of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers in Central, in connection with the appointment. This officer was known to His Highness Sir Arthur Kinnaird in Ceylon, where he was for several years Adjutant of Volunteers, & where he showed conspicuous aptitude for working with the Volunteer forces, & achieved marked success under difficult circumstances. He is ^{aware of} His Highness's desire that his office should be able to succeed in the much needed ^{work} of raising the efficiency of the Madras Volunteer Guard, & ^{as Major Bird} has intimated that he would ^{be} willing ^{now} to accept the command of that Corps if he can obtain a half pay Lieutenant-Colonelcy, & to inquire whether his
