To...

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council.

Fort St. George.

The humble petition of Vizianandam, late a piece work compositor, Govt Press, Madras.

Most respectfully sheweth.

That your Excellency's petitioner was entertained in the Govt Press, Madras, as a Piece work compositor in 1854, and he continued in that appointment, to the entire satisfaction of his superiors, up to July 1895 when his services were dispensed with under the following circumstances.

On a ^{certain} night in July 1895 your Excellency's humble petitioner, with a friend of his, was sleeping in a room ~~along~~ by a Public Road.
At about 9 P.M. Petitioner heard a scream from the neighbourhood and he along with his friend repaired to the spot where they found a chuckler brutally ill-treating his wife. Petitioner then advised the chuckler to desist ~~from~~ beating the woman who was ~~crying~~ ^{from her} out for help to relieve her miserable position. The chuckler who was quite drunk at the time then turned against petitioner and began to abuse him. Just at this moment a Sub Inspector of the division appeared and arrested the chuckler. Petitioner then left the place and was returning to his room. Suddenly the Sub Inspector pursued him and petitioner was quite surprised when the Sub Inspector arrested him also. Petitioner subsequently learnt that his arrest was due to a false complaint preferred by the chuckler against him of having assaulted the chuckler. As Petitioner was explaining to the Sub Inspector what had happened and proving his innocence, three bystanders attempted to release him from custody. They foolishly remonstrated with the Sub Inspector and finally came to blows with him and absconded. The Sub Inspector then left petitioner and began to pursue them and with the aid of a constable succeeded in arresting them. As this scuffle began the Sub Inspector and the other three roudy characters was caused to release petitioner had gone to his work in the God Press as usual he was arrested there. charged along with the other three ^{with} the offence of assaulting a Police officer. is the result that your Excellency's poor petitioner was also convicted of that offence.

In the others, although he had never ventured even to touch the Sub Inspector and he was sentenced to 2 months imprisonment along with the others.
It will be seen from the foregoing facts that in consequence of the misconduct of the three roudy characters above referred to petitioner was also made to suffer long with them. Had their misdeed been the result of any investigation on petitioner's part, he should undoubtedly share the penalty inflicted upon them. But to his great misfortune these ruffians interfered uncalled for and thus entangled your poor petitioner into trouble. Under the circumstances above set forth, your ^{Excellency's} petitioner ventures to feel confident that your Excellency will arrive at the conclusion that the penalty which was inflicted on ~~him~~ him was the result not of any willful misconduct on his part but solely of his great misfortune. In the face of the Magistrate's conviction standing against him, it is of course useless to say anything in view to rebut the charge now, but your Excellency's poor and humble petitioner once more begs to repeat that it was his misfortune ~~that~~ rather than any offence committed by him that brought a disgrace on him as well as all the members of his family which was once in a very respectable position. Petitioner's services were dispensed with from the date of his arrest, and he has thus been deprived of the only means of his subsistence. In the small fees he was drawing from the Press, he and his family consisting of 4 souls were depending for their maintenance and by the sudden stoppage of this pittance all of them are now under going extreme privation and hardship. Petitioner therefore humbly and earnestly beseeches that your Excellency will, with your usual generosity and kindness towards the poor, direct his restoration to his post and thereby relieve him & his family from their present distress and sufferings. Your Excellency will thereby be doing a great charitable act for which the ~~Heaven~~
- to remain your Excellency.

Bagging pardon for this intrusion in your

Excellency's

Excellency's precious moments, and ever praying for your Excellency and family's welfare, prosperity and happiness, your Excellency's humble petitioner humbly trusts that your Excellency will take his poor case into your merciful consideration, and grant his humble prayer.

For which act of kindness, Petitioner is in duty

Ever pray.
