The Government of India asks that owing to the increase of plague in Bombay City the five doctors who were to have come to Madras may be retained there. The order of appointments in connection with their arrival was just been approved by H.E. the Governor and the officers concerned warned to be in readiness but it seems as if this was a request which could hardly be refused as there is no plague actually in Madras at present while it is on the increase in Bombay.

Only five doctors were asked for by Madras and it is not understood what is meant by the "Eight doctors obtained from England and destined for Madras" in the telegram.

The Surgeon General asks that the request of the Government of India may be refused. (he has not seen the telegram at present but only the letters from the Doctors themselves stating that they have been detained there and cannot come)

Orders are ~~now~~ solicited as to the answer to be sent.

Bombay has the greater need & India (Home) promises to send them if occasion requires; if we get plague in this Presy. M.A. 28

Of course we must pay way - this is a mistake. 28/8

A mistake. It doesn't say so. M.A. It says "destined for Madras and Bengal" quite accurately, if at all. C. 376. M
