FOR ORDERS.

Rule XII(2) d of the rules for admission to the P.C.S. which formed an appendix to the letter to India No. 376 Public, d/16-12-92 originally ran:—

— "that he is of good moral character, evidence on this point being supported by a statement of the places at which he has been educated, together with certificates of good conduct from the last two of these".

In its reply to the letter above quoted the Govt. of India did not offer any remarks on this particular rule, but Govt. referred rule XIII to the Director of Public Instruction in view to its being recast with reference to the scheme of the examination which was about to be held in 1895.

The Director of Public Instruction substituted the following for the rule in question, namely "a certificate from the Head or Heads of the College or Colleges in which he studied for his degree to the effect effect that he has a good moral character". The Govt. adopted this altered rule which has not been changed since. It will be seen that the rule as originally framed was more comprehensive than the existing one.

No reasons were given by the Director of Public Instruction in the correspondence in G.O. 512 Pub., d/ 5-7-93 for proposing the existing rule.

With reference to the notes at L transferred by the Rev. to the Public Dept, a draft amending rule XII 4 (ii)
of the rules for admission to the Provincial Civil Service
was prepared and sent down officially to the Director of Public Instruction for remarks.
Dr. Duncan returns the draft with a few additions therein and with the following new clause
inserted

(c) if he has neither attended an educational institution nor been employed since taking his degree, a certificate from a responsible person who can certify to his conduct
from personal knowledge.

While it is necessary to provide for cases in which the Candidate may not continue his studies at any College after taking his B.A. degree and may not be employed anywhere, it is doubtful whether the proposed additional clause of the ~~DPD~~ would answer the purpose. The term "a responsible person" is too vague and unless it is defined the rule is likely to cause difficulties and lead to frequent references from the Board of Examiners for the P.C.S. Examination.

~~Order is not to be made~~
There will seldom be cases in which the certificate from a responsible person is required, when they saw it will be for the Board to decide whether the purview of any certificate is 'responsible', or if he is not to call for another certificate. Submitted with this draft order may issue.

D. Duncan's addition may be accepted.
