DARJEELING,
The 19th April 1897.

MY DEAR HEWETT,

The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to receive some intimation of the wishes of the Government of India in regard to the celebration of the completion of the 60th year of Her Majesty's reign.

Are addresses of congratulation passed by Municipalities and other public bodies to be received by the Local Government and forwarded to the Home Department? May officials interest themselves in public meetings? Should parades of Volunteers and Police be held on the day fixed for the celebration?

It would be an advantage to the local officers to learn the wishes of the Government on such points in connection with the celebration as early as possible.

Yours sincerely,
C. W. BOLTON.

To

J. P. HEWETT, ESQ., C.I.E.,
Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

No. 130-D.

HOME DEPARTMENT,
Simla, the 8th May 1897.

MY DEAR BOLTON,

Your demi-official of the 19th ultimo enquired what the wishes of the Government of India are in regard to the celebration of the completion of the 60th year of Her Majesty's reign. You will have by this time received my official letter No. 547(Public), dated the 17th ultimo and telegram Nos. 589-598, dated the 23rd idem, on the subject. As intimated in this telegram, addresses of congratulation from public bodies and Associations should be received by the Local Government and transmitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

2. With reference to your second question, you will see from my letter of the 17th ultimo, that it was considered that the executive authorities might safely yield the initiative in taking steps to commemorate Her Majesty's Jubilee to the spontaneous action of the community at large, and that great assemblages of people should be discouraged. The Government of India, however, see no objection to officials interesting themselves in meetings called for the purpose of determining how the Jubilee shall be celebrated.

3. In reply to your third question, I am to say that, so far as the Government of India are concerned, there is no objection to holding parades of Volunteers and Police on the day fixed for the celebration, but the time of year not being suitable they do not propose to arrange for parades of the troops.

Yours sincerely,
J. P. HEWETT.

THE HON'BLE C. W. BOLTON,
Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.
