ENCLOSURES: 1

SIR,

In page 8 of the rules regulating the personal Conduct of Government Servants there is Form for detailing the lands possessed acquired or relinquished by Govt servants. When however a Government servant possesses no land, ^{has} ~~as~~ acquired none or relinquished ~~any~~ it seems unnecessary to use Form A in its entirety for recording those facts by writing nil across it.

It would be simpler to have a nil form similar to one in use some years ago but which the Office of the Superintending Engineer states is now useless. I enclose a copy of this nil form and would suggest others being supplied with the alterations if necessary to be more in accordance with the declaration in Note 1 rule 12.

I have the honor to be

Nil Land Returns

The P.W.D. transfers for disposal in this Department a letter addressed to the Examiner, P.W. Accounts, Madras, by the Executive Engineer, ~~Rural~~ ^{Rural} Division, in which that officer complains that there is no form now in use for the entry of nil returns of lands which every officer in superior service is required to submit under rule 12 of the Rules regulating the personal conduct of Government servants. He states that nil statements are now submitted in the form printed on page 8 and suggests that it would be simpler to have a nil form similar to the one in use, some years ago, but which, he adds, has been discontinued. He encloses a copy of this form.

The form in which nil statements should be submitted was laid down in G.O.No.2437, dated 14th October 1885. This is almost the same as the one enclosed in the current. The declaration by the officer submitting the return to the effect that no land is held for him by anybody else was required to be entered in the form in the officer's own hand-writing by G.O.No.687 dated 1st October 1892. The nil form as thus amended amended will be found printed in Appendix I to the G.O. ^{just} quoted ~~above~~. The same order provides for the preparation of the return in MS. The statement that the nil form has gone out of use does not appear to be correct.

The following order is in the circumstances submitted for approval:-

ORDER N^o 683, 28 19th May 1898
~~mis~~

The use of the form submitted with the letter read above is unobjectionable, ~~and the statement that it has gone out~~ ~~of use is not correct.~~

2. The P.W.D. will ^{however} be requested to direct the attention of officers to the rule laid down in G.O. No. 637 Pub., dated 1st October 1892 that the declaration ^{regarding land held for the persons who} accompany ~~the~~ the nil return should be in the officer's own handwriting, and to the fact that there is no objection to the land returns being submitted in manuscript.
