

Public (1896). Department.

ORDINARY PRINTED.

G.O., No. 10

DATED 7 Jan. 1896

INDEXED.

[Despatch Abstract.]

HOSPITAL ASSISTANTS.

Communicating to the Surgeon-General, for information and guidance, the decision of the Government of India granting to Local Government the power of exempting---from their septennial examination.

BACK PAPERS.

G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.	G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.

FURTHER PAPERS.

G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.	G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.
	592 602		96 96

No. 10, PUBLIC, 7TH JANUARY 1896.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

From J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Medical), to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated Calcutta, the 12th December 1895, No. 28-Medical—891.

By the Resolution in the Home Department, No. 16—1—17 to 29, dated the 9th January 1878, the Subordinate Medical Service was divided into two branches—one for military and the other for civil employ—and Local Governments and Administrations were authorized to fill up all vacancies in the local establishment of civil hospital assistants in each Province. The question of the examination of civil hospital assistants for (and before) their promotion to a higher grade was further dealt with in the correspondence forwarded with Home Department Circular No. 10—354 to 360, dated the 9th July 1878, and the Government of India decided at the same time that it was desirable that both branches of the service, civil and military, should, as far as possible, be placed on the same footing as regards examination and standard of qualification.

2. A reference has recently been made to the Government of India as to whether, under the orders above referred to, the power to exempt a civil hospital assistant from passing his septennial examination can be exercised by a Local Government or Administration. In favour of the view that this power should be regarded as vested in the Local Governments and Administrations it has been urged that, since the issue of the Resolution of the 9th January 1878, civil hospital assistants have been placed entirely under the control of Local Governments and Administrations, who also, it has been represented, publish the rules relating to the examination of such officers and have now authority to dismiss them in cases in which this may appear desirable without a reference to the Government of India. Having regard to these considerations, the Government of India have decided that Local Governments and Administrations have the power to exempt hospital assistants from their septennial examinations. I am, however, to request that this power may be very cautiously exercised and to say that exemptions should be granted only for very special reasons.

ORDER—No. 10, Public, dated 7th January 1896.

Communicated to the Surgeon-General for information and guidance.

(True Extract.)

J. F. PRICE,
Chief Secretary.

To the Surgeon-General.
„ Accountant-General.

Exd. A. Raiff.

Gobt. of {1896} Madras.
PUBLIC.

Issued

Recd.

Encl.

G.O., No. 10, 7th January 1896.

JANUARY.

Hospital Assistants.

Communicating to the Surgeon-General, for information and guidance, the decision of the Government of India granting to Local Governments the power to exempt — from their septennial examinations.

Publ. 120 D 23-1-7804/1896

N
go. No. 10 d/7 Jan 96

Comm. to the Surgeon
General for information and guidance.

20/12/5

20
21/1/96-

From
The Govt of India
Medical

No 28 Medical 891

Dated. 12 }
Recd. 18 } Recd. 95. Encl. 6. S.C.

Subject

Communicating the decision of the Govt of India that Local Governments and Administrations
have the power to exempt
Hospital Assistants from their septennial examinations
in special cases.

Surgeon General 6 }
Recd. 6 } dtd 18/1/96

6-0

No. 28 H. H. 891

FROM

J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E.,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India,

To

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

Home Department.
Medical.

15 DEC 1895
Calcutta, the 15th December 1895.

SIR,

By the Resolution in the Home Department, No. 16—1—17 to 29, dated the 9th January 1878, the Subordinate Medical Service was divided into two branches—one for military and the other for civil employ—and Local Governments and Administrations were authorized to fill up all vacancies in the local establishment of Civil Hospital Assistants in each Province. The question of the examination of Civil Hospital Assistants for (and before) their promotion to a higher grade was further dealt with in the correspondence forwarded with Home Department Circular No. 10—354 to 360, dated the 9th July 1878, and the Government of India decided at the same time that it was desirable that both branches of the service, civil and military, should, as far as possible, be placed on the same footing as regards examination and standard of qualification.

2. A reference has recently been made to the Government of India as to whether, under the orders above referred to, the power to exempt a Civil Hospital Assistant from passing his septennial examination can be exercised by a Local Government or Administration. In favour of the view that this power should be regarded as vested in the Local Governments and Administrations it has been urged that, since the issue of the Resolution of the 9th January 1878, Civil Hospital Assistants have been placed entirely under the control of Local Governments and Administrations who also, it has been represented, publish the rules relating to the examination of such officers, and have now authority to dismiss them in cases in which this may appear desirable without a reference to the Government of India. Having regard to these considerations, the Government of India have decided that Local Governments and Administrations have the power to exempt Hospital Assistants from their septennial examinations. I am, however, to request that this power may be very cautiously exercised and to say that exemptions should be granted only for very special reasons.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. P. Hewett.

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

First copy sent to Press.

Returned for signature.

Despatched in print.

NUMBER OF COPIES
REQUIRED.

Order complete.

Letter only.

Order complete with Letter.

READ AGAIN G.O., No.
189

DATED

CURRENT No.

ENCLOSURES TO C. No.

ORDER OF GOVERNMENT

LETTER OF GOVERNMENT.

STATEMENT WITH DITTO.

PAPER NOT FILED UP, BEING MEANT FOR DESPATCH
IN ORIGINAL.

N.B.—

A = Print in full.

B = Not to be printed.

P = Print abstract only.

Q = Print heading only.

Public (1896). Department.

