The house site sale deed executed on the 24th day of July 1897, on behalf of Trichinopoly Casuba Gopalakrishna Aiyangar's son M. K. Casuba Trivivasa Aiyangar (now in Bangalore) of the Madras Government Archaeological Survey, by Cannambadi Ramaswami Sastry's son aged 37, Cannambadi Lakshminarayana Sastry, now teacher in the Arya Balika Government Kannada school, Bangalore.

As I am in urgent need of money, I have this day sold for 100 Rs (rupees one hundred) only, my house site No: 39 in the northern extension of Bangalore City which I obtained for Rs 52 in the public auction by the Municipality. The site measures 100 feet north to south and 40 feet east to west and is bounded on the north by the municipal main road, on the south by Conservancy road; on the east by Kuffrasami, Aiyangar's house site No: 40 and on the west by Lakshmana Sastry's house site No: 38. I have this day given possession of the land to you. I shall be responsible for any dispute that may arise in your getting possession of the land and I hold myself responsible for any loss you may sustain on that account. You may from this day forward either mortgage or sell the land or make use of it just as you please. I have this day given to you a receipt of Rs 39 which I obtained from the Municipality. I have kept with me the receipt dated 15th June 1894, for the earnest money I paid to the Municipality for Nos: 39 & 49. I shall receive the above mentioned amount of 100 Rs (rupees one hundred) only, in presence of the Sub-Registrar. I have not given the possession of the land to any other individual till now, and you are hence forward the owner of any plant, tree, rock, water, etc. which may be in the land.

Respected Sir,

The houses for rent in Bangalore are few and those that are available are of too dear a rate to be met by one of my humble position on a very low pay. I desire, therefore, to build a suitable house for my own residence on a newly bought house site in the northern extension of the Bangalore city.

2. With reference to Chapter 8, Article 136., Vol. I., Civil Account Code, I would most humbly and respectfully request that the Government might be pleased to sanction me an advance of six months' pay to enable me to defray the expenses of the erection, the whole amount of advance being repayable within two years by deduction monthly of one twenty-fourth of the advance from my pay. I would

SIR,

I have the honour to submit to Government, an application from Mr. C. Srinivasa Aiyangar, Clerk, for an advance of six months' salary, to enable him to build a house for his own accommodation.

2. The application is submitted under article 136, page 46, Vol. I of the Civil Account Code, and the applicant is prepared to bind himself by its conditions.

3. The applicant has had seven years' six months' approved service as Clerk in this Department. I think the case is one for the favourable consideration of Government, as the rents of all respectfully mention that several of the British Officials in the Resident's Office here, have been advanced six months' pay for this purpose on the ground of the house rent being exceptionally very high.

3. Should the proposal be favourably received the original document (of which the copies and translations are herewith submitted) regarding my title to the land will be duly submitted to Government, should I be ordered to do so.

4. On receipt of the sanction of Government, I shall duly execute the necessary mortgage bond as in Appendix C.C. to the Code above alluded to, on your honor's behalf, for the Secretary of State for India in Council.

I beg to remain,

Respected Sir,

Your most obedient and humble servant,

C. Srinivasa Aiyangar.

Clerk,

Archaeological Survey, (Madras.)

Classes of suitable houses are excessively high. This falls hardly on those of moderate or low salary. On this account, I believe that such advances have been previously given to others similarly situated, by both the British and Mysore Governments.

I have the honour to be
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
