Body guard horses, etc. may be required.

In para 2 of Lb. 402 it is laid down that Junior civilians who may have obtained the full certificate i.e. 200 marks for riding in England, will not be required to submit to any further tests in equitation in this country.

2. The present batch of junior civilians have all received the full certificate. These are the first who have come over to India under the Rules & it seems worth while to consider whether Govt should not take steps to ascertain whether the training afforded at home is adequate. If it is thought that this should be ascertained, the Legislative Board might be directed to be present there every man on horse-back before they go to their several districts, and report the results for the information of Govt. - 3. I believe some of the recruits have not yet bought horses of their own - but, if it should be decided that they are to be provided, H. L. the Govt. would perhaps not object to the form of his Body Guard placing two or three charges at the Legislative Board's service for a hour or two -