ORDINARY PRINTED.

G.O., No. 10

DATED 7 Jan. 1896

INDEXED.

[Despatch Abstract.]

HOSPITAL ASSISTANTS.

Communicating to the Surgeon-General, for information and guidance, the decision of the Government of India granting to Local Government the power of exempting---from their septennial examination.

BACK PAPERS.

G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.	G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.

FURTHER PAPERS.

G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.	G.O.	No.	Department.	Date.
	592 602		96 96

No. 10, PUBLIC, 7TH JANUARY 1896.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PUBLIC DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

From J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Medical), to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, dated Calcutta, the 12th December 1895, No. 28-Medical—891.

By the Resolution in the Home Department, No. 16—1—17 to 29, dated the 9th January 1878, the Subordinate Medical Service was divided into two branches—one for military and the other for civil employ—and Local Governments and Administrations were authorized to fill up all vacancies in the local establishment of civil hospital assistants in each Province. The question of the examination of civil hospital assistants for (and before) their promotion to a higher grade was further dealt with in the correspondence forwarded with Home Department Circular No. 10—354 to 360, dated the 9th July 1878, and the Government of India decided at the same time that it was desirable that both branches of the service, civil and military, should, as far as possible, be placed on the same footing as regards examination and standard of qualification.

2. A reference has recently been made to the Government of India as to whether, under the orders above referred to, the power to exempt a civil hospital assistant from passing his septennial examination can be exercised by a Local Government or Administration. In favour of the view that this power should be regarded as vested in the Local Governments and Administrations it has been urged that, since the issue of the Resolution of the 9th January 1878, civil hospital assistants have been placed entirely under the control of Local Governments and Administrations, who also, it has been represented, publish the rules relating to the examination of such officers and have now authority to dismiss them in cases in which this may appear desirable without a reference to the Government of India. Having regard to these considerations, the Government of India have decided that Local Governments and Administrations have the power to exempt hospital assistants from their septennial examinations. I am, however, to request that this power may be very cautiously exercised and to say that exemptions should be granted only for very special reasons.

ORDER—No. 10, Public, dated 7th January 1896.

Communicated to the Surgeon-General for information and guidance.

(True Extract.)

J. F. PRICE,
Chief Secretary.

To the Surgeon-General.
„ Accountant-General.

Exd. A. Raiff.

Gobt. of {1896} Madras.
PUBLIC.

Issued

Recd.

Encl.

G.O., No. 10, 7th January 1896.

JANUARY.

Hospital Assistants.

Communicating to the Surgeon-General, for information and guidance, the decision of the Government of India granting to Local Governments the power to exempt — from their septennial examinations.

Publ. 120 D 23-1-7804/1896

N
go. No. 10 d/7 Jan 96

Comm. to the Surgeon
General for information and guidance.

20/12/5
30/12/5

20
31/1/96-

From
The Govt of India Medical

No 28 Medical 891

Dated. 12 }
Recd. 18 } Recd. 95. Encl. 6. S.C.

Encl.

Communicating the decision of the Govt of India that Local Governments and Administrations
have the power to exempt
Hospital Assistants from their septennial examinations
in special cases.

Surgeon Genl 6 }
Recd. 6 } dtd 18/1/96

6-0

No. 28 H. H.
891

FROM

J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E.,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India,

To

The Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

Home Department.
Medical.

15 DEC 1895
Calcutta, the 15th December 1895.

SIR,

By the Resolution in the Home Department, No. 16—1—17 to 29, dated the 9th January 1878, the Subordinate Medical Service was divided into two branches—one for military and the other for civil employ—and Local Governments and Administrations were authorized to fill up all vacancies in the local establishment of Civil Hospital Assistants in each Province. The question of the examination of Civil Hospital Assistants for (and before) their promotion to a higher grade was further dealt with in the correspondence forwarded with Home Department Circular No. 10—354 to 360, dated the 9th July 1878, and the Government of India decided at the same time that it was desirable that both branches of the service, civil and military, should, as far as possible, be placed on the same footing as regards examination and standard of qualification.

2. A reference has recently been made to the Government of India as to whether, under the orders above referred to, the power to exempt a Civil Hospital Assistant from passing his septennial examination can be exercised by a Local Government or Administration. In favour of the view that this power should be regarded as vested in the Local Governments and Administrations it has been urged that, since the issue of the Resolution of the 9th January 1878, Civil Hospital Assistants have been placed entirely under the control of Local Governments and Administrations who also, it has been represented, publish the rules relating to the examination of such officers, and have now authority to dismiss them in cases in which this may appear desirable without a reference to the Government of India. Having regard to these considerations, the Government of India have decided that Local Governments and Administrations have the power to exempt Hospital Assistants from their septennial examinations. I am, however, to request that this power may be very cautiously exercised and to say that exemptions should be granted only for very special reasons.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

J. P. Hewett.

Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

First copy sent to Press.

NUMBER OF COPIES
REQUIRED.

Order complete.
Letter only.
Order complete with Letter.

Returned for signature.

Despatched in print.

READ AGAIN G.O., No.
189

DATED

CURRENT No.

ENCLOSURES TO C. No.

ORDER OF GOVERNMENT

LETTER OF GOVERNMENT.

STATEMENT WITH DITTO.

PAPER NOT FILED UP, BEING MEANT FOR DESPATCH
IN ORIGINAL.

N.B.—

A = Print in full.
B = Not to be printed.
P = Print abstract only.
Q = Print heading only.