Order—dated 1st March 1894, No. 129, Educational.

Certificates of vaccination are not required from candidates for any of the examinations under the University or the Commissioner for Government Examinations nor is vaccination a condition of aid. The Director of Public Instruction will, however, be requested to report whether pupils in public institutions and holders of Government scholarships and stipends are still required, with reference to G.O., dated 12th March 1880, No. 538, Financial, to prove that they are protected from small-pox.

G.O., dated 22nd May 1894, No. 355, Educational.

Read—the following letter from the Director of Public Instruction, dated 7th May 1894, No. 4211:—

Referring to G.O., dated the 1st March 1894, No. 129, I have the honour to state that, under the existing rules, certificates of vaccination are required of candidates for admission to the Special Tests and the Medical Entrance Examination. The revised draft rules for the Special Tests now before Government propose, however, to dispense with this condition. Vaccination certificates are not required in any other case, but certificates of general health are required for admission into Government training institutions and the Colleges of Engineering and Agriculture and to the Salt Competitive and Provincial Civil Service Examinations.

Order—dated 22nd May 1894, No. 555, Educational.

The Director's letter will be communicated to the Public Department with the remarks that the revised rules regulating the Special Test examinations to which reference is made in the letter have been approved in G.O., dated 9th May 1894, No. 317, Educational, and that by "Medical Entrance Examination" is meant the competitive examinations held annually for the purpose of selecting persons to be admitted as Civil and Military pupils into the Medical College.

Chief Secretary.

To the Public Department.
Director of Public Instruction.

From Surgeon-Major W. G. KING, M.B., C.M., D.P.H., Acting Sanitary Commissioner for Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, Local and Municipal Department, dated Fort St. George, 22nd March 1894, No. 628-B.

I have the honour to enclose for the information of Government copy of a circular letter lately forwarded by me to Presidents of District Boards. A somewhat similar letter was also forwarded to Chairmen of Municipal Councils. I am glad to be able to report that the resolutions passed by the respective bodies point to their having grasped the importance of taking early action in this matter.

2. It has occurred to me that much good might be effected in this direction—not so much by the actual numbers that would be caused to undergo the operation as by the general attention which would be directed to the subject amongst the educated members of the native community and, ultimately, amongst the population at large—were Government to rule that, on applying for entertainment in the Government service, a candidate shall produce a certificate either of recent vaccination or re-vaccination, without reference to the question of previous attacks by small-pox. I enclose a copy of the existing form of medical certificate for reference.

3. In making this suggestion I would remind Government that this simple measure is directed towards the preservation from mortality by small-pox of the most valuable part, in the economic sense, of the population, namely, the adult, and that there now exists unquestionable evidence to prove that in a population which has trusted to infantile vaccination and has not confirmed the protective influence of the operation by re-vaccination, it is the adult portion which suffers and not the protected infantile. Holding in view the fact that a large proportion of the youth of the population is now protected by infantile vaccination, and has escaped small-pox during childhood, whilst their seniors are largely protected by small-pox, I consider it is but a matter of time to show in this Presidency that, unless re-vaccination be vigorously conducted, future epidemics will rob the population of their adults in a greater proportion than known in pre-vaccination periods—a result that would greatly and, unnecessarily, breed distrust in vaccination. As an example of what I would imply, I may state that Dr. Barry's standard statistics of the epidemic at Sheffield show that the re-vaccinated over 10 years of age have a thirty-one-fold immunity to attacks of small-pox as compared with the unvaccinated, and six-hundred-and-forty-fold against death from that disease; whereas, those trusting only to infantile vaccination have but a five-fold immunity against attack, and a fifty-one-fold against death under the same circumstances.

4. In thus advocating re-vaccination in the case of candidates entering Government employment, I would respectfully remind Government that both in the case of British and Native troops in this country, re-vaccination is compulsory. I also furnish for reference a Parliamentary return showing in what cases the same rule is enforced in various Government posts under the British Government.

ENCLOSURE.

From Surgeon-Major W. G. KING, M.B., C.M., D.P.H., Acting Sanitary Commissioner, Madras, to all Presidents of District Boards, dated Fort St. George, 9th December 1893, No. 1780-V.

I have the honour to draw your attention to the fact that re-vaccination has made little or no progress in your district. In paragraph 4 of this office circular letter, dated 12th July 1890, printed in G.O., dated 1st November 1890, No. 2816 L., I brought to notice the importance of efforts being made to protect the adult population by re-vaccination, and showed that statistics clearly demonstrate the fact that this operation is essential if the protection of infantile life is to be confirmed in the adult.

