From

SURGEON-MAJOR-GENERAL C. SIBTHORPE,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras,

To

THE HON. THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to submit to the Right Honorable the Governor in Council the Annual Statistics of the Civil Hospitals and Dispensaries for the year 1893, with brief notes thereon as required by G.O., No. 1455, of 12th July 1886, Public Department.

2. Number of Hospitals and Dispensaries.—The number of institutions at work at the end of the year was 453 against 443 in the preceding year, with a very slight increase in the ratio of dispensaries per mille of population. Appendix, I, gives full particulars as to the classification of the above institutions ~~with the~~ with the number opened or closed during the year and the extent of hospital provision in reference to the general population of each district.

It will be observed from this statement that the provision still continues insufficient in the North Arcot district. In Coimbatore and Malabar increased provision was made during 1893.

3. Accommodation.—These institutions provide for a total accommodation of 3,088 beds (males 1,826 and females 1,262) against 2,985 in 1892.

4. Statistics of Patients.—The total number of in- and out- patients treated at the various hospitals and dispensaries during the year under report and in the two preceding years, with the average daily attendance for those periods, are given in the annexed statement:—

					Total treated.	Average daily attendance.
1891	..	..	..	..	2,743,419	19,312.04
1892	..	..	..	..	3,106,386	21,271.22
1893	..	..	..	..	3,330,970	22,346.58

It is apparent from the above table that there has been a continuous and satisfactory increase both in the number treated and the daily average sick during the last three years. This increase would have been still greater had it not been for the falling off in the marginally-noted districts for reasons stated below:—

- (1) Nilgiris.
- (2) South Arcot.
- (3) Chingleput.
- (4) Trichinopoly.

In the Nilgiris the public health during the year was good and the amount of sickness and mortality comparatively less, notwithstanding the prevalence of small-pox in a mild epidemic form in Gúdálúr and Devalá. In Chingleput and South Arcot the decrement was due to the better health enjoyed by the people during the greater part of the year and to the less prevalence of ophthalmia than in the last year. In Trichinopoly, although cholera raged very severely, the people avoided, as much as possible, seeking relief in public hospitals partially for fear of infection, but principally because such hospitals have never been properly organized for the treatment of such cases and the poor have little or no confidence in them.

REPORT ON THE ANNUAL RETURNS

Of the above aggregate 39,579 or 1.19 per cent. of the total treated were in- and 3,291,391 out-patients. Compared with last year the in-patients showed a slight falling off. Of the out-patients 483,455 were represented by friends and relatives.

On an average 1,677 people in round numbers were afforded in-door relief per day in the various hospitals in the districts and consisted of men 1,078, women 496 and children 103. The out-patients who sought medical relief averaged 20,669.83 per day (men 10,343.13, women 4,338.34, and children 5,938.36), against 19,487.32 in 1892.

5. General Results.—Of the in-patients 24,622 are returned as having recovered fully under treatment; the number returned as 'relieved' or 'discharged otherwise' was 6,435 and 4,138, respectively. The total mortality registered during the year was 3,041, or 7.69 per cent. of the total treated, showing a decrease as compared with 9.35, the death-rate in the preceding year.

6. Diseases treated.—Appendix III to the report details the various diseases which came under treatment during the year. The largest number of admission was for ulcers, of which there were 369,261 cases, next to it in the order of frequency were skin diseases, which contributed 363,047 cases. For eye diseases there were 324,587 admissions; 12.6 per cent. of this total was from Madura district as a whole. According to the hospital statistics malarial fevers were more common in 1893 and most prevalent in the Cuddapah and Kurnool districts. In Tinnevely and Malabar syphilitic affections (primary and secondary) seem to have prevailed largely. Under small-pox and cholera the admissions were not so great as in last year, the numbers being 512 and 7,103 against 1,119 and 13,493, respectively, in 1892.

7. Operations.—The progress made during the year in this important branch of medical treatment is satisfactory. Both the major and minor operations showed an increase over last year. Of the major operations 1,473 were performed by Medical officers (Commissioned officers 1,056 and Assistant Surgeons 417) and 4,094 by subordinates.

The abstract below gives the number under each with their results:—

	Major.			Minor.
	Total.	Cured or relieved.	Died.
1892	4,391	4,014	179	108,149
1893	5,567	5,113	168	118,314

The results are favorable, and, although there had not been a marked increase in the percentage of cases cured or relieved, the death-rate was low and satisfactory. As in last year the obstetric operations furnished the largest number of deaths.

The annexed table shows the number of major operations performed by Medical officers during the year as required by G.O., No. 848, of 14th October 1893:—

8. Sexes of Patients.—The table below compares the sexes of patients. The figures are very much in the same proportion as in last year:—

	Men.	Women.	Children.	Total.
1892	1,527,504	635,732	943,150	3,106,386
1893	1,642,383	682,912	1,005,675	3,330,970

9. Nationalities.—The statistics of the European and Eurasian classes show a falling off as compared with last year. Under Muhammadans the increase was very large, nearly 15 per cent. of the total treated was of this class being greatly in excess of their relative proportion to the total population.

