would have entitled him to a second class, if his examination had been held under the new rules. His contention, however, quite untenable, in as much as, since 1892, the number of papers in English has been increased from three to four, the distribution of marks has been changed and the total number of marks has also been increased, so that it is not possible to make an accurate comparison between the results of the examinations. The notification seems clear enough, and does not appear to have been intended that persons having marks similar to those of V. K. Krishna Aiyar should be admitted for the examination. The expression "English Language Division" in Article 3 of the notification should, I think, be interpreted to mean "Language Branch Division", so far as the B. A. degree examinations held prior to 1892 are concerned, and I am, therefore, of opinion that V. K. Krishna Aiyar's petition should therefore be rejected.

SIR,

I have the honour to return Government Order

No. 1293, dated 25th ult., with the following remarks.

(2) 2. Under Article 3 of the Notification, dated 9th March,

V. Krishna Aiyar is not eligible for admission to the Provincial Civil Service Examination, as he has not passed both the English Language and Science Divisions of the B. A. Degree Examination, in the second class. When V. K. Krishna Aiyar appeared for the B. A. degree Examination, there were only two divisions—the Language Branch Division (English and another language) and the Optional Branch Division; but the present B. A. degree Examination has three divisions—English Language Division, Second Language Division and Science Division. V. K. Krishna Aiyar's contention is that he is eligible for admission to the examination, as the marks he obtained in English in his degree Examination were such