2. As the result of increasing attention to the protection of infants by vaccination, the death rate in this period of life must show a decrease under the head of small-pox; but, experience proves that, whilst the protective influence of vaccination is never completely got rid of as shown by the mild nature of attacks of vaccinated adults and the small consequent mortality, there is a decided tendency to progressive diminution of safety after the tenth year of life. Now, it must be remembered that adult life in this country has hitherto been the least affected by small-pox, for the simple reason that in some period of the existence of most unprotected individuals small-pox has been acquired; but it will be readily seen, as the infant population protected by vaccination advances to adolescence, the reverse may occur, there being danger, as actually shown by experience in European countries, of the adult population being affected and the infantile, comparatively, escaping. The statistics which accompanied my letter under reference, however, will show you in how great a measure re-vaccination confers safety from attack; the chances against a carefully re-vaccinated individual being subjected to an attack being almost absolute.

3. Lest it be thought that my impressing you with the necessity of encouraging re-vaccination may in any way detract from the well-earned fame which the important prophylactic operation of vaccination has secured, I may remind you that second attacks of small-pox in adults who have had the disease naturally in childhood is by no means uncommon, whilst I have, as a result of a recent visit to Burmah, where the opportunity was given me of examining over one thousand cases of old operation of inoculation (as formerly practised in India), been able to ascertain that the frequency of attack of the adult by natural small-pox after infantile inoculation is almost in the same ratio as in the case of vaccination. I would, therefore, urge the Board to encourage amongst the people, both by example and precept, the practice of the simple yet important operation of re-vaccination.

Transferred to the Public Department.

FORT ST. GEORGE,
14th April 1894.

(Signed) L. DAVIDSON,
Ag. Assistant Secretary.

From Surgeon-Major-General W. F. DEFABECK, M.D., Surgeon-General with the Government of Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, 11th May 1894, No. 0/61.

In returning the letter from the Acting Sanitary Commissioner referred to me for remarks with your endorsement, No. 773, dated the 20th April 1894, I have the honour to state that it is now a recognized fact that re-vaccination is essential to the continuance of immunity from small-pox of the adult population, but unless some form of pressure be brought to bear on the public they are not likely to come forward and submit to it as long as their health continues well.

2. The scheme suggested by Surgeon-Major W. G. King, regarding candidates for Government employ being required to produce a certificate of recent vaccination or re-vaccination, will undoubtedly bring the subject forcibly to the minds of a large number of the more educated section of the general public, and I therefore trust that Government will accord their sanction to have it enforced.

Memorandum to the Sanitary Commissioner No. 1159.

From the Acting Sanitary Commissioner for Madras, dated 18th Aug 1894, Nos. 837-V and 838-V, respectively.

ORDER—dated 18th August 1894, No. 609, Public.

The health certificate which candidates for employment in the service of Government are, under existing orders, required to produce contains a declaration that the individual has been vaccinated or has had small-pox. This declaration appears not to meet the wants of the present day, and, on the recommendation of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Government is pleased to direct that the persons enumerated in paragraph 2 infra shall produce certificates of re-vaccination after the completion of the tenth year; or, should they not have been vaccinated in early childhood, of vaccination after reaching the age of ten years. In the event of their having suffered from small-pox before or during their tenth year they must produce a certificate of vaccination or re-vaccination subsequent to their having attained the age of ten. This certificate will not, however, be required from persons who bear the marks of small-pox and who produce a certificate signed by two respectable householders that to their personal knowledge the individual was attacked with small-pox after he had completed his tenth year.

2. The following is the list of persons who will hereafter be required to produce certificates in accordance with paragraph 1 supra :—

- (1) All candidates for employment in the service of Government, in whatever branch, whether superior or inferior, permanent or temporary, except sweepers and similar menial servants and pensioned sepoys.
- (2) Candidates for the Provincial Civil Service Examinations.
- (3) Candidates for employment on State Railways.
- (4) Candidates for employment in the service of the Court of Wards.
- (5) Candidates for employment by District and Taluk Boards and Municipalities.
- (6) All persons applying for admission into Government Arts Colleges, Professional Colleges and Government Training Institutions.
- (7) All claimants to hereditary village offices.
- (8) Candidates for village officers' special tests.
- (9) Applicants for appointments paid from Village Service, Pound or Irrigation Cess Funds.
- (10) Candidates for the Competitive Examination for the Salt and Abkari Department.

3. It is observed that the production of vaccination certificates by candidates for the Special Test Examinations is not necessary under the revised rules published in G.O., dated 9th May 1894, No. 317, Educational.