10. Finance.—The financial statements are three in number and treat separately of 'Income,' 'Expenditure' and 'Invested capital.'

The following abstract compares the several sources of income and the amounts realized under each:—

	1892.			1893.
	RS.	A.	P.	RS.	A.	P.
From Government	84,789	6	8	84,453	7	10
From Local and Municipal Funds	7,42,525	0	3	7,45,738	3	6
From interest on investments	14,981	12	9	17,457	13	6
From sale of securities, &c.	13,369	8	4	9,193	5	1
From subscriptions	24,113	14	6	19,698	14	3
From recoveries from paying patients	1,194	10	11	820	3	11
From sale of medicines	6,778	12	8	7,539	14	7
From miscellaneous receipts	3,430	0	1	4,518	4	9
Total	8,91,183	2	2	8,89,420	3	5

The table does not present any abnormal variations between the two years, except under three minor items. On the whole the institutions appear to have been worked more economically during the year under report.

The Provincial contribution for the year amounted to Rs. 84,453-7-10 or very much in the same proportion as in last year, viz., 9.5 per cent. of the total outlay.

The slight increase under Municipal and Local Fund receipts is explained by the increased number of institutions at work this year compared with last year.

The amount of funded capital sold or withdrawn showed a satisfactory decrease, while the interest accrued or realized was comparatively great. In Malabar, securities were sold to the extent of Rs. 2,500, and in Vizagapatam deposits withdrawn to the extent of Rs. 6,693-5-1, or in all Rs. 9,193-5-1 against Rs. 13,369-8-4 in 1892.

Subscriptions.—The amount realized under this head was less than in last year. It does not, however, contrast unfavorably with the average for the three years preceding 1892 as per margin.

	Rs.	A.	P.
Average for three years preceding 1892...	18,987	14	4
Actuals for 1893 ...	19,698	14	3

The recoveries from the paying patients showed a considerable decrease, and this is apparently due to the fewer number of paying patients.

11. Expenditure.—The expenditure during the year aggregated Rupees 8,89,420-3-5, of this sum Rs. 5,04,452-7-9 or a little over 56 per cent. of the total outlay was on 'Establishment.' This increase is due to the increased rate of pay of Medical agents on promotion and to the opening of new dispensaries during the year.

As a direct consequence of the rise both in the number of sick and average daily sick who were afforded relief during 1893, the expenditure under medicine (European and bazaar) was in excess of last year by Rs. 3,673-6-9. This increase on a reference to Statement V, Part I, will be found to be exclusively restricted to bazaar medicines or indigenous drugs which have been more freely and extensively used in lieu of European drugs which are more costly.

The diet charges for the year were only Rs. 91,087-13-5 against Rupees 99,812-10-11. The average cost per head per diem was annas 2 and pies 6 against annas 2 and pies 8 in 1892.

The amount expended on buildings or repairs showed a great falling off.

12. Statement No. V, Part II.—The investments during the year were largely in excess of the last year, this may be considered to be a satisfactory feature of the year's administration. In the form of accounts now maintained, such investments are classed under expenditure, excluding which the actual expenditure for the year will be still less.

13. Invested Capital.—During the year under report a substantial increase was made in the above investment. In Malabar and Vizagapatam securities to the extent of Rs. 2,500 and Rs. 6,693-5-1 were sold or withdrawn, but Rs. 15,404-9-6 were added to the funded capital in all the districts put together as per details given in Statement V, Part II, which exceeded the amount of withdrawal and left a larger balance to the credit of these institutions at the end of the year.

14. Inventory.—Instructions relating to the maintenance of an inventory of valuable stock have been carried out in this office, and the hospitals and dispensaries under Class I (State Hospitals).

15. The service books of all Government servants have been verified up to the period under report.

16. Lady Dufferin's Fund.—During the year under report, efforts were made for the extension of skilled medical treatment to women in this Presidency through the medium of their own sex. Medical officers of the several districts were by circular instructions requested to afford all possible assistance in their power in furtherance of the above scheme.

They were further requested to report annually the steps taken during the year towards the development of this important movement noting how the scheme worked with details as to cost, &c.

A report on the working of the scheme will be submitted next year.

The circular referred to above is quoted below :—

Circular No. 18, dated 24th October 1893.

It is notified, for the information and guidance of all Medical officers, that lady apothecaries, being fully qualified to practise their profession in all its branches, should be afforded every facility for giving medical relief. In the case of ladies employed by Local Fund Boards this object will best be met by placing them in independent charge of dispensaries for the treatment of women and children only, such dispensaries having no connection with existing Local Fund institutions should such exist in the towns or villages where female dispensaries may be opened. Ladies employed by municipalities should be placed in charge of branch dispensaries having a similar object, their services being utilized under the orders of the Medical officers on the female side of existing municipal hospitals until such time as the branch dispensaries be opened.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

C. SIBTHORPE, Surgeon-Major-General,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras.

The Surgeon General submits, in due time, the annual statistics of the Civil Hospitals and Dispensaries for the year 1893.

