 Royal Artillery at Cawnpore, and on the march from Cawnpore to Peshawur. I always found him most attentive and zealous in the execution of his duties and extremely willing in carrying out all instructions given to him. I consider him a most efficient and intelligent Officer, and one in whom complete reliance may be placed.

Parting with him now, on his being ordered for duty at Cawnpore, I sincerely wish him every success, and most strongly recommend him for favorable consideration from the Medical Officers under whom he may serve.

PESHAWUR,
4th Feby. 1881.

(Sd.) A. KNIGHT PRESCOTT,
Surgeon-Major, A. M. D.

First-class Assistant Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD has served under me for eight months in sub-medical charge of the Fort Station Hospital. He is a very good and hardworking Subordinate, well up in all his work, and especially clever with children's diseases. All his returns are carefully prepared, and I never have had any reason to find fault with him.

He is very steady and bears a most excellent character, and it gives me much pleasure to be able to give this certificate.

ALLAHABAD,
29th March 1883.

(Sd.) J. L. PEYTON, M.B.,
Surgeon, A. M. D., In Mdl. charge, Fort Stn. Hptl.

It is to me the greatest pleasure in fact I consider a duty to testify to the real worth of Second-class Apothecary THOMAS TRANFIELD. He is a man most attentive and considerate in all his movements with abilities capable of affording the Medical Officer with whom he may serve invaluable services. During his period of service at this Hospital under me, I have placed the utmost confidence in him and he has acquitted himself to my entire satisfaction and to the credit of the department, and many have been the praises expressed of his conduct both by Officers and men.

His promotion necessitates his removal from this Hospital, but it is with great regret I part with him.

ALLAHABAD,
8th October 1883.