4. The recommendation of the Board of Revenue, that candidates for employment on subordinate establishments in unhealthy localities such as Bhadrachalam, Nallamalais, Wynaad and Annamalais should not be required to produce vaccination certificates, is approved.

5. The Government is pleased to authorise the levy of a fee of one rupee for each vaccination certificate furnished to a candidate for employment in superior service. The fee may be retained by the officer who grants the certificate.

6. Paragraph 2 supra will be added to the rules in the appendix to G.O., dated 15th April 1889, No. 339. The rules have been revised and will be issued for guidance. They form an appendix to these Proceedings, and will be published in the Gazette.

7. Any omissions from, or desirable additions to, the list in revised Rule 11 should be brought to notice. The Chairman, Harbour Trust Board, will be requested to state whether candidates for employment in the Board's service are required to produce vaccination certificates.

subordinates

The following rules and instructions are issued for the guidance of Medical Officers who may be called upon to grant a medical or vaccination certificate to any person already in, or seeking to enter, the public service in civil employ:—

omit it also

1. Medical certificates are required by—

- Candidates for the public service as to their physical fitness for Government employment;
- Candidates for pension from Government service as to their unfitness for further service;
- Government servants who desire leave to recruit their health.

2. Commissioned Medical Officers holding Presidency appointments or in medical charge of districts or civil stations, and Uncovenanted Officers in the position of District or Civil Surgeons, are, with the exceptions noted below, alone authorized to grant certificates of physical fitness for the public service. Such certificates are not to be granted by Assistant Surgeons unless when in independent medical charge of a district, nor by warrant medical officers, civil apothecaries or hospital assistants, except to persons proposed to be appointed to posts carrying less than Rs. 50 a month who cannot conveniently appear before a Commissioned Medical Officer or Civil Surgeon.

3. A medical certificate of fitness for the public service is not to be given to any person unless he can produce a letter or other form of requisition from the head of the office or department in which he seeks employment; and such requisition should be accompanied by a descriptive roll signed by the head of the office or department.

Regulation*

4. The form of certificate to be given to a candidate for employment in the public service is laid down in Rule 2, Section 106, Civil Pension Code, and should contain such additional particulars regarding the nature of the duties the candidate is expected to perform, and his physical fitness therefor, as the head of the department making the requisition required in Rule 3 above may desire to have.

H. 5.

5. Commissioned Medical Officers holding Presidency appointments or in charge of districts or civil stations, and Uncovenanted Officers in the position of District or Civil Surgeons, are, with the exceptions noted below, alone authorized to grant certificates of unfitness for further service. 6. Medical officers should not grant a certificate of unfitness for further service to any Government servant, except on the requisition and with the cognizance of the head of the office or department in which he is at the time serving. *article 49 (a)
Civil Service Regulation*

7. The form of the certificate to be granted to an officer applying for pension is laid down in Section 106, Civil Pension Code, and should contain such additional particulars regarding the nature of the duties for which he is supposed to be unfit as the head of his office or department may desire to have.

8. All medical officers and subordinates in independent medical charge of a district or station are authorized to grant certificates to Government servants recommending the grant or commutation of leave on medical grounds, provided the person by whom the certificate is required can produce a letter, order, or other document from the head of the office or department in which he is employed, authorizing him to apply for such certificate. But Government servants already on leave, and requiring an extension on medical grounds, are not required to produce a permit from the head of their department before appearing for medical examination.

NOTE.—Certificates granted under this rule by a Hospital Assistant in temporary charge of a Civil Surgeon's station are only to be accepted subject to confirmation by the Civil Surgeon on his return to the station.

9. A certificate, recommending the grant or extension of leave on medical grounds, should always specify whether the nature of the patient's complaint is such as to preclude him, either wholly or partially, from discharging his public duties. In cases where the medical officer considers further observation necessary, he is entitled to insist on it before granting the certificate.

10. The form of certificate recommending the grant of leave on medical grounds is laid down in Rule 10, Section 79, Civil Leave Code. Such certificates should ordinarily be accepted from Government medical officers alone, except when required to justify mere casual leave of absence.

I have the honour to state that no ruling exists on the subject of Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination being entitled or otherwise to take a fee for the giving of vaccination certificates to persons who, being neither pupils of local fund nor grant schools, desire, for examination or other purposes, to possess such certificates. Having been asked for a decision on this matter, I should be obliged by Government affording this office a ruling on the subject. The rules attached as an appendix to the "Rules regulating the personal conduct of public servants" do not seem to allude to cases of this description, and I am of opinion that Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination would be entitled to make a charge, so long as no part of their pay is met by Government, as in the case of medical subordinates with regard to private practice generally (vide Rule 11, Appendix A, to the "Rules regulating the personal conduct of public servants").

