RESOLUTION.

In paragraph 2 of the Circular dated the 16th June 1893, the attention of Local Governments and Administrations was invited to the form of statement recommended by the Army Sanitary Commission for bringing together the local facts regarding the principal diseases of India.

The data which the Commission consider necessary to be shown for each locality are:—

Total population.	Deaths from dysentery and diarrhoea per 1,000 of population.
Male population.	Deaths from injuries per 1,000 of popu- lation.
Female population.	Deaths from all other causes per 1,000 of population.
Number of births during year.	Deaths from all causes per 1,000 of population.
Birth-rate per 1,000 of population.	Sanitary defects.
Number of deaths during year.	Measures taken for improvement.
Deaths from cholera per 1,000 of popu- lation.
Deaths from small-pox per 1,000 of population.
Deaths from fever per 1,000 of popula- tion.

It seemed to the Governor General in Council that as the existing annual Form No. II contained a number of these data it would be convenient to enlarge that form so as to include them all. A revised Form No. II was accordingly circulated for the opinion of Local Governments and Administrations, and suggestions were invited as to the abolition or alteration of annual Form B, which also contains several of the data set out above.

2. The revised annual Form No. II has been generally accepted by all Local Governments and Administrations, except those of Bombay, the Punjab and Burma. The objections raised relate to the inclusion of columns to show the principal sanitary defects of each town and rural circle and the measures taken for their improvement; it is urged that such details will involve the inclusion of much unnecessary matter. The Army Sanitary Commission have, however, on various occasions insisted on the necessity of furnishing information upon these points for each locality, and the Government of India accepting these views prescribed, in the circular letter dated the 24th February 1892, annual Form B, which was intended to exhibit this information as regards local units; that form was generally accepted by Local Governments and Administrations, including those by which objections are now raised. The Governor General in Council is aware that in rural circles there will necessarily be much monotony in the entries at first, but it seems to His Excellency in Council that the exhibition of the sanitary phenomena separately for each circle is likely to lead to enquiry and discrimination later on in the circumstances of each.

3. Concerning annual Form B the Governments of Madras, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Chief Commissioner of Assam and the Resident of Hyderabad suggest its abolition if a few additions are made in revised Form No. II. The required additions are: (1) the sub-division of the column for the principal sanitary defects of the circle into (a) in drainage; (b) in water-supply; and (c) in conservancy; and (2) the addition of columns to show the receipts from, and the expenditure on, conservancy. The Governor General in Council accepts these suggestions. Several authorities have suggested that Form B should be retained for Municipalities only, but this would be superfluous, as with the additions adopted in Form No. II all the information now shewn in Form B will be given for each town as well as each rural circle. To distinguish the town circles which are Municipalities a foot-note will be added to revised Form No. II directing that such town circles should be marked with asterisks.

4. It has been further suggested by some of the authorities consulted that annual Form No. VI might be abolished if some of the columns in it were included in revised Form No. II. The Governor General in Council has, however, not been able to accept this proposal, as although several of the columns of Form No. VI, which applies to whole districts and towns only, are similar to those of Form No. II, there are other columns containing information which it is not considered necessary to show for each registration circle. To add these to Form No. II would, moreover, most inconveniently increase the bulkiness of that Form.

5. For the reasons given above the Governor General in Council has decided that annual Form No. II be amended as in the form attached hereto, and that annual Form B, prescribed in Home Department Circular No. 35-44 (Sanitary), dated the 24th February 1892, be abolished. These alterations should be observed in the Sanitary Reports for the current year.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Also that a copy be forwarded to the ^{Military Department} ~~Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India~~ for information, in continuation of Home Department endorsement, No. 104, dated 28th June 1893, and to the Foreign Department for information.
