work. Indeed he has at times been barely able to get through his ordinary routine work. On September 6, I further sent him out into the District to be in charge of a village for a month as per Board's Proceedings No. 364 L. R. dated 28th June 1893. Consequently his time has been well occupied.

4. It is therefore scarcely fair that he should have such very short notice of another examination so soon as October 17, and the call works particularly hard on a man in his position in that if he should fail to pass on this occasion, which is only too probable seeing the state of his health, he would have to pay his own travelling expenses for all subsequent Lower Standard examinations, the rule being I understand that Government will only pay the travelling allowances of Assistants for two unsuccessful examinations. This rule would work particularly hard in the present case where the journey to & from Madras consumes no less than 6 days & much money.

5. Mr. Lys has passed already in two subjects & may by January next if exempted from attendance next month be expected to complete his standard successfully.

I request therefore that looking to all the circumstances he may be excused from attending on October 17; As Mr. Lys will have to start about October 13, I solicit answer by telegram if necessary.

I have the honor to be
Sir
Your most obedient servant

SIR,

I have the honor to address you on behalf of Mr. Lys my Assistant Collector, though not at his request, but I know of course that he is quite unfit to proceed for examination again so early as October 17th.

2. G.O. No. 618 Public of 25th August 1894 which orders that Assistant collectors are again to present themselves for examination on October 17 was received by me only about September 14, and as Mr. Lys was far away in another part of the District, he could not have received it for some days later.

3. Mr. Lys returned from his last examination about July 21 and has been more or less affected with hepatic complaint ever since & has not been in a condition to apply himself arduously to examination.