ORDER—dated 31st January 1894, No. 78, Public.

In his letter, No. 1739, of the 29th November 1893, the Sanitary Commissioner enquires whether Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination are entitled to charge a fee for granting vaccination certificates to persons who, being neither pupils of local fund nor grant schools, desire, for examination or other purposes, to possess such certificates.

2. In connection with this matter, the attention of Government has been drawn to the rules for the guidance of medical officers in regard to the grant of certificates.

G.O., dated 3rd May 1892, No. 299.

Rule 1 specifies the individuals by whom medical certificates are required; while Rule 11 names the officers who may grant vaccination certificates, but contains no directions as to the persons from whom they are required.

In this respect Rule 11 is defective, and should therefore be revised.

3. In letter to the Government of India, No. 1694, of the 18th July 1885, it was stated that vaccination certificates were required from—

- (a) all candidates for employment in the service of Government;
- (b) all claimants to hereditary village offices;
- (c) all candidates for the Middle School examination;
- (d) all police recruits.

The list is, however, now incomplete. The several departments of the Secretariat and the Surgeon-General will be requested to furnish at an early date particulars of the individuals by whom vaccination certificates have now to be produced for inclusion in the revised rule.

4. In regard to the question of fees, the Government considers it right that none should be charged for the grant of certificates in the case of girls' schools and of certain examinations of the lower grade, say, up to the Upper Secondary, nor does it seem necessary to make a charge in the case of candidates for appointments on the "inferior" establishment of the public service; but the Government sees no reason why candidates for University examinations or for the "superior" service should not pay a reasonable fee, which might be fixed at a rupee for each certificate. The Educational department and the Surgeon-General will be requested to submit remarks on the proposal.

5. Deputy Inspectors of Vaccination will be treated in the matter of fees in exactly the same way as other officers whose certificates are accepted.

Items 10-19.—The several examinations and the several colleges referred to here are under the control of the Director of Public Instruction and Commissioner for the Uncovenanted Civil Service Examinations, and as a report has been called for from him, they have been excluded from the list in paragraph 1 supra. Similarly items 7, 8, 9, 21 and 22 have also been omitted as they do not appertain to the Land Revenue Department.

Items 20, 23 and 24.—The Board supports the Collectors' recommendations that vaccination certificates should be prescribed for the officers herein referred to.

Item 25.—The Conservator of Forests, Central Circle, thinks that these certificates should be obtained from Forest subordinates appearing for the Forestry Test. The Board agrees with him.

3. In Ganjam and Trichinopoly vaccination certificates have not been insisted upon in the case of claimants to hereditary village offices. The Collectors will be informed that the rule should be duly enforced in their districts also.

4. The Conservator of Forests, Northern Circle, reports that in Vizagapatam and Anantapur vaccination certificates are not demanded from peons and forest guards, while in Kurnool these certificates are not demanded from any class of forest employees. Mr. Peet proposes that the rule requiring the production of vaccination certificates should be relaxed in unhealthy localities, such as Bhadrachalam, Nallamalais, Wynad and Annamalais in respect of subordinate establishments. He adds that the forest guards in these tracts to be of any value should be recruited either from forest or semi-forest tribes, and that the production of vaccination certificates in their case could not be enforced without much difficulty. The Board supports the Conservator's recommendation that the rule regarding the production of vaccination certificates by the subordinate establishments should be relaxed in the unhealthy tracts named above.

Enclosure

SIR,

3.

I have the honour to enclose for the information of Government copy of a Circular letter lately forwarded by me to Presidents of District Boards. A somewhat similar letter was also forwarded to Chairmen of Municipal Councils. I am glad to be able to report that the Resolutions passed by the respective Bodies, point to their having grasped the importance of taking early action in this matter.

2. It has occurred to me that much good might be effected in this direction - not so much by the actual numbers that would be caused to undergo the operation as by the general attention which would be directed to the subject amongst the educated members of the Native Community and

and ultimately, amongst the population at large - were Government to rule that, on applying for entertainment in the Government Service, a candidate shall produce a certificate either of recent vaccination or re-vaccination, without reference to the question of previous attacks by small-pox. I enclose a copy of the existing form of Medical Certificate for reference.

