Mr. Forbes was on special duty from the 26th June 1895 until the offices closed at Coimbatore in October 1895 i.e. until about the 15th October 1895 or for about 3 months 20 days. He again entered on special duty on the 27th January 1896 and continued on it until the 14 instant with an interruption of three days in March when he acted as Revenue Secretary. This amounts to two months 16 days.

The two periods of special duty ~~put~~ together ^{amount} come up to about 6 months 6 days.

It is a question of some doubt whether ~~this~~ extending Mr Forbes' special duty up to the 14 instant would be against the spirit of art 95 of the C.S. R. - Probably the sanction of the Govt of India would be necessary.

marked with slip D

The case is not exactly similar to Mr Nicholson's, for if any other officer other than Mr. Forbes had been placed on special duty in the Secretariat this year no question could apparently arise. There was, moreover, a distinct break - October 1895 to February 1896. The following draft order is submitted for approval.
If the A.G. does not accept it he will come up and request a reference to India.
