Drawing the attention of Departments of the Secretariat to G.O., dated 19th September 1894, No. 695, regarding communication of copies of Proceedings in any way dealing with the — or of Statutory Civilians.

Sir

20 The Depts. of the Secretariat 30
(including Chief Secy. Dept.)

Extract from the Honorable Mr. Bliss's notes on Judicial
C. No. 5944 of 1894.

When the question arises whether an officer should be censured for delays or other failure in duty, it is of great importance that Government should be able to definitely ascertain what his previous official character has been, so that it may know whether the case under consideration betokens habitual inefficiency or is merely an occasional lapse, such as the best of men are liable to, and of which serious notice need not be taken; and it is not satisfactory that in such a case the only thing to rely upon should be the recollection of members of Government or of the Secretariat. I think we ought to have some sort of register maintained, to which we can refer in all such cases for immediate and accurate information.