2. In making this suggestion, I would remind Government that this simple measure is directed towards the preservation from mortality by small-pox of the most valuable part, in the economic sense, of the population, namely, the adult, and that there now exists unquestionable evidence to prove that a population which has trusted to infantile vaccination, and has not confirmed the protective influence of the operation by re-vaccination, it is the adult population which suffers and not the protected infantile. Holding in view the fact that a large proportion of the youth of the population is now protected by infantile vaccination, and has escaped small-pox during childhood childhood, whilst their seniors are largely protected by small-pox, I consider it is but a matter of time to show in this Presidency that, unless re-vaccination be vigorously conducted, future epidemics will rob the population of their adults in a greater proportion than known in pre-vaccination periods - a result that would greatly and, unnecessarily, breed distrust in vaccination. As an example of what I would imply, I may state that Dr. Barry's standard statistics of the epidemic at Sheffield show that the re-vaccinated over 10 years of age have a thirty-one-fold immunity to attacks of small-pox as compared with the unvaccinated, and six hundred and forty-fold against death from that disease, whereas, those trusting only to infantile vaccination have but a fivefold immunity against attack, and a fifty-onefold against death under the same circumstances.

3. In thus advocating re-vaccination in the case of candidates entering.

entirely Government employment, I would respectfully remind Government that both in the case of British and Native troops in this country, re-vaccination is compulsory. I also furnish, for reference, a Parliamentary Return showing in what cases the same rule is enforced in various Government posts under the British Government.

All Presidents of District Boards.

Sir,

I have the honor to draw your attention to the fact that re-vaccination has made little or no progress in your District. In para 4 of this Office Circular Letter, dated 12th July, 1890, printed in G.O. dated 1st Novr 1890 No 2816 L, I brought to notice the importance of efforts being made to protect the adult population by re-vaccination, and showed that statistics clearly demonstrate the fact that this operation is essential, if the protection of infantile life is to be confirmed in the adult.

2. As the result of increasing attention to the protection of infants by vaccination, the death rate in this period of life must show a decrease under the head of small pox; but, experience proves that, whilst the protective influence of vaccination is never completely got rid of, as shown by the mild nature of attacks of vaccinated adults and the small consequent mortality, there is a decided tendency to progressive diminution of safety after the tenth year of life. Now, it must be remembered that adult life in this country has hitherto been the least affected by small-pox, for the simple reason that in some period of the existence of most unprotected individuals small-pox has been acquired, but it will be readily seen, as the infant population protected by vaccination advances to adolescence, the reverse may occur, there being danger, as actually shown by experience in European Countries, of the adult population being affected and the infantile, comparatively, escaping. The statistics which accompanied my letter under reference, however, will show you in how great a measure re-vaccination confers safety from attack - the chances against a carefully re-vaccinated individual being subjected to an attack being almost absolute.

vaccination

3. Let it be thought that my impressing you with the necessity of encouraging re-vaccination.

re-vaccination may in any way detract from the well earned fame which the important prophylactic operation of vaccination has secured, I may remind you that second attacks of small-pox in adults who have had the disease naturally in childhood is by no means uncommon, whilst I have, as a result of a recent visit to Burmah, where the opportunity was given me of examining over one thousand cases of old operation of inoculation (as formerly practised in India), been able to ascertain that the frequency of attack of the adult by natural small-pox after infantile inoculation, is almost in the same ratio as in the case of vaccination. I would, therefore, urge the Board to encourage amongst the people both by example and precept, the practice of the simple yet important operation of re-vaccination.

SIR,

In returning the letter from the Acting Sanitary Commissioner referred to me for remarks with your End. No. 773 dated the 20th April 94. I have the honor to state that it is now a recognized fact that re-vaccination is essential to the continuance of immunity from small pox of the adult population, but unless some form of pressure be brought to bear on the public they are not likely to come forward and submit to it as long as their health continues well.

Sir,
With reference to official memorandum No. 1159 dated 9th instant, Public, I have the honor to state that the term "recent" has apparently not been interpreted by Government in the manner I had intended. As used by me, it was not meant to apply to any supposed time during which vaccination may be said to have afforded immunity to the individual, but to the requirement I advised that, on entertainment, the candidate should be either vaccinated or re-vaccinated, that is to say, if at the time of examination it were found the patient had not been protected up to date, the operation should at once be performed.

and, if he had been previously vaccinated, that he should be re-vaccinated. The intention of using the word "recent" was further to permit a certain amount of discretion to medical officers, should a candidate present himself who had obviously undergone the operation, within a reasonable time previously. As, however, this is apparently regarded by Government as too loose a definition for practical purposes, I would respectfully suggest that the following rule would meet the conditions required:

