with refce to the notes preceding G.O. file D. The information now submitted by the S. G. only shows that the funds borrowed from other officials.

Mr. Jones has been apparently
No 100 + No 30 local allowance.
The debts which can be named amount only to Rs 28. but the fact that they were incurred shows that Mr. Apthecary must have been frequently in want of money.

The Apthecary has been under suspension since the end of June 1897.

1. A schedule of the debts contracted by Mr. Jones among the asylum staff is herewith attached for information

2. In my letter 277 dated 19-4-92, I stated that Mr. Jones had on more than one occasion admitted to me that he was in straightened circumstances and that he invariably asked me for advances of pay to meet urgent demands, giving me to understand that he had private debts, which I felt it was not my duty to enquire into, and which I am now unable to give any details of."

order
his No 827, of 29th June 1898

The Gov. finds no reason to differ from the S.G. as to the Ap. Meegan's guilt, but it considers that, under the circumstances, reduction would be a more suitable punishment than dismissal. The S.G. will therefore be requested to restore Mr. Jones to the service, replacing his name in the position on the list which he thinks proper under the circumstances. The period which has elapsed since the order of dismissal has been carried into effect will be reckoned as passed under suspension.