2. At the close of the year there were 45 institutions working against 44 in 1892, and 42 in 1891. It is gratifying to note that since the receipt of the last report in Coimbatore and Malabar sufficient provision has been made for medical relief by the opening of new dispensaries, during the year, but it is a matter for regret that the Local Bodies in North Arcot have not yet been able to find their way for increasing the number of these useful institutions.

... which has formed the subject of remark in the
... based upon previous
... made of the matter
... 1894

the maintenance of their accounts in 1893 are compared with ^{the figures} those for the previous year in the following statement:-

Year	Number of patients treated		Daily average attendance of patients		Number of beds available	Mortality among in-patients (percentage)	Number of operations		Total expenditure
	In	Out	In	Out			Major	Minor
1892	39,741	34,645	1,783.9	1,487.3	2,985	9.35	4,391	108,149	Rs 8,91,183
1893	39,579	33,391	1,676.7	1,469.8	3,088	7.69	5,567	112,314	8,89,420

It is observed from the above table that, while there was a decrease both in the number of in-patients as well as their daily average attendance, the number of out-patients and their daily average attendance increased by 224,746 and 118% respectively. The most noteworthy features of the administration of the year are the provision of 103 beds in a slight increase in the number of beds available in the preceding year and the satisfactory fall in the rate of mortality among in-patients from 9.35 to 7.69, considerable advances achieved in the

than that in the previous year by Rs 1,763. Omitting, however, the amount invested, ^{and shown as expenditure,} ~~during the~~ ^{affording} the actual cost of giving medical relief to the sick who sought medical aid was less than in 1892 by Rs 17,066. There was a perceptible increase under the items "Establishments" and "Bazaar Medicines", ~~on the other hand~~ ^{but} a satisfactory decrease in the expenditure on "Diet" and "Buildings or Repairs". The fall in the average cost of each diet from 2 annas 8 pice to 2 annas 6 pice, and the smaller number of in-patients treated, account for the total cost of diet being lower than that in 1892.

6. The Govt will gladly await the report promised in the last para of the notes regarding the working of the scheme connected with the ^{the} Suffering Fund.

23RD JULY 1894, Nos. 535, 536, PUBLIC.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

From Surgeon-Major-General C. SIBTHORPE, Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, 14th July 1894, No. T. 129.

I have the honour to submit to the Right Honorable the Governor in Council the annual statistics of the civil hospitals and dispensaries for the year 1893, with brief notes thereon, as required by G.O., dated 12th July 1886, No. 1455, Public Department.

ORDER—dated 23rd July 1894, No. 535, Public.

The Surgeon-General submits the annual statistics of civil hospitals and dispensaries for the year 1893.

2. At the close of the year there were 453 institutions, against 443 in 1892 and 426 in 1891. It is gratifying to note that since the receipt of the last report sufficient provision for medical relief has been made in the Coimbatore and Malabar districts by opening new dispensaries, but it is a matter for regret that the local bodies in North Arcot have not yet been able to increase the number of these useful institutions. It is hoped that this shortcoming, which has formed the subject of remark in the orders passed upon previous reports, may be speedily remedied.

3. The results of the working of the hospitals and dispensaries and the expenditure incurred on their maintenance in 1893 are compared with the figures for the previous year in the following statement:—

Year.	Number of patients treated.		Daily average attendance of patients.		Number of beds available.	Mortality among in-patients (percentage).	Number of operations.		Total expenditure.
	In.	Out.	In.	Out.			Major.	Minor.
1892	39,741	3,066,645	1783.9	19487.3	2,985	9.35	4,391	108,149	Rs. 8,91,183
1893	39,579	3,291,391	1676.7	20669.8	3,088	7.69	5,567	118,314	8,89,420

4. It will be observed from this that, while there was a decrease both in the number of in-patients as well as in their daily average attendance, the number of out-patients and their daily average attendance increased by 224,746 and 1182.5, respectively. The most noteworthy features of the administration of the year are a slight increase (103) in the number of beds, a fall in the percentage of mortality among in-patients from 9.35 to 7.69, and a considerable advance in the number of operations performed, both major and minor.

5. Finance.—The total expenditure in 1893 was less than that of the previous year by Rs. 1,763. Omitting, however, the amounts invested and shown as expenditure, the actual cost of affording medical relief was less than in 1892 by Rs. 17,066.

There was a perceptible increase under the items "Establishment" and "Bazaar medicines," but a satisfactory decrease in the expenditure on "Diets" and "Buildings or Repairs." The fall in the average cost of each diet from 2 annas 8 pies to 2 annas 6 pies, and the smaller number of in-patients treated, account for the total cost of diet being lower than that in 1892.

6. The Government awaits the report promised regarding the working of the scheme connected with the Lady Dufferin Fund.