A candidate for Government service shall, in addition to a certificate of physical fitness, produce a certificate of re-vaccination, having been undergone subsequent to the age of ten years, or should he not have been vaccinated prior to the attainment of ten years, if having undergone vaccination subsequent to that age. Should the candidate have suffered from small-pox when under ten years of age, a certificate of vaccination or re-vaccination subsequent to the attainment of that age must be produced, but this will not be required if no marks of small-pox being identified by the examining medical officer, it be testified by two respectable householders that to their personal knowledge the candidate was attacked with small-pox subsequent to the attainment of ten years of age."

2. In explanation of ten years of age being the period demanded in this certificate, I have to state that this age is now assumed by European Statisticians as that at which the protection afforded by infantile vaccination begins distinctly to fade. This <sup>fact</sup> could only be ascertained as the result of prolonged experience, and of statistics covering many years, thus, when the subject was first investigated, it was authoritatively announced that the protection afforded afforded by the statistics might be trusted up to 10 years of age, this was subsequently found to 13 years, and lately brought and the figures I believe from a careful perusal of very numerous statistics on the subject, confirm make the real facts of the case.

I may have stated this two years period has nothing to do with the popular idea as to complete change of the human body, but is the result of direct observations of the length of immunity acquired by the prophylactic operation. Further, it has been ascertained that re-vaccination subsequent to this period confirms the protection gained by infantile vaccination to an extent sufficient to render a single re-vaccination after the age of ten years handworthy.

3. The above statements are fully borne out by Dr Barry's statistics quoted in G.O. No. 2816 L, dated 1st December 1890, Local and Municipal and referred

Apparently omission for 57000
189
47/94

referred to in my letter under discussion. Thus, Dr Barry showed that "of 100,000 persons over ten years and twice vaccinated there would be eight deaths, and of 100,000 over ten years old and once vaccinated there would be 100 deaths; of 100,000 over ten years old and unvaccinated there would be 510,500 deaths."

Consequently, under the existing conditions of living in an infected town, persons twice vaccinated and over 10 years of age, as compared with the unvaccinated, have a 31-fold immunity against attack by small-pox, and a 61-fold security against death by small-pox; or, where persons over ten years of age had neglected to undergo re-vaccination, the single vaccination of infancy gave as compared with persons who had never been vaccinated at all, a 5-fold immunity against attack by small-pox, and a 51-fold security against death."

4. As regards requiring candidates who candidate, who have effected a small-pox vaccination, and I would point out that the effect of small-pox by vaccination is a life-long immunity, and is the Government. Dr. Bird, who is the chief physician of the Marine Hospital, for the field of experience, and is, in fact, death rate as for a better than an historical fact that King, Louis of France died of a recent attack of this disease. But, such statistics as exist are of little value, and you will have been gathered within the time that vaccination has been in vogue, and generally in view of the protection afforded by infantile <sup>vaccination</sup> attacks of small-pox are mostly of an adult life, where it is in the unprotected population of India the attacks are chiefly caused in childhood, and I argue from logic that a person protected by small-pox in childhood is in a a little better condition of safety in 159 in a dull life than are who have been vaccinated, but had neglected adult revaccination. I have myself seen several cases of native patients bearing scars of small-pox attacked a second time, and with natives it is a well recognized fact. Statistics applicable to India proving this point can, however, only be brought slowly together, but it has been possible to do on this point, I have done, by comparing the histories of persons subjected to inoculation and vaccination, which I have gathered in extended referring to this subject in para 68 of my Annual Report for 1893, and at the of which, to save the trouble of reference, I now give. I need only add that the use of vaccination as a test of susceptibility is probably more severe than when small-pox is acquired naturally and that I rely chiefly upon the instances of naturally acquired small-pox after inoculation as

as proving very satisfactory. In 86 males adults formerly attacked with natural small-pox, the vaccination success rate was 75 per cent.

In 88 persons inoculated with small-pox in childhood, the rate of attack (pervious only) by natural small-pox was 5.6 per cent.

In 96 persons inoculated with small-pox during adolescence, the attack rate by natural small-pox (pervious only) was 3.2 per cent.

These facts, I think, sufficiently prove that it is unwise to trust to an attack of small-pox (which the effect of inoculation prevents) and to acquire before two years of age a confirming immunity in after life, and seeing that small-pox is chiefly contracted in this country at this period, there is special reason why vaccination should be pursued in adult life in such cases.

