ABSTRACT.—Informing the Government of India that the practice in force prior to 1890, under which Statutory Civilians were ranked with Indian Civilians according to the date of their first appointments, should be reverted to.

READ—also the following paper :—

From J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Public), to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated Simla, the 17th July 1894, No. 1229.

I am now directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 763, dated the 14th September 1893, recommending that the practice in force in the Madras Presidency prior to 1890, under which Statutory Civilians were ranked with Indian Civilians according to the date of their first appointment, should be reverted to in the case of such of them as have not been transferred to the Provincial Civil Service.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Governor-General in Council sees no sufficient reason for altering the orders issued to the Government of Madras in the letter from this Department, No. 300, dated 14th February 1890. His Excellency in Council is unable to accept the argument used in paragraph 2 of your letter to the effect that members of the Indian Civil Service are, strictly speaking, on probation and liable to removal from the service until they pass their departmental examinations. Although Indian Civilians are not promoted until they pass these examinations, their definite appointment takes place, in accordance with the terms of the Statute 21 and 22 Vic., cap. 106, section 32, when, after being certified by the Civil Service Commissioners, they are “appointed or admitted to the Civil Service of India by the Secretary of State in Council.” I am also to invite attention to the fact that some inconsistency appears to exist between the opinion expressed in your letter under reply and that stated in your letter, No. 689, dated the 13th August 1889.

ORDER—dated 8th September 1894, No. 661, Public.

Recorded.

2. The Statutory Civilians in this Presidency will be informed that it has been finally decided that they shall take rank for promotion relatively to members of the Indian Civil Service according to the date of their confirmation and not that of their first appointment.

Simla, the 17 July 1894.

SIR,

I AM now directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, No. 763, page 385 of file dated the 14th September 1893, recommending that the practice in force in the Madras Presidency prior to 1890, under which Statutory Civilians were ranked with Indian Civilians according to the date of their first appointment, should be reverted to in the case of such of them as have not been transferred to the Provincial Civil Service.

2. In reply I am to say that the Governor General in Council sees no sufficient reason for altering the orders issued to the Government of Madras in the letter from this Department, No. 300, dated 14th February 1890. His Excellency in Council is unable to accept the argument used in paragraph 2 of your letter to the effect that members of the Indian Civil Service are, strictly speaking, on probation and liable to removal from the service until they pass their departmental examinations. Although Indian Civilians are not promoted until they pass these examinations, their definite appointment takes place, in accordance with the terms of the Statute 21 and 22 Vict., Cap. 106, section 32, when, after being certified by the Civil Service Commissioners, they are "appointed or admitted to the Civil Service of India by the Secretary of State in Council." I am also to invite attention to the fact that some inconsistency appears to exist between the opinion expressed in your letter under reply, and that stated in your letter, No. 689, dated page 93 of file the 13th August 1889.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

J P Hewett.

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.
