To

THE ADJUTANT-GENERAL IN INDIA.

SIR,

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 904-E, dated the 11th July 1894, submitting, for the approval of the Government of India, a proof copy of the proposed new edition of Army Regulations, India, Volume IX, "Volunteers."

2. In reply, I am directed to state that several amendments to this Code will shortly be necessary on account of the abolition of the Presidential Army system, and also in consequence of decisions on important volunteer questions now under the consideration of Government. I am further to observe that to issue the revised edition of Volume IX of the Regulations during the current year would probably involve additional expenditure to the extent of Rs. 1,400, for which there is no provision in the estimates.

4. Under these circumstances the Government of India have decided that the publication of the revised edition should be deferred until after the 1st April 1895. In the meantime it should be altered, wherever necessary, so as to accord with the procedure which will be in force after the abolition of the Presidential Army system, and any decisions on Volunteer questions which may be arrived at prior to 1st April 1895 should be embodied in the new edition.

5. The proof of the revised Code received with your letter under reply is herewith returned. Some additions have been made, and a few alterations.

I am, &c.,

(Sd.) P. J. MAITLAND,

Depy. Secy. to the Govt. of India.