Abstract of an address read by Dr Willoughby before the Incorporated Society of Medical Officers of Health Explained. . . . .
"x x x." Lastly, we wanted not only compulsory vaccination in infancy, but compulsory revaccination at puberty, as in Germany; the former protected during childhood, and generally modified an attack at any subsequent age, but the double operation alone gave the highest possible degree of immunity. This has been conclusively proved by the experience of Germany during the last twenty years, and as the facts were imperfectly known, he would recapitu-late them as briefly as he could.
Prior to the great war of 1870-71, the Germans were, like ourselves, a fairly vaccinated people, except that on the one hand the operation being required to be done within the first twelve, instead of three months, was so by removal was easier, and many escaped until reaching school age, while on the other

the all round prevalence of military discipline, and the fact at about the age of twenty. Further, however, introduced by the French prisoners, shaped, though the length and breadth of the body, depending only the strong and the robustness of the whole. During the last few years the French prisoners, <sup>having</sup> been about 230, chiefly Polish, as was the case of the French troops, died of small-pox alone. But in white, Berlin, Hamburg and all the large towns, were determined, and not only the City of Nassau, though the number of French prisoners was small in the neighbourhood, excepted and scattered. The explanation was obvious. There, and there alone, for the preceding five or thirty years had vaccination in leaving of school, &c., in the nineteenth year, been compulsory, and one of the first acts of the new Imperial parliament was to extend the Frankfurt law to the whole empire. What had been the result?

105
First, that from that time, though every European country and capital had had its regular recurrence of epidemics, and the deaths in Prague and Vienna, German cities, though not of Berlin, had been as high as 800 or 900 in a single year, those in any town in Germany could be counted in units. Nay more, careful analysis and investigation of all cases notified had proved that for the last ten years they had, without exception, been directly or indirectly of foreign origin. The majority were Italians, recently arrived from the adjacent and ill-vaccinated countries, Russia, Austria, Italy and France, especially Russian or Polish Jews, Italian labourers, Bohemian servants, &c. Others were Germans, who, born before 1860, and therefore not coming under the Act of 1874, contracted the infection while travelling on business to Warsaw, Vienna, Paris &c., and to these were <sup>to be</sup> added others of the same

The Sanitary Commissioner's proposal is that instead of the ordinary certificate of vaccination produced by a candidate for employment in Govt. service he should be required to produce a certificate of either recent vaccination or re-vaccination without reference to the question of previous attacks of small pox.

The Surgeon General
supports the proposal.

The word "present" is used here but it is perhaps better to use the word "present". It would be well to submit to the Commissioner of the Public Health the proposals and proper lymphatic system.

I don't understand this - Please explain 22/5/94

What I meant was that it was better to have the rule with force when King plans for vaccination

21/5/94

2021 1000000000

The vaccine Dept. in fact the opportunity for vaccination had been carried to the point

vaccination 24/5

I did not know that he had any plans under consideration - I think the proposal may be sanctioned

26/5/94

It is very desirable that such certificates as are proposed by Dr. King <sup>and he</sup> should be issued, that the <sup>service</sup> ~~was~~ <sup>and</sup> be defined. 26/5/94

I agree - but surely, if a man has had small-pox once, he has acquired immunity for the rest of his life.
Why should he not, as now, be considered a suitable candidate, as far as his liability to contracting this disease, while in Govt. service?

to

I don't see the use of 26/5/94 at the whole thing issue together. It will have trouble

Order

The Govt. directs that any person who is now required or may hereafter be required by order of Govt. to produce a vaccination certificate shall produce a certificate of having been vaccinated after the completion of his tenth year or should he not have been vaccinated prior to the attainment of <sup>that age</sup> ~~that age~~ he must produce a certificate of having been vaccinated subsequent to that age. Should the person have suffered from smallpox when less than ten years of age he must produce a certificate of vaccination or revaccination subsequent to the attainment of that age but this will not be required if he has marks of smallpox and produces a certificate signed by two respectable house holders that to their personal knowledge he was attacked with smallpox after he had attained the age of ten years.

2. A revised list of persons required to produce the certificates prescribed in the foregoing paragraph will issue shortly

3. The Surg. Genl. will issue the necessary instructions to all Medical Officers and Subordinates under his orders.

3. INLAND REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

(3115 S.—93.)

Inland Revenue, Somerset House, W.C., 31 July 1893.

May it please your Lordships,
In answer to Sir J. T. Hibbert's Circular Letter of the 26th instant, No. 11,287, we beg leave to state that although there is no formal regulation existing in this Department as to vaccination, we have nevertheless been in the habit for many years (quite 30) of requiring all the boys who enter the Stamping Department, boys of under 14 years of age, to be vaccinated by our Medical Officer, Dr. Vine, in the instances in which the previous vaccination does not appear to him to be sufficiently protective. A record is kept of such vaccinations in our Stamping Department.

In the case of other candidates for employment referred to Dr. Vine, at the instance of the Civil Service Commissioners, it is his invariable practice, on examination, to inquire of the candidates whether they have been vaccinated, and to so state on the certificate given by him.

But

VACCINATION (PUBLIC DEPARTMENTS).

But with regard to officials generally who enter our service after open competition as the province of the Civil Service Commissioners to satisfy themselves, before issuing their certificate of qualification, as to the state of the health of the candidates.

To the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

We have, &c.
(signed) A. Milnes.

8. SCOTCH PRISONS DEPARTMENT.

Prison Commission for Scotland, Edinburgh, 12 August 1893.

Sir,

WITH reference to your request, dated the 5th instant, for the preparation of a return, so far as the Department of the Prison Commissioners is concerned, relating to the conditions of appointment in regard to vaccination, the Commissioners have the honour to state that no regulation making vaccination an absolute condition for an appointment has been made by them. But in the Medical Report on Candidates for Office (which is a form approved by the Civil Service Commissioners) the examining medical officer is required to state if the candidate has been satisfactorily vaccinated. If, as is very rarely the case, the medical officer has thought the vaccination marks unsatisfactory it has been suggested to the candidate that he should be re-vaccinated, and no difficulty has ever been met with on the point.

The Under Secretary for Scotland.

I am, &c.
(signed) A. B. M'Hardy.

9. WAR OFFICE.

(35,530—1.)

War Office, Pall Mall, S.W., 31 August 1893.

Sir,

WITH reference to your letter of the 26th July, No. 11,287—93, transmitting a copy of an Order of the House of Commons, dated 13th July, for a Return of all Government Departments in which there are regulations in force as to the vaccination of persons wishing to enter the service of the State, I am directed by Mr. Campbell-Bannerman to furnish the following statement for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury.

(1.) The regulations for the vaccination of recruits for the Regular Army and the Militia are contained in paragraphs 843, 844, and 845 of the Medical Regulations, 1890, and are as follows:—

"843. Every recruit, except those bearing distinct marks of small-pox, will be vaccinated at the depôt of the corps to which he belongs, unless the operation is certified to have been already successfully performed subsequently to his enlistment, or, in the case of a recruit joining from the Militia, during his service in that force; and the officer in medical charge of such depôt will be responsible that this is done, and that the necessary information regarding vaccination or re-vaccination is recorded in the soldier's medical history sheet (Army Form B. 178) and in the vaccination register (Army Book 28). Recruit.

"844. When a man has been successfully vaccinated or re-vaccinated on or after his entry into the service, it will not be necessary to repeat the operation at any subsequent time during his period of service with the colours. Repetition unnecessary.

"845. In the case of Militia recruits it will only be necessary to vaccinate or re-vaccinate such of them as do not bear distinct marks of small-pox or vaccination. Militia recruits.

The original orders for the re-vaccination of recruits appear to have been issued by circular letters from the Director General of the Medical Department, dated, respectively, 31st May and 21st September 1858.

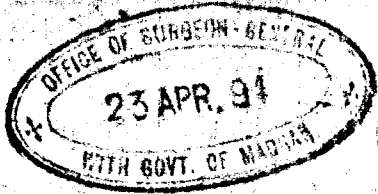

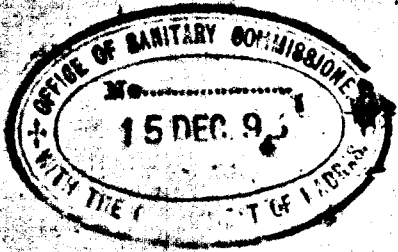

(2.) No regulations or instructions on this subject are in force in the Ordnance Factories, but it has been the custom for many years for the medical officer to examine all boy candidates for employment for marks of vaccination, and, where none are present, to cause the boy to be vaccinated.

(3.) There are no written regulations in the Army Clothing Department as to vaccination. All persons before employment are required to be examined by the medical officer, and it is left to his discretion whether they shall be vaccinated or re-vaccinated.

(4.) There are no orders as to vaccination in the regulations for Ordnance Store Services.

I am, &c.
(signed) H. T. De la Bère.

The Secretary to the Treasury, Whitehall.
